District Attorney Launches Another Sensation in New York Scandal.

By Federal (Wireless) Line to The Times.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, July 29.—[Special Dispatch.] A long step was taken tonight in clearing up the murder of Herman Rosenthal, the gambler, by the indictment, arrest and arraignment of Police Lieutenant Charles Becker on the charge of murder in the first degree, after confessions before the grand jury by Jack Rose, Harry Vallon and Harry Weber, in which they declare Becker not only planned the murder, but threatened the crime they saw to it that Rosenthal was put out of the way he would make up a job on them and send them to the floor for a long stretch.

Rose further admitted that he had been for several years the graft collector for Becker and his go-between with the gamblers.

It was a most unusual and sensational scene in the Criminal Court building tonight when the climax of the case was reached.

The gamblers, Rose, Vallon and Weber, had told their stories to the District Attorney and had agreed to tell them before the grand jury. Judge

NIPPON IN MOURNING FOR EMPEROR DEAD.

Mutsuhito Passes Away After a Reign of Forty-four Eventful Years and Is Immediately Succeeded on the Throne of Japan by the Crown Prince, Yoshihito—The Dowager Empress Yields to the Princess Sadako.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TOKIO, July 30.—Mutsuhito, for forty-four years Emperor of Japan, died at 12:43 o'clock this morning. Yoshihito, Haru-No-Miya, reigns under the formula provided by the Constitution promulgated by Mutsuhito ("the King is dead; long live the King.")

Mutsuhito, who was the 121st Emperor of Japan, passed gently away. He had been unconscious many hours prior to his death, and the Empress, the Crown Prince and the most prominent officials of the household and government were at the bedside.

Haruko, now Dowager Empress, yields to Princess Sadako, the young Empress, who is the mother of three sons, of whom the eldest is Hirohito.

UNTIRING VIGIL.

Haruko has won universal sympathy because of her untiring vigil in the sick room, where she remained continuously for ten days. Even on the last day she pitifully begged the physicians to secure a short respite for the dying Emperor.

Everything known to science was done to prolong the life of the sovereign. The whole nation watched pathetically, because the death of the Emperor would establish a new record in the history of Japan and the people cling almost fiercely to the tradition with which the dying monarch appeared indissolubly linked.

THE INEVITABLE.

The outcome was inevitable from the start on July 19. Death was due to acute nephritis, otherwise known as Bright's disease. This was complicated by diabetes and an intestinal affection. As is usual in such cases, the patient on occasions showed marked signs of improvement, followed by a relapse. Since July 25 the condition of the Emperor gradually became worse, with high fever, weak and irregular pulse and shallow respiration.

When the physicians recognized the hopelessness of the case, every preparation was made for the end. The Imperial Princes, the ministers and notables were summoned to the palace and remained in the outer rooms for twenty-four hours. A few of the oldest, who have been closely associated with the Emperor, were permitted to see him, while the public, contrary to custom, were taken into the confidence of the physicians, who issued bulletins hourly, giving details of the progress of the disease. Even the last announcement—that of the death of the Emperor—was made within an hour.

At the end upwards of 20,000 subjects silently paid their last homage outside the palace gates. It was a marvelous scene when messengers silently mingled with the crowds and scattered announcements of the Emperor's death. Deep emotion swept the multitude, but there was no evidence of excitement.

Following the communication of the news to the waiting Imperial Princes and notables within the palace, the accession ceremonies began at 1 o'clock at the imperial sanctuary. The shrine was decorated according to Shinto rites. Prince Iwakura, the chief ritualist, officiated, laying the offering on the sacred altar. He was assisted by a subordinate who rang a bell while the offerings were being placed. The oath was read in the presence of the ministers of state, the councillors and other dignitaries.

THE NEW EMPEROR.

The Crown Prince, Yoshihito, who succeeded to the throne, was born August 31, 1879. He was made heir apparent August 31, 1887, and was proclaimed Crown Prince November 3, 1888, being decorated with the Grand Order of Merit and Grand Insignia of the Imperial Chrysanthemum. He was promoted to be a lieutenant-colonel in the army and commander in the navy in 1901. He became lieutenant-general and vice-admiral on November 3, 1909. The Prince was married to Princess Sadako, daughter of Prince Kujo Michitaka, on May 10, 1900.

"THE MIKADO" OFF THE BILL.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

HONOLULU, July 29.—Because of the death of the Japanese Emperor, a grand opera company which had planned to open its engagement here with a performance of "The Mikado," changed its bill.

MUTSUHITO'S CAREER.

Mutsuhito, late Emperor of Japan, possessed a personality of which but little is generally known. Of a quiet, unassuming nature, yet possessed of a will of iron, he accomplished great reforms. As a statesman he commanded the respect of the nations of the world.

As a leader of his people in peace and in war he was both loved and feared. To his virtues they attributed the victories over their enemies by land and sea. To his wisdom they credited the advance of ancient Japan to a place in the front rank of nations.

His reign began in 1867 and out-

POLICE STILL HOLD COMPANIONS OF MRS. M'NAMARA.

Wife of San Mateo ex-Banker Reported to Be Chafing Under System of Espionage—Californian en Route to the East to Effect a Reconciliation With Wife.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, July 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. Cora L. Perkins, the companion of Margaret J. McNamara of San Francisco; Fred H. Patterson, her chauffeur, and Patrick Walsh, her valet, were today held in bonds of $2500 each for further hearing Friday on orders from the police of San Francisco. This means that they will be detained until the arrival of Mrs. McNamara's husband, who is now half-way across the continent in pursuit of his wife and their two sons.

GRAND LARCENY.

The specific charge against the defendants is grand larceny. It is alleged they sold, in Portland, Or., an automobile, the property of McNamara, a retired San Mateo banker, and with the proceeds went to Chicago. In the latter city Mrs. McNamara drew checks against her bank account and bought tickets to Europe for the entire party.

The checks, it is said, were returned marked "no funds." Mrs. McNamara says the automobile was her personal property and that the sale was regular and legitimate. She also says her private bank account is amply sufficient to meet all checks she drew against it.

BREAKING DOWN.

Mrs. McNamara and Mrs. Perkins are breaking down under the strain of their exciting flight and arrest here. Mrs. McNamara is under close police espionage and will be guarded pending the arrival of her husband. She says her companions followed her directions in all matters and she will not desert them or see them punished on her behalf.

Mrs. McNamara, who is a paralytic, left her home in San Mateo in June with Mrs. Clare M. Perkins of No. 811 Burlingame avenue, San Francisco; Mrs. McNamara's chauffeur, Fred H. Patterson, and Patrick Walsh, a valet, 60 years old. They took Mr. McNamara's automobile and started on a jaunt through Oregon and Washington. They bought tickets about July 16 in Portland, Or., for Carlsbad, Germany, and shipped the automobile by express to this city.

KANSAS ELECTORAD FIGHT.

Full Supreme Court of the United States May Hear Arguments to Be Presented Next Thursday.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TOPEKA (Kan.) July 29.—That the full Supreme Court of the United States may hear the Kansas Presidential electors case was reported here from Washington today. Justice Mahlon J. Pitney will hear the application for a writ of error by the Taft lawyers on Thursday, but on account of the importance of the case, it is possible that Justice Pitney will ask the entire court to meet with him to give the final decision.

JANE ADDAMS AS A HEROINE.

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, July 29.—[Special Dispatch to The Times, by Federal (Wireless) Line.] Miss Jane Addams will appear before the "Bull Moose" convention on August 5 and publicly challenge Col. Roosevelt for an open indorsement of equal suffrage.

AMERICANS, DISARMED, IN DANGER OF MASSACRE.

Incendiary Speech Made to Mexican Hordes by Head of Insurrection.

El Paso Congested With Refugees and Hundreds of More Women and Children Are on the Way to Find Shelter on United States Soil from Bloodthirsty Bandits and Brigands.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

EL PASO (Tex.) July 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Nearly 1000 American women and children, mostly Mormons, have poured into El Paso since midnight last night from Mexico, having been robbed of their last means of self-protection when the rebels confiscated their household goods, firearms and ammunition. Another trainload is coming tonight.

The Mormon church, under the direction of Apostle A. W. Ivins, who is now in El Paso, has ordered tents for the accommodation of the refugees and is furnishing them with the necessaries of life.

APPEAL FOR AID.

Mayor Kelly and county officials of El Paso today appealed to the United States for aid.

This afternoon the Chamber of Commerce held a mass meeting and heard the stories of the refugees and took steps to aid them.

All the refugees blame the United States and its "weak foreign policy," as they term it, for the present situation.

All Americans in the rebel zone have felt the rebel hand of oppression since Saturday night, when the rebels issued their first order to the Americans to bring in their arms and surrender them. At Madera, Pearson, Corralitos and the Dolores mines, all Americans have received the same treatment.

AMERICANS HEMMED IN.

The Americans are able to get out of all these places except Dolores, where the rebels, having seized all horses and mules of the Dolores Mining Company, have shut off means of escape to the Americans.

The lumber mills of the Pearson camp at Madera were closed today and the mill at Pearson is expected to close tomorrow. The American women and children have fled from these places. The men at Madera will probably arrive here tomorrow and the big plant of the Madera company will be left alone.

RABIDLY ANTI-AMERICAN.

Gen. Ines Salazar, who is in command of the rebels in the region where the Americans are disarmed and who ranks second to Orozco, has suddenly become rabidly anti-American in speech and action. Yesterday afternoon Salazar made a speech in Pearson to the Mexicans, in which he urged the Mexicans to hold "Mexico for Mexicans." He urged the Mexicans to join the rebel army and confiscate all the American property they needed in their efforts to overthrow Madero. This is taken as the future plan of the revolution. He declared in unequivocal terms that it did not interest him in the least that the seizure of the arms and horses of foreigners might bring about intervention. In fact, intervention would be welcome, he said.

CONDEMNS THE PRESIDENT.

Gen. Salazar was particularly severe in his arraignment of the American government because of the course it had pursued toward the revolutionists in refusing them ammunition, yet allowing tMadero's men to have all they wanted. He referred to President Taft as a "spineless Executive," who trailed behind President Madero; who, weakling though he is, "has the power to make the fat man in the White House do his bidding in the matter of keeping the working people in Mexico in slavery."

"NO PLACE FOR AMERICANS."

Salazar was interrupted by an American in the audience with a request to know why Americahs in Mexico who were all workingmen and who had no voice in the matter should be punished for the alleged sins of the American government, to which the general replied that "Mexico is no place for American workingmen to begin with, and if they have failed in making the American government what it should be in the eyes of the workingmen, how much greater will be their failure in helping bring about an ideal government in Mexico."

He added: "Foreigners are in Mexico to exploit it and its great resources for their own benefit and not for the benefit of Mexico and the sooner that exploitation is stopped the better."

REBELS THREATEN AMERICAN MASSACRE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

EL PASO (Tex.) July 29.—Nearly 600 American women and children, hungry and worn out with fatigue and fear, arrived here late today. They came on another special train of refugees from the Mormon colonies in the Casas Grandes district, 200 miles south of the United States border at this point. More are expected on another train, due early tomorrow.

That the exodus of Americans from Mexico will be thorough is evidenced by events today. There are already more than 800 refugees from the colonies in this city. These refugees are from the three large and three small colonies, each with almost an entire American population—Dublin, with 1200; Juarez with 800, Diaz, 750, and three minor mountain settlements with from 250 to 300 population each. According to conservative figures given out by the Mormon church dignitaries here, more than 3650 Mormons in Mexico consider themselves in grave danger. Only women and children are leaving, the men remaining, disarmed and helpless.

PRELATE'S TESTIMONY.

Enrique E. Bowman, Sr., a prominent merchant of Colonia Dublin, and a high church dignitary, appeared today before a meeting of El Paso business men in the local Chamber of Commerce building, called to plan aid for the helpless refugees in this city, and told of their distress.

As Bowman began his talk, his voice broke and he wept. "We have endured inconveniences and indignities and loss," he said. "And now the condition has become intolerable. We could not fight, for we had the women and children. I am going back to join my two sons."

He said the rebels are drinking deeply and threatening Americans, saying all who remained would be killed.

"For many weeks mounted rebels have ridden on the sidewalks of our little settlements, and we have been compelled to take to the streets."

El Paso officials have furnished tents for refugees and city and county physicians are attending the sick. The women are used to camp life, but their grief is great at leaving behind their "men folks."

"They made me leave them," said one woman, referring to husband and sons.

MORMONS FLEEING.

The Mormon settlers in Mexico are the last to spend their families out of the country. They have heretofore succeeded during the changes of government in keeping on good terms with both Federals and the many rebel factions. They have continued to till their fields and harvest their crops, and while their losses have been great, they have until now retained their lands and homes.

The correspondent of the El Paso Herald wired a statement here today declaring that Gen. Salazar, second in command of the Mexican rebel army, had made several addresses yesterday in which he asserted that all Americans in the rebel zone were to be disarmed and all protection guaranteed for American citizens withdrawn.

Salazar said that inasmuch as the American government had treated the rebels as bandits, they might as well act the part.

TO MASSACRE AMERICANS.

Louis Lacha, Mormon, from Dublin, who arrived here with his family, said today:

"Gen. Salazar told us in Casas Grandes that if intervention did not come from the Americans within the next few days rebels will begin to kill every American they find and keep up the massacre until America was forced to cross the border. Salazar stated it was the direct order of Orozco.

"Salazar declared Americans have no business in Mexico, and the sooner they get out the better. I don't care whether American intervention comes or not. If our seizure of American arms and ammunition leads to American intervention I welcome it. I am going to seize the arms and ammunition of Americans the same as those of Mexicans.

"'Look, Mexicans, at the hovels you live in,' he said, pointing to the mud huts in the Mexican part of Pearson, where he was making the speech; 'then look how your American bosses live in affluence. The President of the United States bows to the wishes of the weak Madero in all matters tending to oppress the Mexican people.

"'If the Americans have made a failure of their own government at home, as they have, it is better that we should not have them here with us. They get good wages and the Mexicans get nothing. The Americans come here to exploit Mexico and the sooner the exploitation stops the better.'"

THE REBEL HEAD.

Salazar has been considered second in command of the rebel army. He is now considered the real head of the army, since Orosco remains in Juarez.

Salazar's statement followed his order to disarm the Mormon colonists at Colonia Dublan Saturday night. The colonists surrendered 160 rifles and ten to fifteen thousand rounds of ammunition, according to A. W. Ivins, apostle of the Mormon church. They immediately prepared to send their women and children to El Paso. Three hundred and fifty of them arrived here last night and more than 200 came today.

The rebels left Colonia Dublan with the declaration that they would enforce the same order at Colonia Juarez against other Mormons.

El Paso is overrun with refugees, Mexicans and Americans, and it may be impossible to care for all.

Apostle Ivins is arranging to send as many of the Mormons as possible to various points where the church has communities. The United States army may be asked to supply tents.

APOSTLE'S STATEMENT.

Apostle Ivins declared today:

Bell Dominates and All the Others Want to Do It.

[By Federal (Wireless) Line to The Times.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, July 29.—[Special Dispatch.] James D. Phelan today refused to serve on the Finance Committee appointed Saturday by Chairman R. H. Dewitt of the Democratic State Central Committee, and announced in a statement that as chairman of the Finance Committee of the Woodrow Wilson League he will receive contributions for an independent campaign from all who sincerely desire Wilson's election. He declares the appointment of Frank Drew as chairman of the Finance Committee of the Wilson campaign is an "insult to the Democrats of California and to the candidacy of Woodrow Wilson."

WOULD REPUDIATE BELL.

Woodrow Wilson League "progressives," through J. O. Davis and Senator A. Caminetti, announced today that they will not abandon the fight for a meeting of the entire State Committee. They will go direct to members of the committee in an endeavor to secure a meeting at which Bell and his allies may be repudiated. But in the meantime, Phelan's statement serves notice that regardless of their success in capturing the committee, the "progressives" will insist on conducting the Wilson campaign.

TO FOLLOW PHELAN.

Other Woodrow leaguers who were appointed on committees by Dewitt on Saturday probably will follow Phelan's lead and refuse to serve. Senator Cartwright of Fresno, named for the Finance Committee, has already announced he will not serve. Senator Caminetti, who was named chairman of the Advisory Committee, said today he had not been formally notified.

Drew appointed Ed K. Leake of Woodland chairman of the Publicity Committee and O. O. Wilson of San Francisco chairman of the Committee on Speakers.

OPPOSITION TO BELL.

The Woodrow Wilson Leaguers say that a majority of the State Central Committee are opposed to Bell and would place the campaign in the hands of "progressives" if Bell would consent to call the committee together. Bell proved on Saturday, however, that he absolutely dominated the Executive Committee. The "progressives" expect to get control of the new State Committee, which will be selected on September 24 by the State convention. They say "progressive" Democrats will be nominated for the Legislature in a majority of districts.

Chairman Griffen Leaves the Hall in Helena After a Great Uproar Had Been Caused by the Adoption of a Resolution Renouncing Allegiance to All Political Parties.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

HELENA (Mont.) July 29.—The first session of the Bull Moose convention here today was marked by a bolt. A resolution declaring the new party organized and renouncing allegiance to other political organizations had been adopted without dissent when Joseph Griffen of Butte, chairman of the Silver Bow county delegation, moved that the motion be reconsidered, as some of the delegates from his county thought they should work with the Republican party in the primaries. Chairman Hercan in ruling the protestant out of order, remarked that "a man who has not nerve enough to abide by that resolution does not belong in this convention."

Joseph Vogler, also of the Silver Bow delegation, attempted to object, when a fellow delegate shouted that Vogler had said he "had quit the delegation" and Vogler was promptly ruled out of order.

"Is this new party to be born with a gag in its mouth?" shouted Griffen.

Instantly the hall was in an uproar. Amid the excitement a motion for a recess was carried with a whoop.

BECKER ARRESTED.

Mulqueen was notified and called the grand jury for the first night session ever held in the Criminal Court building.

The story before the grand jury points to officials "higher up" in the department than Becker.

The chief witness, Jack Rose, gave testimony that awed the grand jurors.

FEAR FOR THEIR LIVES.

And this, perhaps more than anything else, stands out most prominently in the case:

Three main witnesses before the grand jury, Rose, Bridgey Weber and Harry Vallon, were so afraid of the "system" that they begged to be sent back to the Tombs, fearing that they would be killed before morning.

Dist.-Atty. Whitman was so convinced that their fear was justified that he selected a number of his own detectives to stand guard over the three gamblers in the District Attorney's office during the night.

The instructions of these men were to see that no harm befell Weber, Vallon and Rose. They declared their charges would be alive in the morning or the detectives dead.

It can be stated on the best authority that Rose would have told his story to the grand jury long before but that he feared a high police official. And before Rose agreed to go into the grand jury room tonight, he exacted a promise from the District Attorney that his wife and three children be cared for.

"WIFE AND KIDDIES."

"I do not care so much for myself," said Rose, "but I have a wife and three kiddies. I will tell the truth, but I want them guarded. In the event of my death I do not want my family to suffer. If I am sure they will be cared for, come what may, I will tell the truth."

He was promised that his family would be guarded and looked out for in the event of his death and that his own life would be guarded.

Then Rose went before the grand jury.

For weeks, said Rose, Becker had been after him to kill Rosenthal. Becker sent for Rose and is reported to have said:

"This man's got to be stopped. Now, there's only one way to do this. I'm giving you the chance. If you do, all right, we can all go along as usual. But if you don't, I'll do the job myself, but before I do I'll send every one of you up for seven years. I'll 'frame up' something on you—I don't care what it is. I'll drop weapons in your pockets. What good will a squeal do you? Everybody knows you are gamblers and confidence men—a squeal will get you nothing."

PEDDLED PROTECTION.

From East Side days Rose said he had been Becker's collector. Rose peddled protection and did a little on his own hook in the way of business that his patron knew nothing of. Becker's money, according to Becker's alleged statement, repeated in the presence of Rose, Weber and Vallon, was divided among uptown inspectors and two officials connected with police headquarters after he took his own share.

"For weeks Becker kept after me," Rose said.

"He gained confidence and courage when he found, after two hours' pounding, Whitman had broken down Weber and Vallon and those two had joined him in making a clean breast. And once the three got to talking there was no stopping. Everything they knew they told—it came almost an embarrassment of riches.

"When things began to look a little dark because Rosenthal was showing unexpected nerve Becker pressed me all the more. I could not help myself; he had me in his fist." Rose went on.

THE ACTUAL SLAYERS.

The actual murderers of Rosenthal, according to the confessions, were Dago Frank, Gyp the Blood, Lefty Louwy and Whitie Lewis.

Rose swore Becker told him to get Rosenthal out of the way. And Rose admitted he went here and there among the gangsters, dropping the hint that Becker wanted Rosenthal out of the way and that certain police would protect the men who "got" Rosenthal.

Rose admitted he made certain arrangements with "Big Jack Selig," and four of Selig's men, he alleges, actually committed the murder.

But, to let themselves out, all three men told the grand jury they did not know Rosenthal would be murdered. They thought he would just be badly beaten or wounded.

All three admitted the gray "murder" car was used to collect the gang men who were to "get" Rosenthal, but Rose, who knew more of the case than any other, was unable to say if the gray car was used by the murderers to escape.

All admitted, and Rose swore positively, that Rosenthal was killed at a given signal, given by the messenger of the assassins who preceded Rosenthal out of the Metropole Hotel and raised his hand to his head to indicate the man to be slain.

OVER THE TELEPHONE.

Rose swore he called Becker on the telephone from a booth in the Times building immediately after Rosenthal was murdered.

"Rosenthal is dead!" he said he exclaimed over the telephone to Becker. "My God, this is awful!"

And Rose swore Becker replied:

"Oh, don't worry; I will protect you. I will come right down."

And Becker did. When he got downtown, according to Rose and Weber, he took the two men aside and, walking them east on Forty-second street, stood with them in the shadow of the Murray Hill baths and reassured them, saying they had nothing to fear; that he had sufficient influence in the police department to guarantee them protection.

"Don't worry," he repeated, according to Rose. "Don't worry," he exclaimed again, said Rose. "I am strong enough to take care of the police."

They said they believed him. They had witnessed other acts where they saw or thought they saw his hand above all others in police affairs. They thought all the time they had nothing to fear. Believing so, they went to police headquarters and gave themselves up. They still clung to the chimera when they saw the net closing about them. They had no reason to believe Becker would not be able to make good, they said.

CALLED TWICE A DAY.

Becker, Rose testified, called him twice a day on the telephone while he was a fugitive in the home of Harry Pollak, the former manager of Young Corbett, on Riverside drive.

The mere repetition of the stories to the jury, coupled with the evidence of the Coroner's physician, Schultz, and Policeman Brady, who saw the body, and so could swear murder had been done, was enough, it is said, to warrant the indictment.

The three men have become witnesses for the State. Their appearance before the grand jury gives them immunity, but it is by no means certain they have been able to purchase entire freedom from punishment. They have still to answer charges against them.

The District Attorney feels they have only been pawns in the hands of more powerful men. He believes his chief duty is to get the real source of the plot. And he has every reason to believe from a little development late this afternoon that he is on the right track. He thinks it may lead to a door that thus far has been unassailed.

As soon as the indictment was returned, Detectives Rosseau and Raines of the District Attorney's staff were sent to the station in The Bronx, where Becker was on duty, to put him under arrest, bringing him to the Criminal Court building.

BECKER ARRAIGNED.

When the accused officer was brought into court he was plainly much troubled. He glanced around the courtroom, smiled at some of the newspaper men, whose faces he knew, and threw back his head in an affectation of indifference, but his mouth drooped at the corners and his eyelids showed signs of little sleep.

The proceedings before Judge Mulqueen were brief and formal. The members of the grand jury, most of them gray-haired men, had handed in the indictment only a little while before, and most of them remained in the courtroom.

Becker passed through the gate, a prisoner, through which he had often passed as a witness and an officer, into the enclosure where the lawyers and their clients have seats.

Before the bar he heard the clerk announce:

"Charles Becker, you are charged with murder in the first degree. Do you demand a trial? Are you guilty or not guilty?"

J. W. Hart, his attorney, asked for a reasonable time in which to plead. There was some parleying. Judge Mulqueen said he preferred to have the formal plea of not guilty entered before setting any dates.

Hart then pleaded not guilty for his client.

Before entering the plea, Judge Mulqueen told Hart he thought a week would be enough time for the lawyer to consult with his client and decide upon a course.

"If, at the end of a week," said the court, "you desire to change your plea, I am sure the matter will be carefully considered before the judge before whom you are brought."

Becker turned away from the rail and in the custody of Joseph Flaherty, a one-time policeman who had served under him, was led out of the courtroom and across the Bridge of Sighs to occupy a cell in the Tombs, where already seven men had gone before him on charges connected with the murder of Rosenthal.

BECKER'S ARREST.

Lieut. Charles Becker was on desk duty in the Bath Gate-avenue Police Station tonight, but things were unusually quiet and Becker had gone from his desk to a typewriter.

Leaning over the desk botter was Capt. Dennis J. Brennan, much absorbed in the entries. In the rear room were the reserve police.

Two men entered.

Capt. Brennan looked up and exclaimed:

"Glad to see you."

The newcomers were detectives from the office of Dist.-Attv. Whitman.

"Welcome to the Bronx."

Then Becker laughed. But the laugh had no hearty ring. Rosseau said something to Becker. The latter arose, his face white and he seemed to stagger.

Becker, his face bloodless, dark rings under his eyes and his fingers twitching convulsively, stood motionless.

Becker was still at the desk, but he seemed hardly to know what he was doing. Before the desk stood the two detectives.

"I want to change my uniform for other clothes," said Becker.

While the change was being made the two detectives stood at the door. Becker appeared, hat in hand and ready to go with the District Attorney's men.

Checker playing stopped, heads appeared at the door and the policemen tried to learn the news. They could get nothing for the door was closed with a bang.

"Good-by, Captain," said Becker as he wrung Capt. Brennan's hand.

MATERNAL INSTINCT WEAK DECLARES MRS. MARCUS.

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

MONTCLAIR (N. J.) July 29.—[Special Dispatch.] Seated in the drawing-room of her beautiful home at No. 98 Lloyd road on the picturesque mountainside of Montclair, from which the skyscrapers of New York could be seen through the haze, Mrs. Dorothy Marcus, wife of William Elder Marcus, Jr., whose deliberate desertion of her husband and two small daughters a week ago caused a sensation, told her life story this afternoon and the reasons for the remarkable step she has taken.

"Why did you decide to leave your husband?" Mrs. Marcus was asked.

"Because I do not love him," said Mrs. Marcus, "and because life under such conditions had become intolerable."

"And your children, how can you leave them?"

"I might explain my willingness to give up Linda and Jane by explaining that maternal instinct is not highly developed in me," said Mrs. Marcus. "By that, I do not want you to think that I have neglected my children. They have received every care that money could provide, as well as personal attention on my part. Recently, we decided that Linda might be benefitted by sleeping outdoors. The nurse did not care for this experience at night, and for weeks before I left my home I slept with my children on the rear porch of my home.

"I can account for my lack of motherly instinct by the fact that my own mother, who was one of the dearest women in the world, regarded her children in the same way as I do. I fondle my children whenever the spirit moves me; I would fondle my horse and dogs in the same way. I love my children, but I know that I do not love them in the same way that some mothers do."

Her attitude toward her husband, Mrs. Marcus says, "is not one of hatred. I simply do not love him," she said, "and when this fact was borne on me more strongly each day until at last I decided to end the distasteful life. I went to California and saw my father. He urged me to stick, but I told him I would not do so. He accompanied me East in the hope that he could bring about a reconciliation. We arrived together on May 10, last. My father was not able to bring about better relations between my husband and myself. When he left he knew that there was no hope that I should continue to live with Mr. Marcus."

Recurring to the abandonment of the children, Mrs. Marcus was asked if it were not possible that there would come a time when she would regret her separation from them.

"That is a matter that I have fully considered," said Mrs. Marcus. "I told Will (her husband) that I knew that the children will be well cared for by him. But I also impressed upon him that, if at any time, he should find that he did not measure up to the task involved in their upbringing, he should let me know and I would see what could be done."

As to their being another man in the case, Mrs. Marcus laughed the suggestion to scorn.

"There is no scandal," she said, "and I defy any one to prove that the reason for my leaving Will is any other than I have stated."

NIPPON IN MOURNING.

lasted that of all but two or three living monarchs. Under his rule Japan enjoyed an unprecedented era of prosperity. Civilization has made rapid strides. The arts and ideas of the western world have been adopted and Japan has emerged from darkness into light.

When Mutsuhito succeeded his father, Emperor Komei, the country was in a ferment owing to concessions granted as the result of the visit of the American expedition commanded by Commodore Perry in 1852-1854. This threw open some ports to foreign trade. It was only by force of arms that the new ruler enforced the decree and saved Japan from a reversion to primitive conditions.

ATTACKED BY SAMURAI.

Musuhito invited representatives of foreign governments to an audience in 1868. While on his way to the capital, Sir Henry Parkes, the British Minister, was attacked by a body of two-sworded Samurai and narrowly escaped death. The Emperor made all possible reparation, and moved the capital from Kia'Tio to Yedo and marked the event by renaming the city Tokio, which means eastern capital.

In 1869 the Emperor established a deliberative assembly. This and other reforms then inaugurated ended feudalism which had existed for centuries in Japan, and the nation moved forward. Everything European was eagerly adopted, including frock coats and patent leather boots for officials. Torture was abolished in 1873 and a modern judicial code was authorized. The first railroad was built in 1872 and the English language was taught in common schools.

THREE REBELLIONS.

Opposition to the sweeping changes developed in the period from 1876 to 1884 and Mutsuhito faced and suppressed three serious rebellious movements during that period.

Mutsuhito took a leading part in letting down the bars to other nations, but it was not until 1894 that he succeeded in obtaining a revision of treaties with other nations.

The Emperor prepared for the war with China in 1894 with great zeal. He reviewed the troops in person as they left the shore of Japan for Korea and Manchuria and later distributed rewards to those who won distinction.

In the war with Russia, 1904-5, he again addressed the departing troops and welcomed the returning army.

The Emperor realized early in his career that Japan's supremacy in the East depended largely on her ability to rule the seas and he promptly added modern battleships and fast armored cruisers to Japan's navy. He armed his troops with modern rifles and the performance of the Japanese soldiers in the field amazed the European experts.

Mutsuhito was the first oriental monarch to form an offensive and defensive alliance with a first-rate European power. In 1869 Mutsuhito married the Princess Haru, daughter of a noble of the first rank. He leaves one son, the Crown Prince Yoshihito, and four daughters. The family of the Emperor spend most of the time in the palace buildings and gardens surrounding them and, except at imperial receptions, the Emperor was seldom seen.

The ceremony of the sanctuary will be repeated in the next two days.

IMPRESSIVE SCENE.

A more impressive scene occurred in the throne room of the palace when the new Emperor, Yoshihito, received the sacred treasures. His Majesty entered the hall preceded by the Minister of the Household, the chief of the board of ceremonies; the Lord Chamberlain, military and naval aides and the imperial Prince. He was followed by Prince Yamagata, president of the Privy Council; Marquis Matsukata, member of the Privy Council; Marquis Imouyo, Councilor of State, and others of similar rank, the Premier Marquis Saionji, the ministers of state, marshals, generals and admirals.

The scene lacked brilliancy, although not solemnity, for the majority of those present were without uniforms. They had remained in the palace for two days and were not given time to repair to their homes prior to the ceremony.

ASCENDS THRONE.

The Emperor ascended the throne before which had been placed simple wooden tables. On these reposed the sacred sword and necklace, two of the three sacred treasures.

The third of the sacred treasures, the mirror, which is deposited in the shrine of Ise, will be received by the Emperor.

The imperial and national seals also were taken over by His Majesty, who immediately arose and standing, received the homage of the entire assemblage. This concluded the ceremony.

The Emperor then retired, followed by the ministers and the military aides bearing the sacred treasures, and by the Lord Chamberlain, who bore the seals.

The date for the funeral has not yet been fixed. Probably it will take place within a month at Kyoto, where the Emperor expressed a desire to be buried on the site of Maruyama palace, built by Hideyoshi, in the sixteenth century. The old form funeral ceremony will doubtless be modified considerably, because it is impossible to adapt old usages to modern conditions, but many unique customs will be retained.

Under the household law, the public coronation of Emperor Yoshihito must be held at Kyoto. This probably will take place about a year hence. Other details have not been announced. It is believed that business will be interfered with as little as possible. All entertainments will cease for a protracted period, which so far has not been designated.

LOCAL JAPANESE PAY TRIBUTE TO EMPEROR.

Prominent Japanese business and professional men of Los Angeles met last night at the rooms of the Japanese Association, First and Main streets, and adopted suitable resolutions regarding the death of the Emperor.

It was decided to close today all Japanese business houses, including concert halls and theaters, and also on the day of the state funeral.

For several days the local Japanese have watched closely the news of the condition of the Emperor, and his death has profoundly affected the loyal sons of Nippon.

AMERICANS DISARMED.

mis-treated by the rebels so far, but profiting by the harsh experiences during the past when they were assured of rebel protection, they decided to send their families away immediately when they were informed that the guarantees were all withdrawn. The rebels did not violate any of the Mormon homes. They merely issued orders that the Mormons should bring in all their arms and ammunition, and this was done."

Some Americans who recently left Mexico consider it will be only a few days before intervention by the United States is forced. They say they expect the destruction of all American property.

P. M. Bramholt, an American mechanic of Pearson, said:

"It means death to all Americans who persist in staying there. The rebels disarmed everyone at Pearson, at Colonia Dublan, at Colonia Juarez and many other places. At Janos they fought a battle with the Federals and were defeated. This was Friday. More than 400 were wounded at this fight."

ROBERT OXNARD ON THE STAND.

Tells How the Price of Sugar Was Regulated.

Letters and Telegrams Are Placed in Evidence.

Declares that One Man Directed All Sales Made.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 29.—When Robert Oxnard, president of the American Beet Sugar Company, finished telling today to the government inquisitors how the American Sugar Refining Company and the H. O. Havemeyer interests had forced Mr. Oxnard interests to sell to the trust half of the common stock of the concern, he turned, under the questioning of Asst. U. S. Dist.-Atty. G. H. Dorr of New York, to an account of trust methods in regulating the price of sugar and dominating its sale. His testimony dealt with the deal by which Havemeyer spent millions to corner the beet sugar industry throughout the country.

DIRECTS ALL SALES.

According to the witness, when the Oxnard concern came under trust control in the latter part of 1901, Havemeyer directed all sales under the agreement that made him the superintending agent of all sales from the Oxnard factories and refineries. The Havemeyers were to have one-fourth cent a pound for all Oxnard sugar. Oxnard sold through the Havemeyer brokers in Chicago and New Orleans and was given entry into the Missouri River territory.

A letter was introduced in evidence by Dorr showing that on September 8, 1903, Oxnard wrote to Havemeyer for permission to enter the Texas field, stating that the output of the plants was so large that he could not get a ready market for all of it along the Missouri.

OTHER LETTERS.

Other letters were introduced, one of them showing Oxnard had acted for Havemeyer in trying to induce other beet sugar companies in the West to come under the wing of the trust.

When Henry T. Oxnard was appearing in Washington, D. C., in the interests of the beet sugar item in the tariff bill in September, 1903, Robert Oxnard wrote to Havemeyer and told him the American Beet Sugar Company was thinking of having the Havemeyer brokerage firm in Chicago represent it in certain deals, but his brother thought that any connection between the names might be detrimental to him in his efforts at the capital. Oxnard was then supposed to be representing an independent firm.

POOLED PRICES.

It was shown by the witness that Havemeyer pooled all of the prices of the firms that had come into the trust, striking an average of the high prices set by some and the low prices of others. A uniform schedule was arranged and put in force. Under an agreement a system of rebates was perfected and money was subsequently refunded to the smaller companies affected by the scheme. A territorial subdivision plan also was instituted. Oxnard persuaded the Colorado interests to ship their products to the Chicago market and leave the western territory to the refineries farther west than Denver. That arrangement lasted several years.

FIVE PLANTS COMBINED.

Oxnard said the American Beet Sugar Company was organized in 1899 by combining the five plants that belonged to himself and his brothers, the two principal ones of which were in Oxnard, Cal., and Rockeford, Colo.

In 1901 he said the Havemeyer interests began reducing prices in the Missouri River territory, where competition was strong. At the time, raw sugar was worth 4 cents a pound in New York. It cost three-fourths of a cent per pound to granulate it and the freight rate added one-third of a cent. The Havemeyers sent the sugar into the Missouri River district at 3⅛ cents a pound.

"We were forced to store large quantities of our sugar," said Oxnard. "We were being undersold and it was necessary to call upon the wealthy men among our stockholders. It was trade war. It was meant to drive us out of business—to drive us out of the Missouri River territory."

OPEN NEGOTIATIONS.

The year following W. Bayard Cutting, representing the stockholders of the Oxnard company, opened negotiations with Havemeyer to sell the American Sugar Refining Company one-half the common stock of the American Beet Sugar Company. The Havemeyers were to act as supervising selling agents of the California company and the price of the stock was to be fixed by arbitrators. In the spring of 1902 Jacob Schiff, of the Kuhn, Loeb and Company of New York, was chosen to act for the Oxnards and James Stillman of the City Bank of New York was made the representative of the Havemeyers.

Dorr introduced a letter from Havemeyer to Stillman written on April 16, 1902. It instructed him to meet Schiff and determine "what would be a fair price, if any, for myself and associates to pay for one half of the stock."

Havemeyer said his associates and he were willing to "establish a community of interests" with the Oxnards, "providing the result is the transfer of one-half of the stock to the interests I represent." He said the amount of the common stock of Oxnards was worth practically nothing and that the amount of the preferred stock was represented in the investment of $6,000,000 in the plants, the fitting of which could be duplicated for three-fourths that amount.

"I doubt very much if, without the co-operation of the American Sugar Refining Company," says the letter, "they (the Oxnards) could pay the charges on the preferred stock (no sale now at 70). With a community of interests a half ownership the preferred stock would not only be secure in its dividends but some return would accrue to the common stock, so the proposition which confronts them is whether they will have all the common stock without any returns or half the common stock with substantial returns."

Dorr contends the letter clearly states that the Oxnards would have to sell one-half their stock or be forced out of competition.

While the negotiations were in progress, Havemeyer sent Claus Spreckels of San Francisco the following telegram:

"Be guarded with beet people as negotiations with me should be known to you. Have written Secretary Hannam letter."

COMMON STOCK SOLD.

Oxnard testified that in the summer of 1902, half of the common stock of the American Beet Sugar Company was sold to the Havemeyer interests at a price less than the figure fixed by Schiff and Stillman which had been rejected by the trust. The Havemeyers thus acquired 75,000 shares in the beet sugar company. An agreement was entered into whereby the American Sugar Refining Company was to act as superintending agent in the sale of all the products of the factories of the American Beet Sugar Company.

By the terms of the agreement, according to Oxnard, the Havemeyers were to receive a commission of ¼ cent on every pound of sugar that the Oxnard company sold. Oxnard said:

"We felt we would be able to market our product in such a way as to overcome this commission, as benefits were to come to us that would permit us to make the profit necessary to pay dividends on our preferred stock. We would have to make more than half a cent a pound profit. By paying the Havemeyers ¼ cent a pound, competition was removed, in the western markets. This enabled us to sell our product as rapidly as we could make it. We saved money, therefore, by not being compelled to store our goods and await a market."

In 1906, the Havemeyers began to sell their American Beet Sugar Company's stock in the open market and by 1909, had disposed of it all. The stock is now variously owned. It was this release of the stock by the Havemeyers that freed the Oxnards from trust control.

WARNED FROM GOLD FIELDS.

PROSPECTORS ADVISED AGAINST GOING TO BOLIVIA.

American Consul Writes that Bogus Letter Called 250 Men from United States and Most of Them Returned "Broke"—Disappointed After Long and Expensive Trip.

[By Federal (Wireless) Line to The Times.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, July 29.—[Special Dispatch.] Prospectors hoping to make fortunes pioneering the gold fields of Bolivia should stay away, says Horace G. Knowles, American Minister to that country.

In a letter, answering a request for information sent to him by Isaiah MacDonald of this city, Knowles writes from La Paz, explaining that, through a bogus letter, recently published, which extravagantly described the mineral wealth of Bolivia, 250 Americans had made the long and expensive journey, only to be disappointed. Knowles's letter to MacDonald is, in part, as follows:

"A few of the 250 miners braved the hardships and went to the Tipuani River and to other sections in search of placer gold. The most of them have returned to La Paz with unfavorable reports and have gone back to the United States. Of the 250 there are now probably less than twenty-five still in Bolivia. The others have either returned or are on their way to the United States.

"The opinion of the Americans regarding the sections they have visited and also of the well-informed men of the country, is that there is gold in the rivers, but the locations, conditions under which the placer properties would have to be worked and surrounding difficulties are such that only large enterprises and capital can handle the propositions successfully."

RAILROAD PASSES FORBIDDEN

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 29.—The State Railroad Commission heard arguments today relative to its order forbidding the issuing of free or reduced transportation to agents and other officials of lines not directly operating in the State. Representatives of the Southern Pacific, Santa Fe, Western Pacific, Salt Lake and Northwestern Pacific companies urged that the order be rescinded. No decision was announced.

BIG SHORTAGE IS ALLEGED.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

HELPER (Utah) July 29.—That Clyde Jackson, cashier of the Helper State Bank, has admitted the embezzlement of more than $12,000 from the bank, is the statement made by Wesley King, manager of a bonding company, who saw Jackson last night. Jackson surrendered when an investigation of his accounts was begun. It is thought the payment of $10,000 indemnity for which the surety company is liable will enable the bank to keep open.

ANGELENO ON COMMITTEE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 29.—A movement to organize a National Congress on Playgrounds and Public Recreation, to be held here in 1915, was begun at the concluding session of the Physical Education Association of the Pacific Coast held last Saturday in Berkeley. A committee appointed to further the work consists of L. H. Weir, secretary of the Playground Association of America; Dr. F. C. Beach, director of physical education of the Los Angeles High Schools; Dr. Frank W. Hetherington of the Joseph Fels endowment; Dr. C. H. Rieber of the University of California, and Miss Mary C. Meredith of Los Angeles.

San Francisco Woman Gets Warrant for Partner.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. Louise Ponoronse today swore to a warrant for the arrest of Mme. Gertrude Pona, a supposed dermatologist with "parlors" at No. 166 Geary street, charging that Mme. Gertrude advertised and deceived the wrinkled public with a fraudulent "ten-minute wrinkle remover" which was, in truth, she complains, nothing but the beaten whites of eggs, and which did not eradicate wrinkles as it was advertised to do.

Mrs. Ponoronse said she was a San Francisco "girl" and was not willing to see her fellow citizens defrauded without making a protest, and her protestation of loyalty to San Franciscans is substantiated by the fact that her complaint against Mme. Gertrude is also a nail in her own coffin, for she is a partner in the business with Mme. Gertrude, having paid $699.50 for a half-interest in the good will and business of the Geary-street establishment. This was, of course, before she discovered the wrinkle-remover, said to have been handed down from Ponce de Leon, the original prospector for the fountain of youth (hence the name, Pona) to be nothing but the white of eggs.

"Then," she said today, "I beat it away from that place, because the irate patrons were storming it and demanding the return of their money."

Mrs. Louise told a straight-forward history of her venture in the business of wrinkle-curing. She said she was approached by Mme. Gertrude, who alleged that she had the secret of eternal youth, but no money to furnish a "bower." Mrs. Ponoronse agreed to put up $699.50 for a half-interest in the business, and supposed, naturally, that she eventually would share the secret. Mme. Gertrude, however, was coy about the secret. One day, Mrs. Ponoronse says, she surreptitiously came upon Mme. Gertrude beating a number of eggs in a bowl, and accused her of thus foisting the plebeian egg upon the public as an aid of prolongation of youth.

The woman dissembled, but Mrs. Ponoronse said she had probed the miserable secret, and then she bethought herself of the thousands of dupes, who paid enormous sums for the treatment, when they might be beating their own eggs, and she decided that such base deception must cease. Hence the warrant.

LAW EDITOR IS CITED.

Required to Show Cause Why He Should Not Be Barred from Practicing in California.

[By Federal (Wireless) Line to The Times.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, July 29.—[Special Dispatch.] Charles E. George, editor of the Lawyers' and Bankers' Magazine, was today cited in a petition of the State Bar Association to show why he should not be barred from the practice of law in California.

Summons for George to answer the disbarment charges has been issued by the State District Court of Appeals. Date for August 26. The sole ground on which the action is taken, according to the summons, is that George has already been disbarred by the State Bar Association of Illinois. The cause for this prior disbarment is not known.

Mrs. Ida L. Austrian-George, said to be wife No. 2, was recently denied the divorce for which she sued in the local courts before Superior Judge Monroe of Los Angeles, sitting as extra sessions judge. The court made no ruling on Mrs. George's contention that she was legally married to George in Montreal in 1903, at which time Mrs. May Ritter-George, alleged wife No. 1, was living in Chicago. If the charge was true, stated the court, George was guilty of perjury and if untrue, the woman was similarly guilty.

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, July 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Heavy rains and a shift in the wind brought decidedly cooler weather to Chicago and vicinity today. The change served the double purpose of clearing the atmosphere of humidity which had caused more suffering than the heat. The maximum temperature was 78 deg. and the minimum 64 deg. PSYCHOLOGY OF WALKING.

CHICAGO, July 29.—Mrs. Clara Mitchell, a North Side woman, has just completed a walk from New York to Chicago, which she made as a psychological experiment. Mrs. Mitchell had ideas different from certain pedestrians regarding the number of miles to be traveled each day, diet and other things. Mrs. Mitchell said that three theories had been proved by the trip. First, that physical endurance does not depend on diet or muscle; second, that the power of intuition is a safeguard and a guide, and third, that motor action ceases to be an effort when it becomes a habit.

CINCINNATI (O.) July 29.—Augustus O. Johnson, 27 years old, manager of the collection department of a national bank here, has disappeared. His accounts show a shortage of between $20,000 and $40,000. A warrant for the arrest of Johnson has been issued.

Viewpoint.

ARCTIC EXPLORERS LOOK LIKE WILD BEASTS.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

CHRISTIANIA, July 28.—Capt. Einar Mikkelsen, the Danish Arctic explorer and the engineer, Iversen, who were rescued July 17 on the coast of Greenland by a Norwegian fishing vessel after having spent more than two years in that region, looked like wild animals when their rescuers found them. They had spent the previous winter at Bass Rock Island, not Shamrock Rock, as previously stated, and it was there the Norwegians came upon them in a cabin they had built.

The first sign that there were human beings in that neighborhood was a wooden bar with the date 1912 cut in it, set up as a signal which the Norwegian fishermen happened upon. Investigation disclosed the cabin. The fishermen knocked on the door and Mikkelsen and his companion rushed out nearly naked with guns in their hands, under the impression that the knocking was caused by beasts of prey.

Mikkelsen had been ill on the long journey to Bass Rock Island, and Iversen had dragged him a hundred miles on a sledge. The men had enough ammunition to enable them to procure food.

PREACHER PRAISES BILLIARDS.

Forced to Resign Because of Fondness for Game He Defends it in Farewell Sermon.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PENDLETON (Or.) July 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Declaring that if he had his way there would be a billiard table in every home of the United States, Rev. Frank J. Milnes, in his farewell sermon to the congregation of the Presbyterian Church last evening, defended the popular game.

His advocacy of billiards was his reply to the criticisms which members of his flocks have directed his way because of his frequent manipulation of the cue in the rooms of the local commercial association. This was the chief cause for his resignation being demanded.

Rev. Mr. Milnes declared his preference for billiards over all other games because he said, it contains less of the element of chance and stimulates the imagination and the desire for accuracy.

"You say the little ivory balls belong to the devil," he went on. "I answer, so also did the violin and organ, but now, they are to be found in our churches."

COW EATS JEWED CASE.

Diamonds and Other Gems, Lost by Joliet Woman, Returned to Her From Slaughter-house.

[By Federal (Wireless) Line to The Times.]

JOLIET (Ill.) July 29.—[Special Dispatch.] Three weeks ago a small box of jewelry was stolen from the home of Miss Josephine Schults of No. 417 Blackman Avenue, this city. Today it was found in the stomach of a cow butchered in the Adeler slaughter-house.

The cow was turned into the slaughter-house from a farm situated eight miles from Joliet. No clue can be found to trace the journey of the jewelry from the Schults home to the farm. The articles taken from the stomach of the animal were two brooches, one diamond ring, a bracelet and a woman's gold watch. They were put through a cleansing process by a jeweler and returned to their owner.

DEMOCRATS FEAR ISSUE OF TARIFF.

Playing Politics With Bills Now in Hand.

Decide to Ask No Conference With Senate.

Try to Make Grand-Stand Play in Campaign.

[By Federal (Wireless) Line to The Times.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, July 29.—[Special Dispatch.] President Taft will not be required to veto the La Follette wool bill passed by the Senate last week if the Democrats of the House stand firm in the attitude decided on today as a result of an independent meeting of the majority members of the Ways and Means Committee.

The Democratic members of the committee decided this afternoon to reject all the Senate amendments to the wool bill and also the excise bill. Under ordinary circumstances there would be nothing remarkable in this disagreement. The next step would be for the House to ask for a conference at which the differences would be patched up.

WANT NO CONFERENCE.

Majority-Leader Underwood and Speaker Clark, however, have determined not to ask for a conference. For instead of going over the ground covered at the last session, they intend to let the tariff issue remain just where it is and fight the matter through at the approaching election. As they put it, they intend to appeal to the country, not to the Senate.

The general expectation has been that after disagreement to the amendments of the House wool bill the La Follette bill being the amendments referred to—the House would ask for the usual conference. At the last session, this course was followed and the Senate and the House conferees agreed on a compromise that was a cross between the Democratic bill and the Insurgent La Follette bill. This hybrid measure was sent to President Taft, who vetoed it because it was framed without reference to the Republican principle of protection and without reference to the investigation which was then being made by the Tariff Board.

President Taft has more reason to veto the bill at this time because Congress had the scientific information supplied by the Tariff Board and yet the Democrats paid no attention to it. Nor had La Follette. The presumption, therefore, is that the President would veto the bill again.

The House Democrats had received so much criticism for walking over the same old tread-mill and playing politics by trying to "put Taft in a hole," that they determined today not to dicker with the Senate about the wool or excise bills, but to let the tariff programme drop and "go to the country" on the issue in the coming election. They realize the tariff is going to prove troublesome to them in the campaign. They know the Republicans are determined to make protection the issue and that whenever this test has been put to the people in a general election the people have rallied to the support of the policy that has done so much to raise the standard of wages and increase prosperity.

The Democratic leaders feel they must have something to argue about from the stump and they feel that it will be best for them to say they tried to get through a wool bill, but the Senate would not let us.

BILLION MARK PASSED.

EXPORT MANUFACTURES.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, July 29.—Export manufactures of the United States in the fiscal year just ended passed the billion dollar mark for the first time, according to figures by the Bureau of Statistics. The value of this portion of the country's exports exceeded $1,021,000,000. Of these manufactures, $674,000,000 worth were ready for consumption and $347,000,000 for further use in manufacture. The growth in the export manufactures has been more rapid than that of other classes of merchandise. They formed 47 per cent. of the exports last year, whereas ten years ago they constitutited only 33 per cent. and in 1892 only 18 per cent.

FAVORS FREE TOLLS.

President Taft Holds a Conference With Members of House on the Subject of the Panama Canal Bill.

[By Federal (Wireless) Line to The Times.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, July 29.—[Special Dispatch.] President Taft called several members of the House to his office today and talked to them about the Panama Canal situation. Among them were Representative Doremus of Michigan, Knowland of California and Covington of Maryland, all advocates of free tolls, and Humphrey of Washington.

The President is anxious to have canal legislation this session and is doing what he can to secure it. The administration position favors free tolls. The opinion was expressed by those who talked with the President that legislation will be enacted this session. Free tolls adherents think they will win.

That the British protest is having an opposite effect from that intended by the British government is apparent.

President Taft told his callers this morning that he is anxious for legislation and that he feared a deadlock. He wanted provision made, if there was a deadlock, for the passage of a joint resolution that would make it possible to organize an operative force to conduct the canal and open it.

Lux Orientalis.

LIGHT FROM THE EAST ON THE LIVING ISSUES.

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, July 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The following editorial comments on topics of the hour are printed in eastern papers:

REPUDIATES ROOSEVELT.

ACTION BY LA FOLLETTE.

[New York World, July 28:] Senator La Follette, first and boldest of the Republican progressives, issues a warning against the party wreckers now promoting a third term. The champion of a cause, Mr. La Follette, subordinates everything to the cause. The champion of a person, Mr. Roosevelt, subordinates everything to the person. La Follette's successes have always meant progressive Republican successes. Roosevelt success can mean nothing more than the success of Roosevelt. In most of the farcial "State conventions" now being held to elect delegates to the third term national convention, there is no pretense to independent action. Everything is ordered from Oyster Bay. Those "delegates" do not represent States and districts. They represent Oyster Bay. Their candidates are already nominated; their platform is already written.

Against this spurious and destructive progressism Mr. La Follette protests with reason. It has no motive higher than a grudge and a grievance. A party in ruins will have as little need of progressives as of standpatters.

CRUELTY TO LABOR.

LABOR'S CRUELTY TO CAPITAL.

[New York Times, July 28:] Was Davenport or Tillett more cruel to labor? On the day that Tillett led a chorus of public prayer that God would strike Devonport dead, a mob of Tillett's followers would have killed many eager to earn Devonport's wages. The strikers actually did club and wound many "black legs," and would have proceeded to any extremity, but for the police and soldiers. and this occurred in Belfast as well as in London.

There is no practicable form of compulsion of either labor or capital, if either chooses to strike and it is well to bear in mind that one may strike as well as the other.

Every man should have all his rights and every wage-earner, whether a man or a dollar, should have all that can be got by lawful means. But intimidation and prevention of work by either men or dollars are contrary to public policy and more cruel than any methods.

PLURALITY RULE.

WHAT T. R. DODGES.

[Boston Globe, July 29:] In outlining the national primary of the future by the progressive party, Mr. Roosevelt did not deal with one serious difficulty. That is the necessity of accepting a plurality vote as decisive. We have been in the habit of seeing contests between two or three candidates, but there is no assurance that with a country-wide primary there would not be a half dozen or more candidates and a deadlock ensue unless plurality is accepted.

The plan as stated by Mr. Roosevelt does not discuss this possibility and it is such an important feature that it deserves consideration.

FARM LABOR NEEDED.

SUPPLY IS SHORT.

[Baltimore American, July 29:] There is not at present a section of the United States in which the demand for farm labor is not far in excess of the supply.

As offsetting this labor stringency in the farming areas there seems to be a continuous labor surplus in every city. When there is a strike like the recent dock strikes in Baltimore and New York, there seems to be small difficulty in finding men able and willing to take the places of the strikers. The places of the striking waiters in New York were filled almost instantaneously. The cities of the West, like the cities of the East, have a continuous army of unemployed, ostensibly hunting a city job. Why there is not a larger movement out of the congested cities to the calling farms is difficult to understand. If farm wages do not average so high as city wages, it is not to be overlooked that the living cost is generally eliminated in the farm laborer's wage contract.

STOLEN DELEGATES.

ROOSEVELT ANSWERED.

[New York World, July 29:] Publishing a summary of the evidence in the contests before the Chicago convention, the Taft people furnish a convincing answer to Mr. Roosevelt's charge that he was deprived of the Republican nomination by theft.

The facts are against him, but he is not making his campaign on facts. Mr. Roosevelt never had a majority of the convention of rightfully-elected delegates. His pretentions to such a mapority are fraudulent.

The progressive Republican cause at Chicago was utilized by Mr. Roosevelt for the single purpose of promoting his own nomination for a third term, just as the third party movement is being engineered by him today. No other candidate, Republican or Bull Moose, would ever have been tolerated by him.

PAINTING THE WIND.

GOLD BRICKS ON SALE.

[New York Herald, July 29.:] Cooperative stories, limited, La Follette, Borah, Lodge and Bacon, directors, dealers in political clap-trap warranted to wash without shrinking; main salesroom, United States Senate.

That is the way the sign reads in Washington these days.

A first woolen schedule, about which even the introducer knows next to nothing, devised just to "put old Taft in a hole." Next an income tax bill, called an excise tax, passed for the purpose of over-riding the Constitution of the United States. And now a new sugar schedule, supported by a merry combination of Lodge and Bristow, passed Saturday. Almost anything will do until after election. Beat the bass drum. Turn on the steam siren.

THE NAVAL PROGRAMME.

BUILD TWO WARSHIPS.

[New York Times, July 29:] Are the members of the Democratic majority in the House willing to present an issue to the third party? The leader of that as yet nebulous party seems to hope so. He has been quick to make the upbuilding of the navy one of his "policies," while many of the Democratic Congressmen are still holding out against the building of even one battleship this year.

This is not a hasty question. The need of keeping up our navy is realized by men of both the great parties throughout the country. The Democrats are likely to lose many votes if they insist on lugging the navy into politics.

LONG ON PROMISE.

SHORT ON DELIVERY.

[New York Sun, July 29:] Is this the revised Democratic platform?

We believe in the Monroe doctrine. But not in enforcing it.

We believe in an adequate navy. Without ships.

"Pork" before patriotism.

MAY SOON FIND A CURE OF INFANTILE PARALYSIS.

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

BOSTON, July 29.—[Special Dispatch.] A cure for that frightful disease, infantile paralysis, will soon be given to the world, it is confidently expected.

After a four years' study and investigation in the Harvard Medical School, Dr. Phillip T. A. Shepherd is convinced he has isolated the microscopic, infectious virus that attacks the spinal cord and causes infantile paralysis with all its hideous symptoms.

Now that the virus, a morbid poison, has been isolated, it will be comparatively easy, he thinks, to find an antitoxin to combat it.

Dr. Shepherd, a special investigator of the State Board of Health, declares that dust particularly and the horse fly carry the virus of infantile paralysis and play the most important part in its propagation and distribution.

Sixty-second Congress.

VARIOUS VIEWS OF CANAL BILL.

All Shades of Opinion Exhibited in the Senate.

Massey of Nevada Makes His Maiden Speech.

Says Hay-Pauncefote Treaty Is Dead Letter.

[By Federal (Wireless) Line to The Times.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, July 29.—[Special Dispatch.] The two extremes in the Senate on the right of the United States to remit tolls of American vessels using the Panama Canal were presented in speeches delivered today.

Senators Bradley and Massey insisted that the Hay-Pauncefote treaty is a dead letter because the United States had acquired sovereignty over the Canal Zone. Senator McCumber went to the other extreme of declaring that the treaty prevented the government from remitting tolls even on its own war vessels.

Senator Massey, who succeeded the late Senator Nixon of Nevada, delivered his maiden speech.

DEBATE ON BILL.

It has become apparent as the debate on the bill proceeds that there are many shades of opinion in the Senate as to the effect of the treaty and the restrictions placed by it upon the United States.

Senator Percy and Senator McCumber represent the view that the agreement must be interpreted literally and that there must be no discrimination against, or in favor of, the ships of any nation.

Senator O'Gorman was the chief advocate of the view that the treaty was not framed to impose on the United States the obligation to exact the same tolls from American ships as from foreign vessels.

ROOT FAVORS HAGUE.

Senator Root and others insist that the interpretation of the treaty is a question that should be submitted to The Hague. Senators Bradley, Massey and Smith of South Carolina represent the view that the agreement is a dead letter and that the United States is free to do what it chooses.

In the face of the variety of opinion it is difficult to forecast what disposition will be made of the problem. It is probable the provision for the remission of tolls to American coastwise vessels will be adopted in some form.

Senator McCumber declared that it had always been the policy of the United States as embodied in the Hay-Pauncefote treaty that the great waterway should be open to all nations on the same basis.

Philadelphia Family Will Cross the Continent in a Wagon and Bring Their Family Cat Along.

[By Federal (Wireless) Line to The Times.]

PHILADELPHIA, July 29.—[Special Dispatch.] A long canvas-covered wagon, reminiscent of '49, will leave here Saturday, carrying Mr. and Mrs. Charles Taft and their three daughters. They are to make the wagon trip to Portland, Or.

The wagon is being fitted in the yard of the Taft home and will contain bunks, lockers for storing eatables and wearing apparel. A large tent will be carried, so will the dog and the family cat. They will go to Pittsburgh and Chicago and then by easy stages across the western country by way of Denver to San Francisco and Portland.

Mr. Taft wants to reach his destination before winter. He has a sister in Oregon and expects to visit her after the family has settled in Portland.

TROOPS AFTER STRIKE RIOTERS.

Five Hundred Soldiers Patrol Paint Creek District, and Union Miners Take to the Woods.

[By Federal (Wireless) Line to The Times.]

CHARLESTOWN (W. Va.) July 29.—[Special Dispatch.] Five hundred State troops are patroling the Paint Creek district tonight and the rioting miners are quiet for the first time since their strike started. One man was shot at Chelyan by the rioters, but the wound was not fatal.

The second call for troops was sent to Mt. Gretna, Pa., where the troops have been attending the summer school of instruction. An entire battalion was hastily placed on board a special train and hurried to the zone of the fighting.

The word of the coming of the troops took the heart out of the miners and they scattered to the hills and densely-wooded mountainsides.

The men arrived tonight and were promptly set out in long lines of skirmishers. Squads under corporals and sergeants patroled the country at every quarter-mile, making a total line extending for about twenty miles. The men are all armed with regulation army rifles and each man has fifty rounds of ball cartridges.

The miners are expected to concentrate early tomorrow morning at Paint Creek and make their last stand against the troops.

TRIBUTE TO BISHOP WARREN.

Methodist Church Mourns the Taking of a Prelate Who Served Her Many Years and Well.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DENVER (Colo.) July 29.—Methodism paid tribute today to the late Henry White Warren, aged 81 years, for several years dean of the board of bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church. Memorial services were held this morning in the chapel of the Iliff school of theology and public funeral services were conducted this afternoon in Trinity Methodist Church.

The memorial services were conducted by the Rev. Dr. Harris Franklin Rall, president of the Iliff school; Dr. William B. Kelly of New York, editor of the Methodist Review, was the principal speaker. The funeral services were conducted by Bishop Francis J. McConnell. The eulogy was delivered by Bishop John W. Bashford of China, with the Rev. David H. Fouse, president of the Ministerial Alliance, speaking in behalf of the citizens and churches of Denver.

Bishop Warren was retired from active work by the general conference in Minneapolis last May and died of pneumonia Tuesday in his home.

YOUTH ACCUSES A POSTMASTER.

Lad Says Man Tortured Him to Confess a Theft.

Federal Authorities in New Orleans Investigating.

Court Releases Youngster on a Nominal Bond.

[By Federal (Wireless) Line to The Times.]

NEW ORLEANS, July 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Strung by a rope, one end of which was attached to a rafter and the other tied around his neck, until he was nearly strangled, but saving himself by holding to the rope with his hands, then released only to be strung up by the thumbs and later to have his hands tied behind him and a rope tied about his body and started on a march to an unknown destination—these are some of the charges made by a 12-year-old boy, Jefferson Carter, against Postmaster Blanchard and others of White Castle, La. Federal authorities will investigate.

Young Carter was arrested about one month ago charged with having robbed the postoffice in White Castle of $40 in currency. The arrest followed an indictment by the Federal grand jury here.

When arraigned before United States District Judge Foster this morning a plea of not guilty was entered, and Judge Foster, who listened to the statements of the boy's aged father relative to the incidents of the arrest, ordered that the lad be released on a bond of $100, signed by the father, for the boy's appearance before his court some time next fall. The lad was released by the United States Marshal, practically on his own recognizance.

The accusation created a profound sensation in the courtroom and there were hurried conferences leading, it is said, to the issuance of warrants.

The boy gave a detailed statement of alleged brutalities and told his story in a manner that carried conviction to many of his hearers.

FATAL FIGHT AT CHURCH.

ICE CREAM CAUSES SHOOTING.

[By Federal (Wireless) Line to The Times.]

SULLIVAN (Ind.) July 29.—[Special Dispatch.] During a revolver fight at a church social which started over the payment for a plate of ice cream, two men were killed near here last night and three others fatally injured. In all, more than 100 shots were fired and it was discovered that fully one-half of those in attendance were armed. A number of those in attendance were badly crushed in the panic that followed the shooting.

JAILBREAKER IS CAPTURED.

HELD ON FORGERY CHARGE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND (Ore.) July 29.—Charles Lee Curran of Norwood, O., who had been in the temporary City Jail here on a charge of forgery alleged to have been committed in the Ohio town, and who escaped last night with four other prisoners, has been recaptured, together with one of the other men. Curran is believed to have received the tools with which he forced the doors and windows, by a woman who said she was his wife, and who visited him on Saturday.

BURN MAN TO DEATH.

BOYS WANTED TO SEE HIM RUN.

[By Federal (Wireless) Line to The Times.]

MEMPHIS (Tenn.) July 29.—[Special Dispatch.] Two boys, one 18 and the other ten, are under arrest here charged with burning a man to death. They are Mitchell Cabniss and Clarence Shaw. Shaw, the elder of the boys, is held for manslaughter, while the other has been turned over to the Juvenile Court. The boys while walking through one of the city parks, saw Robert Ellis, a tramp, asleep on a bench. They procured a gallon of oil, poured it over his clothing, and applied a match. The flames, leaping ten feet in the air, roasted the man from head to foot. Their only excuse was that they wished to see Ellis "hot foot it through the park."

BODY FOUND; MYSTERY STILL.

Missing Nurse Discovered Lifeless in River at Catskill; Relatives Believe Her a Suicide.

[By Federal (Wireless) Line to The Times.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, July 29.—[Special Dispatch.] Identification of the body of the young woman found floating face downward in the shallow Catskill River at Catskill, N. J., is that of Miss Dorcas Hams Snodgrass, the missing Mt. Vernon ((N. Y.) nurse, was brought about this evening when the word "Snodgrass" was discovered on a band of an undergarment on the body.

Dispatches this afternoon from Catskill declare that Coroner Branch, after an examination of the body, announced his conviction that Miss Snodgrass had killed herself.

The position of the body of Miss Snodgrass when found, was such that the authorities declare it could not possibly have drifted into the creek from the Hudson River nearby. Although no marks of violence were found on the body and although the relatives of Miss Snodgrass believe she committed suicide, it was reported from Catskill that the authorities there are working on a theory that Miss Snodgrass may have been drugged and thrown into the creek. There was little water in the lungs, indicating that death may have occurred before the body entered the water.

CRIME BRIEFS.

Japanese Commits Suicide.

STOCKTON (Cal.) July 29.—[By A. P. Day Wire.] Tonio, a Japanese patient at the State Hospital in this city, committed suicide yesterday by hanging himself to his bed, which he stood on end. Tonio was committed to the institution in 1906 and kept under restraint for two years.

LOTS OF TIME TO PAY FINE.

Illinois Court Grants Embezzler One Hundred and Fifty-six Years.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DANVILLE (Ill.) July 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Hardy H. Whitlock, former treasurer of Vermillion, was today arraigned in the Circuit Court on several counts of an indictment charging him with the embezzlement of county funds. He was fined $75,000 by Judge Scholfield. Whitlock was then admitted to parole under a new law, on condition that he pay $40 per month to liquidate the fine. At that rate it would take him 156 years and three months to pay off the fine and as he is now 50 years old he will have to reach the age of 206 years and three months if the last dollar is paid at that rate.

UNCLE SAM LOSES BUSINESS.

[By Federal (Wireless) Line to The Times.]

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, July 29.—[Special Dispatch.] Theater-ticket speculation proved an unprofitable business venture for the United States government as well as for Harry N. Waterfall, said at one time to be one of the biggest ticket scalpers in the country. What Waterfall managed to save from the wreck of his business, the government promptly lost, and today his creditors are $33,408 on the wrong side of the ledger, with not a dollar to their credit.

When Waterfall filed his petition in bankruptcy he scheduled only $53 assets. His business was still running, however, and his contracts with a number of the downtown theaters still held good. The government appointed a court officer to continue the business, in the hope of realizing on the good will of the business for the creditors.

The report made to Sidney Edwards, referee in bankruptcy, today, however, showed that the government official has actually lost the $53 remaining to the credit of Waterfall, in addition to losing the small profits he made during the first month of continuing the business.

AFTER THE PICTURE FAKERS.

Lodge Presents a Bill to Prohibit Use of Anyone's Likeness Without the Consent of Person Pictured.

[By Federal (Wireless) Line to The Times.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, July 29.—[Special Dispatch.] A bill was introduced in the Senate today by Senator Lodge to prevent the exhibition or sale of "have-your-pictures - taken - with - the - President" photographs.

That a white-slaver named Dismond, whom the authorities recently got after in Texas, had pictures in his possession in which he appeared to be shaking hands with the President, and had been using them to impress those whom he would make his victims, was the statement made by Senator Lodge when he introduced the bill, which is understood to have been prepared by the Department of Justice and was referred to the Judiciary Committee.

Residents of Washington are familiar with pictures falsely representing tourists and others as shaking hands with the President. Some months ago the President forbade a local photographer to make and sell such pictures.

The bill makes violation punishable by a fine of $1000 or six months in prison. It is made unlawful for any person or corporation to deposit in the mails, make, sell, publish, mail or show any fraudulent or untrue photograph or alleged copy of any living person, without that person's consent; or, if a minor, without the consent of the parent or guardian.

The second section prohibits the use in interstate commerce, without the consent of the subject of the picture, of any living person. Anyone injured can bring action for damages.

NO CHAMIZAL AGREEMENT.

Authoritative Denial of an Adjudication Between the American and the Mexican Governments.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MEXICO CITY, July 29.—Manuel Calero, Mexican Ambassador at Washington, in a telegram to El Imparcial today, emphatically denied he had reached an agreement with the Secretary of State of the United States with regard to the Chamisal territory near El Paso. He said the statement that he had agreed to the sale of the Chamisal strip to the United States for $1,000,000 was untrue. He called on the Mexican press to help him in a vigorous denial of the sale.

SHIP CUISINE FATAL.

SEATTLE (Wash.) July 29.—Capt. O. E. Chapman, 59 years old, of Newcastle, Me., master of the full-rigged ship Dirigo, on which Jack London, the author, just completed a 148-day trip around the Horn from Baltimore, died at a hospital here last night of stomach trouble. Capt. Chapman was taken ill two months before his ship reached port, and was removed to the hospital as soon as the Dirigo arrived. Mrs. Chapman is on her way to Seattle from her home in Maine.

Impeachment.

JUDGE ARCHBALD MAKES FORMAL DENIAL OF GUILT.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, July 29.—Sitting as a court of impeachment, the Senate adjourned today after hearing Judge Robert W. Archbald's formal answer to the charges against him, without deciding if the trial shall go on this summer or be postponed until fall.

Judge Archbald, in answer to the impeachment articles brought against him by the House of Representatives, formally denied to the Senate, sitting as a court of impeachment, that he ever used his office or his influence as a judge for profit, that he ever undertook for a consideration to compromise litigation before the Interstate Commerce Commission, that he ever wrongfully used his position to obtain credit from litigants before him or that he had undertaken to carry on a general business for profit or speculation in coal properties, as charged in the House indictment.

None of the thirteen articles of impeachment, Judge Archbald said, constituted an impeachable offense, a high crime or a misdemeanor as defined by the Constitution.

Judge Archbald admitted his participation in the now noted "Katydid Culm Bank deal" with Edward J. Williams of Scranton, and the Hillside Coal and Iron Company, a subsidiary of the Erie railroad, which then had cases pending in his court, but he denied that he wilfully or unlawfully or corruptly took any advantage of his position to induce the railroad officials to deal with him and his partner.

The accused jurist denied that he at any time, for a consideration agreed to assist George M. Watson, a Scranton lawyer, to settle a case in which the Marian Coal Company was complainant against the Lackawanna railroad before the Interstate Commerce Commission.

W. P. Boland and his brothers, Christopher, and James, are principal stockholders in the coal company, and William P. Boland was the author of some of the charges on which the House Judiciary Committee reported articles of impeachment.

In reply to the charge that he and his associates secured from the Lehigh Valley Railroad a lease on coal packer No. 3, owned by the city of Philadelphia, as trustee, for the heirs of the late Stephen Girard, reply was made that the transaction did not involve unlawful or corrupt use of his office. Some details of this article were disputed.

The judge denied that he used his office wrongfully to aid Frederick Warnke in securing from the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad a lease of the Lincoln culm dump or that he accepted from Warnke wrongfully a promissory note for $500.

The charge that the judge used his office corruptly or improperly to bring about the sale of the Everhardt coal lands to the Lehigh Valley Railroad or the Lehigh Valley Coal Company was claimed to be vague and its annulment was asked.

Judge Archbald denied that at any time he had entered into a scheme to buy stocks of a gold mining scheme in Honduras with W. W. Risinger by indorsing a note for $2500. Risinger is part owner of the stock of the Old Plymouth Coal Company. He admitted having indorsed a note for Risinger, but avers it was for the sole purpose of accommodation and benefit of Risinger, and Risinger later sent him certificates of stock in an old mining enterprise as collateral securities of his indorsement.

It was admitted that the Old Plymouth Coal Company was a litigant in the judge's court, but the note transaction had no relevancy to the judge's judicial action and that in the court decision he acted solely on his judgment of the merits of the law suits presented. If the note was presented to John T. Lenahan, one of the attorneys in the case for discount, it was done without Judge Archbald's consent, the answer said.

As to the $500 Jones note, which, it was charged, was presented to Christopher G. Boland, with a request for discount for Judge Archbald while one of the Marian Coal Company cases was pending in his court, Judge Archbald answered that he never consented that the note should be presented to either of the Bolands with a request on his part for discount, and that if such a thing was done it was entirely without his knowledge.

As to the charge that the same note, made to John Henry Jones, was presented to discount to Charles von Storck, president of a bank in Scranton, and a lawyer, Judge Archbald answered that he indorsed the note entirely for the accommodation of Jones and had no intention of improperly using his influence as a judge to induce Van Storck to discount it.

The charge that Judge Archbald had received large gifts of money from Henry W. Cannon, a cousin of his wife and a director of the Great Northern Railway and other corporations was denied, though it was admitted that the judge made a trip to Italy at Cannon's expense. The judge averred he had no information that any corporation in which Cannon was interested might come before his court.

Pretty Belgian Tell of Aid from Hall.

In broken English, with occasional lapses into her native tongue, Marie Suetens, the little black-eyed Belgian girl who is named as corespondent in a divorce suit brought against Charles Victor Hall, told yesterday of the regard which she has for the man who she terms her friend and benefactor and who, she says, has been like a father to her.

"It is all so very wrong," she said, "these bad things they have told. Mr. Hall is a serious, good, man, and he has helped me so much. There are so many things that I want to do. I am learning to draw and to paint and I am trying to learn English. How can I do these things unless somebody helps me?"

Mrs. Hall, who resides at No. 238 Andrews boulevard, filed the complaint in her action for divorce June 12. It alleges that Hall and Miss Suetens were together in Tampa, that the girl was posing as his niece, and that they were too friendly. Hall, who is president of the Industrial Oil Company, went to Europe about a year ago and on his return spent some time in Tampa. He returned recently to this city with the intention, it is understood, of contesting the action.

When the papers were served on him an order was obtained from the court restraining the oil company from disposing of any of his holdings. At that time it was reported that Hall expected to go to Europe and permit the divorce suit to go by default. Since his return he has denied the allegations of his wife and has taken steps to fight the case.

He appeared in Department Six of the Superior Court yesterday with his attorneys, Meserve and Stevens, on an order to show cause why the company should not be enjoined from disposing of his holdings. As Judge Monroe will try the divorce suit, Judge Willis continued the case until next Monday, when Judge Monroe is expected back from San Francisco. Mrs. Hall was not in the courtroom. She was represented by Attorney Goudge.

Miss Suetens and Mrs. L. Lecluse of Tampa, her companion and teacher, have been in the city nearly three weeks. They are staying at Hotel Woodward, No. 421 West Eighth street. They said yesterday that they do not know whether they will be exported to testify in the divorce case and both are exceedingly indignant because of the allegations against Hall.

Miss Suetens is 18 years old and appears even younger. She is a native of Brussels, and has been in this country only about six months. She appears to be more child than woman, with a child-like appeal in her great, black eyes and a riot of dark curls which cluster low on her forehead. She is very ambitious, she says, and desires to devote her life to music and art. To that end she is studying hard under the instruction of Mrs. Lecluse, to learn English and English literature.

She is too impatient with the allegations against Hall to even discuss them. She says he became interested in her in Tampa merely because she had a natural talent for drawing and for music and lacked the means to develop it. It was sheer kindness of heart, she declares, that prompted him to help her. Her regard for him is founded on gratitude and esteem.

Mrs. Lecluse, who was Miss Suetens's companion in Tampa, also asserts that Hall's relations with her young friend were exemplary. She says the little Belgian girl became Hall's protegee because she had talents which he believed ought to be developed and that his attitude toward her was that of a father to a daughter.

On a stand in her apartments in the Woodward beside a framed portrait of Hall, is an amateurish water color painting which Miss Suetens explained is one of her first productions. "It is not good," she said plaintively with a shrug of her slender shoulders. "I must study and work, oh, so hard, before I shall be satisfied. The palms are not so bad but I couldn't make the grass look right. You say the sky is too blue, but that is not so. When I made the sketch, the Florida sky was just as blue as that. But you shall see, sometime when I have studied a long time I shall paint a picture and nobody will laugh at it."

Hall asserts that h eis guiltless of wrong-doing, that his interest in young women is based on his desire to assist them. His friends say he is quick to appreciate genius and ever ready to provide a musical or art education for those who show talent.

THE GREAT WORK ENDS.

Death Takes Woman Who Was Thirteen Years President of the Y.W.C.A. and One of Its Builders.

In the passing of Mrs. Frank A. Dewey Saturday night, at the family residence, No. 117 East Avenue 53, many religious and charitable organizations in Los Angeles lost a friend of deep sympathy and rare efficiency.

One of her especial works was the Young Woman's Christian Association which she served for thirteen years as president, having retired two years ago as president emeritus. Under her splendid executive management she saw the institution grow from one of the smallest in America to the very largest in the world. Its greatness in numbers, its comfort and solidity in buildings, apparatus, furnishings and organization, and its extensive influence stand as a composite monument to her name and to her endeavors.

Mrs. Dewey was also prominent in the work of the Baptist Church and had served for many years as the secretary of its Woman's Missionary Association of Southern California.

The breadth and sweetness of Mrs. Dewey's character and the scope of her endeavors were illustrated in the interdenominational tone given the funeral services held at the residence yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Dr. J. Whitcomb Brougher, pastor of Temple Baptist Church, conducted the services. Dr. William Horace Day, pastor of the First Congregational Church, spoke of her great work with the Y.W.C.A.; Rev. W. R. Gantz, pastor of the Highland Park Presbyterian Church, offered prayer and Miss Beresford Joy sang. Mrs. Dewey had been a resident of Los Angeles twenty-five years, Illinois having been her native State. Beside the widower, she leaves a brother, Rev. Arthur W. Rider, and sister, Mrs. Charles A. Baskerville.

MONROVIA.

MONROVIA, July 29.—City Clerk C. G. Margetts has completed his assessment roll and the total assessed valuation if property in Monrovia shows an increase of $121,875 over last year. Considering that the valuation last year of $3,696,995, included property of old soldiers, who are allowed property up to $1000 this year, and of the churches which are now exempt, the valuation this year of $3,828,870 is considerably in excess and shows an encouraging gain. The summer months are always considered dull in building lines, but there seems no let up in the activity here. Mr. G. R. Tifal of the Tifal Building and Investment Company reports every finished house sold and the demand keeping up with the supply. In Highway Square, where the MacIntyre Company is most active, eighteen houses have been completed or are in the course of construction one one street alone. The Monrovia Manufacturing Company reports a gain of 25 per cent. over last July. Four thousand dollars' worth of furniture has been delivered and orders amounting to $6888 have been received. One order of oak valued at $3300 has just been received for the mission furniture, which is its specialty.

ORANGE.

ORANGE, July 29.—Little Edward Zuckerman, aged 3, ran from the sidewalk while in play and was knocked down by an automobile driven by Miss Mae Ainsworth. The child's right arm was broken at the elbow, and his shoulder was badly bruised by a wheel. Fortunately, Miss Ainsworth was driving very slowly and avoided killing the child, who ran out in such a way that she had no opportunity to keep from striking him.

The Pacific Electric has turned over to the local committees a map showing the proposed right-of-way for an extension of the electric line from Santa Ana to Orange. The committees now have sixty days in which to get the right-of-way and raise the money to pay for it.

Times Booklovers' Contest Catalogues by Mail

Use the Order Form Printed Beneath Today's Picture

Sales of The Times Booklovers' Contest Catalogues yesterday were more than twice as large as had been anticipated. Perhaps this was due to the fact that there is bound in every catalogue 7 certificates entitling the holder to the first 35 pictures.

Or perhaps the remarkable sale is taking place simply because contestants recognize the value of having with them a book which contains the 77 correct titles. Catalogues are 35 cents each, 40 cents by mail. On sale at the main office of the Los Angeles Times.

Those wishing them by mail address the Booklovers' Contest Editor, Los Angeles Times, Los Angeles, Cal.

FOLLOWING is the great prize list for the winners in The Times Booklovers' Contest. 150 or more valuable prizes. Something for everybody. The list includes a number of very valuable scholarships in the best private schools of Los Angeles and Southern California.

Rules That Will Govern The Times Booklovers' Contest

The contest is open to everybody. Times employees and members of their families are barred. Daily for 77 days will be published in The Times a picture representing the title of a book, one each day. Beneath this picture will be a coupon to fill in with the name of the book and the author, together with name and address of entrant.

Cut out the picture and coupon, filling in the book title and author's name, writing your name and address neatly and plainly in the place provided.

No restrictions are placed on the manner in which answers to pictures are secured. Each picture represents the title of one book only. If you are not certain of your solution you may send in one to ten answers to the picture. NO MORE THAN TEN ANSWERS WILL BE ACCEPTED TO A PICTURE. Incorrect answers will not count against contestants if correct answer is also given. Only put one answer to each picture and coupon. Extra coupons must be secured and used for extra answers. All answers to each picture must be kept together in compiling your set.

Additional pictures and coupons may be obtained at The Times office, by mail or by person. Answers will not be accepted unless they are properly filled out on the coupons appearing beneath each picture. It is necessary that pictures be sent in with the answers in order that all answers may be uniform.

When you have all 77 answers, fasten them together and bring them or mail them in a neat flat package—not folded or rolled—to The Times office, addressed "BOOKLOVERS' CONTEST EDITOR." Prizes will be awarded contestants sending in the largest number of correct solutions. In the event of two or more persons having the same number of correct solutions, the person using the smallest number of extra coupons in his set of answers will be declared the winner. In the event of two or more persons having the same number of solutions correct and using the same number of coupons, awards will be made on the basis of neatness.

More than one prize will not be awarded to any one family at the same address, but each member of the family may enter the contest and submit a complete set.

Only one complete set (comprising not more than 10 answers to any one picture) of answers may be submitted by a contestant. Awards will be made strictly according to the merit of each separate list. The names of more than one person must not be written on any one coupon.

All answers will be considered on their merits. The first set filed will have no preference over the last set filed; provided only that answers must be filed within the time specified after the last picture has appeared.

The awards will be made by the Contest Editor and three well-known citizens whose names will be announced later.

The correct answers to the series of pictures will be filed with a local trust company or bank a week previous to the close of the contest.

Entry to the contest may be made at any time.

All communications or letters of inquiry concerning the contest should be addressed to the Booklovers' Contest Editor, The Times.

FATHER SEEKS DEATH SECRET.

Dying, Son Writes He Fears He Is Poisoned.

Parent Demands Investigation by the Coroner.

Dead Man's Mother Scorns Idea of Plot.

From beyond the grave, a message has come to the Los Angeles police, written by the hand of a man now dead and buried, declaring that he was going to his end through the slow machinations of a poisoner who was accomplishing his death by small doses of arsenic or something else, given him day by day.

Walter Connor, a young ranchman of Inglewood, possessed of considerable property, who died at the County Hospital on the 9th inst., after he had been an inmate of the institution but a few days, wrote the letters which now point to the fact that at least he himself believed that he was being slowly killed. The letters were written weeks ago to his father, Charles J. Connor, a patent-medicine manufacturer and advertising writer, No. 1413 West Jackson boulevard, Chicago. The father did not know of the death of his son until after the burial. Then he hurried the letters out here and they are now in the hands of an attorney, who will present his evidence to the Coroner today and ask that the young man's body be exhumed and an autopsy held.

Copies of the letters are in the hands of the police detectives, but Capt. Flammer's men will take no decisive steps in the clearing up of the mystery until the Coroner acts.

The young man's mother, who has been separated from her husband for seventeen years, lives in a little bungalow at No. 875 East Portieth street. She declared yesterday that for the past few years she has devoted herself to her son's welfare and that when he died she suspected that there would be some sort of "trouble" and that she purposely made his funeral as public and open as possible that the whole world might be satisfied.

She sat in her little home yesterday and talked freely of her son's death, but she would not discuss matters regarding the property he left, declaring that that matter is in the hands of her lawyer and all information must be had from him.

"I have been through torment in the past year," she said. "I suffered until I was nearly broken down in health. Walter did not treat me right. I slaved for him, but he was ungrateful. Nothing pleased or suited him. If I could have him back as he was three years ago I would be glad to have him here with me now. But if he remained as he was the last year of his life it is better that he is dead."

LAUGHS AT STORY.

When asked if her son had ever told her that he thought someone was poisoning him, she threw back her head and laughed.

"Poison, poison," she repeated. "What object in the world would any one have in poisoning my son? He had been ill unto death for the past two years and in the past year his grave was open and he was walking toward it day by day. His death was as certain as if his head had been cut off. You could see death in his face. He was sick all the time and had a yellow color, a color as yellow as a tan shoe, with deep, dark circles under his eyes. Death was plainly written in his face."

When told later that two letters written to the father in Chicago, according to dispatches from that city, stated that her son had willed a ranch valued at $4000 to his father and that he had "split with ma," giving a quitclaim deed to any property she might possess and that in turn she had given a quitclaim deed to the ranch and other property in Inglewood, Mrs. Connor denied emphatically that she had ever taken such a step. She declared the Inglewood ranch property belongs to her, that she paid for it, and that her son never saved a penny, despite the father's assertion that Walter had saved $2000 before he came West and began living with his mother.

"I have papers to show that I bought and paid for the ranch," she said. There was some other property where we had established a duck farm, but I am not going to talk further about the property part in this matter."

Mrs. Connor inquired about the dispatches and letters sent here from Chicago and when told that they contained accusations of poisoning, she said her husband had sent Walter pills of his own manufacture for kidney trouble and that she intended appearing in Capt. Flammer's office today and lay the whole matter before him.

"I want this thing cleared up," she said. "You may tell the Coroner he has my permission to exhume the body and make a thorough search for any poison or anything else. Let everyone search and let this matter be fully explained," she said. "I want to say now that during the last year I felt a sort of force exerted, I cannot fully explain it, and that I often thought Walter had been told to exert an influence over me to get me to go back to his father and live with him again. But during all that time it was I who would have taken poison or anything else that would have been handy if I could have gotten away from the misery that surrounded me."

The records at the County Hospital show that Walter Connor was admitted to the institution a few days before he died, and that he was buried on the 11th inst. He was a Moose and that order conducted his funeral. The death certificate stated that he had died of chronic nephritis and endo-carditis. Dr. Kidder of the Receiving Hospital said last night these diseases can be produced by slow strychnine or arsenic poisoning.

Dispatches from Chicago last night declared that one of the letters from the son to his father said:

WHAT SON SAID.

"My friend (referring to a young man with whom he worked in a telephone office when not employed on his ranch) got a doctor at his own expense and came out to the house without her knowing who he was. The doctor told him that it looked as though I was being slowly poisoned. Then the neighbors told her to have me sent to a hospital or they'd raise a row."

That was the last the father heard from his son. He said that his first news of the young man's death came in a letter from Vernon H. Peck, a brother-in-law residing in Los Angeles, who said he had gone to Inglewood to see young Connor.

According to the father, Peck wrote that he found Mrs. Connor in possession of the ranch and that she told him Walter was dead and buried and that she "was glad of it."

When asked regarding his estrangement from his wife, Connor refused to give a detailed answer but said that "the reason was almost as strong a one as that prompting the present investigation," according to a dispatch received last night.

Connor and his wife, who was Miss Jessie Coe, were married at Sterling, Ill., and lived together several years. They separated August 12, 1893.

CONTROL BOARD CONTROLLED.

It Has Nothing to Say to the State Board of Education According to the Attorney-General's Ruling.

[By Federal (Wireless) Line to The Times.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, July 29.—[Special Dispatch.] For two years the State Board of Education has been trying to place in the hands of the school children a language book. But the school children have not been permitted to have the book because the State Board of Control has insisted upon controlling the State Board of Education. Today Superintendent of Public Instruction Hyatt is in possession of an opinion from Atty.-Gen. Webb that the State Board of Education is not subservient to the State Board of Control.

The opinion states that the Board of Education may select such books as it sees fit and may make such contracts as in its discretion are beneficial, without regard to the wishes of any legislative-created body. All that is required is that the signature of six members of the Board of Education be attached to the contract. That many have already signed it, and it will be submitted to the others for signature.

The contract in dispute is for the use by the State of book plates in order that the books required may be printed by the State Printer and distributed to the children of the public schools. When the contract was first under consideration, the Board of Control stepped in and told the State Board of Education that it could not get book plates or anything else without the permission of the Board of Control. Hence the appeal to Webb.

FIGHTS DAMAGE SUIT.

Steamship Company Contends that Action by Ill-Fated Santa Rosa Passenger Was Begun Too Late.

[By Federal (Wireless) Line to The Times.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, July 29.—[Special Dispatch.] The first word in defense of the many damage suits against the Pacific Coast Steamship Company by passengers aboard the ill-fated steamer Santa Rosa, which went on the rocks off the Santa Cruz coast a year ago, was filed in the Superior Court today.

The initial appearance of the company is in a suit to recover $530 for loss of baggage, brought by George A. Ryan. As against Ryan's claim the company sets up that he has not sued within the time limit fixed by printed contract on the reverse of his ticket upon which the baggage lost was checked. Neither was any demand for damage, it is asserted, made upon any officer of the company within the prescribed contract limit.

Ryan's demand for damages was made within the year provided in the statute in which actions to recover damages are permitted. This period, it is the contention of the company, is nullified where a ticket, upon which a passenger is riding, bears a contract requiring demand or damage within a specified period shorter than covered by law. The statutory time limit, it is contended, is to meet the requirements where a passenger's ticket bears no contract stipulation as a part of the agreement of sale.

Besides this defense the company sets up that it has no information that the Santa Rosa was wrecked and lost through carelessness of the company or its agents, and therefore denies that this statement is true.

THIS SPLENDID REMEDY PREVENTS FRECKLES

A Corner in Our Oriental Rug Department

A MERE pen sketch in black and white conveys but an inadequate idea of the beauties of our Oriental rugs. The quaint, alluring colors, the artistic "blending of gentle lights without a name," the mystic charm of the old Persian drawings, all form pictures that must be seen to be appreciated.

We have selected these rugs most carefully and they are the cream of a large eastern stock. Each piece has some special individual merit of color, design or price; and we carry a large assortment of rugs suitable for varied home uses.

All of the well known and authentic weaves are represented in our collection, as well as many rare and unusual examples of peculiar artistic value.

We are particularly well equipped to cater to the demand for "special orders," for definite demands and can supply rugs to harmonize with existing decorations, or odd sizes for rooms of an unusual shape.

All our rugs are subjected to a thorough, sanitary cleansing; are in perfect repair; are of the most permanent, vegetable dyes; are priced according to their true value in harmony with our one-price policy, and each bears the dependable Pease guarantee of satisfaction.

MITCHEL'S
EXPOSITION PARK
fronts on Vermont avenue, Hoover street, 41st Drive and Santa Barbara avenue. It is in the southwestern part of the city where homes of the very best class are rapidly filling all vacant places.

The improvements in Mitchel's Exposition Park Square are quite complete. They include macadamized streets with extra wide parkings and ornamental trees; gas, water and electricity. Many fine boulevards lead in this direction and make all trips most enjoyable.

This is the education center of the southwest. The University of Southern California is near at hand; the Manual Arts High School, libraries, museums and other sources of education and culture are available.

Exposition Park, just across Santa Barbara avenue, will provide social and outdoor pleasures for every member of the family.

Select a home site in Mitchel's Exposition Park Square for these and dozens of other good reasons.

It is high class—
It is well arranged—
It is beautifully and artistically improved—
It is accessible by 7 CAR LINES.

Only 20 minutes are required to take you to the tract, and cars are extremely frequent; fare 5 cents.

Lots are selling rapidly at $1250. Wise protective restrictions assure you of desirable neighbors. Satisfactory terms to all buyers.

SQUARE.

You will fall in love with this beautiful property the instant you behold it. ACT NOW—when one or more of these fine lots before we are compelled to raise the price.

The acquisition of a home puts a man in line for the acquisition of 1000 other things which, on first thought, seem to have no connection with the home itself.

Come out today and secure your choice. Acquire the home and all the incidentals. Give your family a background.

A Home In All Seasons
SANTA MONICA CANYON.
Local people, residents of Santa Monica and Ocean Park, as well as many city people, realized immediately the desirability of this Beach-Canyon combination.

Scientists and students are interested in Santa Monica Canyon as a place to look for buried treasure or to search for valuable geological specimens.

Home lovers and family men see its possibilities as a health restorer—a place for happiness and outdoor life.

Investors realize its value as a business proposition; this value comes not only through its popularity, but through its location on a charming bay, which boasts the longest pier in the world. This wharf is one of the most attractive places for anglers on the Coast. It extends out into the ocean 3700 feet, and offers a place of rest and recreation for thousands every month.

Nature lovers, scientists, investors, family man—all are looking in the one direction.

WHY YOU SHOULD INVESTIGATE.

FAIRMEAD FARMS.

Because California farmers have bought nearly 3000 acres in the past three months. They know good soil and what constitutes ideal conditions. There can be no better recommendation than this.

Because Fairmead Colonies are located on the STATE HIGHWAY from Los Angeles to San Francisco, and on the main line of the S.P.R.R. and in the geographical center of the great

SAN JOAQUIN VALLEY.

Because we have an abundant and cheap WATER SUPPLY and a deep rich sandy loam soil.

Because the Fairmead soil produces in abundance ALFALFA, FRUIT, VEGETABLES and nearly all the other products of California.

Send us your name and address and we will forward literature on FAIRMEAD.

FOR EXCHANGE—

VERY UNUSUAL OPPORTUNITY.

And in this instance the above commonplace expression is absolutely true.

If you are the owner of a piece of well-located industrial property with switch track facilities; a fine home in the Wilshire or Westlake districts; you can exchange the same for one of the most staple and thoroughly established jobbing and manufacturing propositions in Los Angeles, which is paying net at the present time over $12000 per month. Business requires no technical experience, simply intelligent business judgment. Present owners have made a handsome fortune, and ill health is the only reason for wishing to dispose. This requires quick action, as it is too attractive to last.

Pasadena Man Wants Charge Investigated Fully.

Board Member Says It Is Up to the Mothers.

Detectives Oppose Ordinance Requiring City License.

[Office of The Times, 69 S. Fair Oaks ave.]

PASADENA, July 29.—The declaration of Dr. W. A. Cundy last Sunday that cigarette smoking is spreading alarmingly among women of Pasadena, and even among High School girls, yesterday raised a storm of protest and interest that threatens to result in an official investigation by the Board of Education.

I. N. Smith, one of the members of the board, yesterday declared that he believed there should be an investigation, and Dr. Cundy last night said that he was not through by any means, that he hoped an opportunity would come for him to speak again upon the subject, and that he himself purposes to investigate further.

"I am not through with it," he said. "I mean to find out more about it. Sifted down, it amounts to this: Many of the boys of high school age smoke, and the girls of the same age feel that what the boys do they also should be permitted to do. They act upon this theory."

"A remedy will never be found in legislation. It will have to come through education. When examples are set by the parents the children will follow them."

Superintendent of Schools Rhodes said last night that he had never seen girls at the High School smoking, and knew nothing of it. He is not inclined to believe that the situation can be at all alarming.

"Let them smoke if they want to," said D. J. MacPherson, another member of the Board of Education. "Women vote, why shouldn't they be allowed to smoke if they want to. The High School girls do not smoke any in school, and after that it is up to the home department. If they smoke it is because their mothers let them smoke."

Mrs. A. L. Hamilton, president of the First District of the California Congress of Mothers, which was organized a short time ago, and which embraces Los Angeles county and has as its object, for one thing, the education of mothers in the care of their children, said yesterday that Dr. Cundy's statement about smoking would not be likely to cause the organization to take any special steps, but that the prevention of smoking among children was one of its objects and that the organization is already at work on it in a quiet way.

The ordinance recently enacted in this city making it necessary for private detectives to procure licenses before carrying on their business will be attacked and an effort made to supersede it with a State law, according to a statement made by W. W. Freeman, head of the Freeman Detective Agency, at yesterday's session of the Board of City Commissioners. He appeared before the commissioners to point out what he claims to be an injustice to the private detective agencies.

No action was taken, although it was suggested that Chief of Police Wood be empowered to issue special licenses for a week's duration in the cases of men that are merely working on trial for the detective agencies.

Upon the recommendation of Chief Wood, who declared that many persons are forced to stand, the Pacific Electric Railway Company was given permission to install seats at the depot, corner of Broadway and East Colorado street. The seats will be placed where a bootblack stand is now operated.

CITY BRIEFS.

Dr. Charles H. Ward, who was elected Grand Esteemed Loyal Knight at the recent meeting of Elks in Portland, is the recipient of invitations to officiate at the opening of new lodges at Tuma, Ariz., and Ogden, Utah.

Charles A. Osborn, who has been a shoe merchant in Pasadena for seventeen years, expects soon to leave the city and devote his entire time to ranching.

Company 1, Seventh Regiment, N.G.C., is daily expecting orders for the annual encampment, to take place near San Francisco August 10 to 22.

The Board of Education will probably meet next Thursday night to name a successor to LeRoy D. Ely as principal of the Pasadena High School. The salary that the office commands may be increased materially.

Rev. Charles H. Scott, pastor of the Lincoln-Avenue Methodist Church, is to enjoy a three weeks' vacation, beginning next Thursday. He will pass the time at Catalina Island and in camping in the Arroyo Seco.

A report made yesterday by J. H. Kreitler, chairman of the City Bureau of Efficiency, shows that the sprinkling of dirt streets in the city from March 1 to June 30, last, cost over $8400.

FINE CHASE AT SEA SAVES SHIP BIG FINE.

SAN PEDRO, July 29.—The speed of the Pacific Navigation Company's turbiner Yale saved the steamer J. B. Stetson from a fine of $5000 for violating the new steamship law, which requires passenger-carrying vessels to be equipped with wireless and to carry competent operators.

On the last trip of the Stetson from San Francisco to this port, in the bustle of leaving the north, Capt. C. E. Johnson of the Stetson forgot that he had given Wireless Operator Davis permission to go ashore for a few hours. When Davis returned "clean, sober and on time," as they say in the navy, he found that the Stetson had sailed.

On the Stetson the wireless man's absence was not noticed. Davis reported to United States Wireless Inspector R. Y. Cadmus, at San Francisco, who at once notified the West Coast Steamship Company that its vessel, the J. B. Stetson, had sailed without an operator on board, and that unless he was on board before the vessel reached San Pedro the steamer would be fined $5000.

The Stetson having no operator, it was useless to try to recall the ship by wireless, so the West Coast Steamship Company made arrangements with the Pacific Navigation Company for the Yale, with Davis on board, to overhaul the Stetson. The Stetson had sailed at 10 o'clock a.m. from San Francisco. The Yale did not start until 4 o'clock p.m., six hours later, but before midnight the speedy turbiner had overtaken the steam schooner and Operator Davis was put aboard.

Avalon.

ONE THOUSAND REMAIN TO VISIT "TIMES" CAMP.

AVALON, July 29.—That the fascination of The Times Camp is growing stronger each day was made manifest today when the ninth contingent arrived and their predecessors made preparations to vacate.

Reluctantly the boys of the eighth class packed their grips. "Oh, Mr. Dilletta, is there no way I can stay in the camp another week?" exclaimed Willie Dunn. "This is the first time I have been to Catalina and I want to get all the fun I can during this trip."

Quietly the superintendent informed the young enthusiast that owing to the great number of boys who wished to visit the camp this year it was impossible to get a longer stay.

Nearly 1000 boys have yet to visit The Times Camp before the season closes, and every effort is being made by the camp officials to give them an outing which will be remembered. Every minute of the day brings out some new order of fun and frolic. Old games are served up under new names and the boys participate whole-heartedly. Once in a while some really new stunt is proposed and then matters assume a lively aspect.

The following boys returned to the mainland today: Harry Loomis, Harold McCoy, Vernon Allen, Sam Levitt, James Brenton, Barney Margolis, Willie Dunn, Thomas Gamble, Herman Clarke, Douglas Kirkhoffer, Isaie Wasserman, Ralph Ellinger, Willis McCollum, Lloyd Tutt, Homer Snyder, Roy Slagel, Claudius Wilchar, George Goldberg, Ben Solomon, Morris Breslow, Ronnie Blank, John Bowman, Richard Brenton, George McGrane, Hymie Dunn, Harold Galloway, Dale Hoffman and Nat Camp, all of Los Angeles; Raymond Reed and James Wood, Ocean Park; Leroy Patton and Frank Kreitman, Los Angeles; Lloyd Stearns, Huntington Beach; Charles Hurley, San Bernardino; Frank Gaston, Redlands; Dewey Wightman, Globe, Ariz.; Dan Wood, Los Angeles; Stanley Purkey, Pomona, and Isaie Goldberg, Los Angeles.

Though many of the boys are hundreds of miles from their home towns some of them show dissatisfaction or display any hurry to get back. Usually the superintendent has to state firmly to the lads that they must pack up their traps to make room for the incoming visitors. In some instances the lads burst into tears and use all their persuasive powers to remain longer in the camp. From Tucson, Ariz., Jack Still traveled with his friend, Bruce Griffith of the same town, and both boys are apparently in the pink of condition. Jack stated today that he never would forget his visit to the Catalina Times Camp.

From among the boys of the ninth contingent will be chosen the contestants for the Henry & Cornett pennants. The following boys registered in the camp today: Julian Lassalette, Orman Arnas, Ray Miller, Charlie Kelley and George Wackerberth, Los Angeles; Jack Still and Bruce Griffith, Tucson, Ariz.; Ben Einzig and Carl Vogel, Los Angeles; Clarence Berger, Eagle Rock, Los Angeles; Edwin Head, Roy Bohmer, George Smith, Frank Brown and Emil Willingburg, Los Angeles; Martin Abarta and Robert Abarta, Glendale; Nathan Silverstein, Russell Fletcher and Howard Olney, Los Angeles; Alfred Thomas, Chauncey Prinzin and William Wolford, Alhambra; Reginald Williams, Long Beach; Albert Gabaige and Madison McNutt, Tropico; Louis Acuna and David Spies, Los Angeles.

The following menus were served today:

Breakfast — "Germea," fresh milk; fried barracuda; French fried potatoes; hot toast, made from Bradford's bread and Santa Ana butter; hot coffee, "Newmark's Pure;" hot cakes, made from "Makakake" flour.

Dinner — Soup (Swiss.) "Bis-Bis;" relishes, ripe olives, "Everybody's" olives; entree, baked spaghetti with cheese, "Calmaco" brand, and baked shoulder of beef; vegetables, mashed potatoes, sugar corn; dessert, baked currant pudding with lemon sauce; lemonade; Bradford's bread and Santa Ana butter.

Supper — Baked pork and beans, "Steton's" brand; cold roast beef, baked potatoes, potato salad, boiled rice, cocoa ("Bishop's",) assorted cake made from "Sperry" flour, and Bradford's bread and butter.

Generous Donations Made by Various Congregations.

Pastor Will Travel Six Thousand Miles to Wed Pair.

LONG BEACH, July 29.—"An increasing number of business men taking an interest in the work of our society makes us believe that we will soon realize our greater vision of success in missionary work," was the optimistic keynote of President Chapman's annual address to the Christian assembly this morning. This remark accompanied a preliminary statement of contributions made of $500 by W. F. Holt of Redlands, $200 by H. J. Crawford of Los Angeles, $300 by the Los Angeles First Church, $700 by Long Beach church and $600 by Pomona. The president in his modesty, however, neglected to add that he himself headed the pledges with $1000.

The report of Secretary Club showed the best year's work in the history of the society. Membership in seventy-six churches increased 2163, making a total membership of over 16,000. They gave for missions $30,000 and for all purposes $240,000. Nine new church buildings have been erected the past year and twenty-seven given assistance, the present value of church property being $1,040,000 in Southern California. The society received for all purposes during the year $12,050, paid an old debt of $2340 and closed the year with $300 in the treasury and all debts paid.

Rev. S. Lloyd Darsie of Hollywood in an address on the base of supplies, said that Southern California was fast becoming a world center and with fleets of the world coming to its harbors and the increase in industries, Los Angeles would soon be the most cosmopolitan city in the world and to begin right the Christian churches must plant the gospel in this forum of nations.

The morning was occupied with the appointment of committees and routine business matters, closing with an address by W. B. Craig of Redlands on "Opportunity." This afternoon was devoted to business of the Ladies' Aid Society. Tonight the Hollywood church choir furnished the music, preceding an address by Dr. Powell.

Tomorrow is Efficiency Day and will comprise reports of committees and election of officers, closing with an address on "Efficiency," by Bruce Brown of Fullerton. In the afternoon the delegates will enjoy a half-day of recreation in the shape of boat rides, trips about the city and picnics, details of which are in the hands of Rev. Dan Trundle of Los Angeles. At night the Pomona church choir will give a musical programme to be followed by an address on "Social Service," by Dr. Powell.

EXPENSIVE WHIM.

Rev. Dan Trundle, pastor of Highland Park Christian Church, who is now attending the assembly here, is expecting a pleasant trip soon after the convention adjourns, being nothing less than a journey of 6000 miles, to perform the wedding ceremony of Dr. Hattie Clinton of Washington, Iowa, and Marvin Sarter, a ranch owner of Tulare, Cal., the bride and groom paying all expenses, to humor a whim of the bride, who insists that "Uncle Dan" shall be the officiating minister.

The wedding will be at the home of the bride's parents in Columbia, Mo. The length of the trip is made possible by the fact that the going trip will be over the Canadian Pacific, in company with the groom, and the return by way of the Santa Fe, in company with the newly-wedded pair.

Appearing in Police Court this morning with Justice Underwood, who had been cited to appear for failure to have lights on his auto, Deputy District Attorney John Richardson was surprised to hear his name called to answer a charge of speeding. Richardson, thinking it was a joke, pleaded that he was not in Long Beach yesterday and demanded a jury. Judge Hart, not knowing Richardson, took his plea of not guilty and set his trial for August 2. It was not until after court adjourned that Richardson was able to get the judicial ear and explain that the offender must have been some other Richardson, who had forfeited his bond money.

The annual report of Fire Chief Shrewsbury for the year ending June 30 was filed with the City Council tonight. The department responded to ninety-six alarms, an increase of 50 per cent. over last year. The total fire loss for the year was $111,882, insurance paid, $103,972. The largest loss was the destruction of the dredger Oakland, in the inner harbor, which was valued at $90,000.

Mrs. Caroline Seibert, whose pronounced fondness for "joy rides" led her to utter several checks against a fundless bank account was arraigned this morning before Judge Underwood. Unable to give $1000 bond, Mrs. Seibert was taken to jail.

Despite the immense quantity of blood he lost, J. J. Paddock, the S. P. fireman who fell under an electric car last night and lost a leg, is doing very nicely, and his chances for recovery are good, say his physicians.

SOUTH PASADENA NOTES.

SOUTH PASADENA, July 29.—Postmaster Harrison has sent a recommendation to Washington, D. C., asking for night collection of mail for the city of South Pasadena. The last collection of mail in this city is at 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

President Sutton of the Board of Trustees has announced the appointment of Miss Emily Pryor and City Attorney Carson to complete the membership of the Board of Health. The other members are Trustees Wilson and Vatcher.

Tomorrow evening a committee of ten representatives from the San Gabriel Valley Intercity Commission will meet in their headquarters in the Ong building, in this city, to draw up formal plans for the organization of the new commission, to be put into effect for the first time Friday evening, August 2, at Monrovia. Those who will consult on the plans are William Northrup of Alhambra, George L. Smith of Azusa, J. E. Randall of Artesia, Walter Dunn and G. H. Tifal of Monrovia; C. W. Rhodes of Pasadena, William Hazelett of South Pasadena, L. R. Mathews of Pomona, O. W. Maulsby, Mayor of Whittier, and John D. Reavis, of South Pasadena, president of the original Intercity Commission of Eighteen, who will preside at the meeting.

The Home and Foreign Missionary Societies of the Methodist Church met in a joint session in the Epworth League rooms this afternoon, in memory of Mrs. John E. Carson, who was buried last Wednesday, and who was a member of both societies, and a well-beloved officer of the W.F.M.S. This service took up the opening hour, after which visiting speakers Mrs. E. C. Crow and Miss Marie Crow told of their recent trip to Japan. Miss Jean Loomis was also present and spoke briefly on "Why I Go to China."

ALLEGED HEIR ARRESTED.

Los Angeles Man Selling Washing Machines Participates in a Rapid Fire Romance at Fresno.

FRESNO, July 29.—For the second time in less than a month, Charles T. Batelle, who claims to be heir to a fortune of $300,000 in the East and who was married to Miss Evelyn Michelson in this city on Memorial Day following a courtship of ten days, was placed under arrest today by Police Detectives Farnum and Cronkhite on a charge of defrauding a restaurant keeper.

Batelle was booked at the County Jail but was not lodged behind the bars, as a release was secured in a short time. Sam Norton swore to the complaint but as the bill was settled following the arrest it is more than likely that the charge will be dismissed when Batelle appears in court tomorrow morning.

Batelle came to Fresno some time ago, representing a washing machine company of Los Angeles. Upon his arrival here he discovered that the territory was covered by a young woman. An acquaintance followed and the marriage took place ten days later. The parents of the young woman objected to the match. The day following a dispute at the Michelson home, Batelle had his wife's brother arrested for assaulting him with a revolver. The case was dismissed after a hearing.

Chief of Police Jones today received a letter from the Chief of Police at Los Angeles regarding Percy V. Dias alias Jack Williams, aged 19 years, who has been held over to the Superior Court on a charge of stealing a motorcycle. Dias was captured in Merced with the stolen motorcycle and confessed to the theft.

According to the Los Angeles chief Dias has a good reputation in his home city and always helped support his mother, who is now at the point of death following a capital operation. He recommends that Dias be paroled. The officers here will likely act favorably upon the suggestion and give Dias another chance, for as far as they have been able to learn this is his first offense.

The most important country real estate deal this week to be reported was the sale of the D. B. Coleman ranch near Clovis to W. M. Watson of this city. The consideration was $13,500. The ranch is of forty acres and is improved.

Foundation for the H. H. Brix apartment-house, to be located at the corner of Fresno and M streets, will be started tomorrow, the excavating having been completed Saturday. The apartment-house will be four stories in height and will cost in the neighborhood of $70,000. The structure will be of white pressed brick.

After staying in Fresno for a day and night, during which they spent all their money and had the members of the police department and the Deputy Sheriffs searching for them, two daughters of P. Phabrouilliaud, a Fowler rancher, aged 18 and 8 years, walked to their father's ranch today and relieved their anxious parents, who feared that their children had met with foul play. Without saying good-by to their parents the 18-year-old girl with her younger sister boarded the train at Fowler, Saturday, and came to Fresno. They viewed the sights and spent all their money and were forced to "hike" to their home, about twelve miles from this city.

The Fresno Parlor of Native Sons will journey to Dinuba, Tuesday, where with the Visalia Parlor a joint installation will take place. The Dinuba Parlor has planned to royally receive the visiting native sons and a gala day and night is anticipated. At a meeting of the Fresno Parlor last night plans to attend the Admission Day celebration in Stockton on September 9 were made. A special train of Pullman cars will be chartered to carry the delegates to the Slough City. Delegations from Selma, Kingsburg and Dinuba will join with the Fresno party. A brass band will be taken to Stockton.

A Physician's Report on Tuberculosis Medicine

"Have used Eckman's Alterative in several cases of tubercular glands of the neck, with excellent results every time. In one case it cost me $40, for the girl was put on it only until she could arrange to be operated, and in a short time an operation was not needed. I suppose your records are just as fine as of old. You know my faith in it."

(Original of physician's letter on file.)

Eckman's Alterative is effective in other forms. Read what Mrs. Garvin says:

Idaho Falls, Idaho.

"Gentlemen: I have gained twenty-two pounds since last February and my baby is in perfect health. She is now four months old. I do not cough or raise anything at all. I believe my lung trouble is cured."

(Signed Affidavit) MRS. M. H. GARVIN.

Eckman's Alterative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung Troubles, and in upbuilding the system. Does not contain poisons, opiates or habit-forming drugs. For sale by The Owl Drug Company and other leading druggists. Ask for booklet telling of recoveries and write to Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for additional evidence.

A Record sale of 225,000 shares in Conservative Investment Company was made Saturday, July 6—sales were made as late as 11 o'clock P. M. The office and sidewalk outside were crowded all day with buyers—a truly wonderful sale. Thousands of enthusiastic investors, friends, boosters of our business, believers in and approvers of our business methods and capacity. No promotion stock, no water, no tricks, just a straight, honest business. This money of investors now producing greater operation, larger profits, big dividends, rapid rise in value of shares. Next dividend will be declared payable August 28. The value of the properties, now $1,500,000, will go to $10,000,000. Shares will go to $5. Wise men buy early, before shares go to ten times first cost. Send your order for shares at 30 cents, NOW, to Conservative Investment Co., 408 W. 8th St. "Watch Conservative Shares grow."

MID-SUMMER HOLIDAY NUMBER

As usual, the August Century is a special holiday number, filled with brilliant short stories and other vacation reading, and sumptuously illustrated in tint and color.

The stories include "Murder in any Degree" by Owen Johnson; "Keeping up with Daniel Webster" by Irving Bacheller; "The Adventure of Corkey and Mr. Tupper" by Eden Phillpotts, and tales by John Galsworthy and other famous story-tellers.

And the pictures! Joseph Pennell has illustrated the Panama Canal as it never has been illustrated before—eight superb drawings showing the marvellous and almost human machines that are throwing out thousands of tons of dirt a day; Paul Bransom's pictures of Work Horses are wonderfully fine; Maxfield Parrish has four pages of pictures; the two Boutet de Monvels, father and son, are represented by numerous drawings, and Anna Whelan Betts has a frontispiece in four colors.

A vacation in itself.

AMERICAN IN MEXICAN JAIL.

San Diego Relative Says He Is Held Incommunicado.

Trifling Offense Is Bringing Him Severe Penalty.

Laundryman Arrested for Stealing a Kiss.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN DIEGO, July 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] F. H. Piper, of Otay who returned from Ensenada yesterday, declares that his brother-in-law, Harry Koch, who was recently arrested for poaching on the Lower California coast, is being held absolutely incommunicado in the cuartel of the peninsula capital.

He was only able to ascertain that his relative was in jail suffering from severe wounds on the head, inflicted by Mexican officers, that he is reported to have been given a preliminary hearing and is now awaiting trial on the poaching charge, which consists of gathering guano on the islands off the Lower California coast. It is said Koch does not deny the charges but claims that because of the small size of his boats it was not necessary for him to secure clearance papers to cruise in Mexican waters.

While Piper was unable to see his relative he consulted American Consul Fred W. Simpich, who, in turn, consulted Gov. Escudero and every assurance was given that Koch would be given opportunity to establish his innocence. At the time Koch was arrested at sea it was said several shots were exchanged, but Koch maintains all the shots were fired by the Mexican officers.

WILL TEST DREDGE.

Whether the city or the North American Dredging Company will do the dredging required in connection with harbor improvements at the foot of D street will depend upon the result of a test of the new municipal dredger to determine its capacity and upon an estimate to be submitted by Harbor Engineer E. M. Capps, which will show the probable cost of such work under municipal management, what areas and yardage should first be excavated, how much time will be consumed and what additional equipment and assistance will be necessary.

A resolution calling for these estimates was introduced today by Commissioner Sehon and passed by Council. They are to be ready for presentation tomorrow. Mesmer & Rice of Los Angeles, who were awarded the contract to build the pier, and R. P. Shields & Son of San Diego, who will construct the bulkhead, have notified the Council that they are prepared to begin work within ten days.

POLICE RELIEF.

At a meeting held today temporary organization of the San Diego Police Relief Association was effected by the election of Executive Sergt. William Wetherbee as chairman, and Bailiff Paul Conners as secretary. Permanent officers will be chosen at a meeting set for Sunday. Under the constitution and bylaws as submitted for adoption, a benefit of $10 a week for thirteen weeks will be paid to police officers who are injured in the time of duty or in certain cases of illness or $100 funeral expenses in case of death. The benefit fund now amounts to $3814.

NAUGHTY LAUNDRYMAN.

Because he is alleged to have kissed Mrs. Emily Foster, the pretty 17-year-old wife of L. M. Foster, book-keeper for the American Fisheries Company, Theodore Anderson, married, was arrested today, charged with battery. According to Mrs. Foster's complaint, Anderson, who is driver of a laundry wagon, helped himself to a kiss when he called at her home, No. 1250 Columbia street, to get the family wash. Not only this, but he is accused of grabbing a locket she wore and opening it to look at the picture it contained. The case will be heard tomorrow morning in Justice Bryan's court.

SHORT NEWS STORIES.

Benjamin Ford and Charles H. Stout of Los Angeles have entered the local field as competitors with the Barber Asphalt Company and Fairchild-Gilmore-Wilton Company for street work contracts, submitting a bid today for the paving of India street from H to Winder street, the estimated cost of which will be $1,000,000. The three proposals for the work were taken under advisement.

Several submarine mines at the entrance of the harbor were exploded today by Ft. Rosecrans soldiers as a part of the practice in which they are engaged. The results of the tests are said to have been successful.

FOR FIXING UP HIS AUTO.

Ontario Preacher Performs Wedding Ceremony for Man Who Made His Old Gasoline Wagon Go.

ONTARIO, July 29.—A modern Samaritan was rewarded for a kind action yesterday afternoon.

It came about this way: Late one foggy evening in the early spring when the Rev. John Oliver and a party of the members of the First M. E. Church were returning from a tour of inspection in connection with the new church building, their auto broke down and not one of the party knew how to fix it. They had decided to walk in when Charles Elmer Russell and the girl who is now his wife happened along and cheerfully assisted the minister and his party to repair their machine.

The young man was offered money for his trouble. This he spurned but replied that he might need the services of a preacher some day and glanced significantly at the young woman, whose blushes were hidden by the fog. The preacher promised to give the couple the strongest, most lasting and elaborate service, known to the Methodist Church, free of cost.

Yesterday the young man made good his "threat" and with his bride-elect and some witnesses went to the parsonage and the knot was tied. Rev. Oliver was true to his word and not one cent would he accept for his service despite the fact that a generous fee was offered.

BUNKED THE JUDGE.

The next time Judge J. R. Pollock of this city has occasion to impose a fine upon Don Juans of the Mexican quarter they can hardly look to him for leniency.

Last evening police headquarters received three different hurry calls to the Mexican quarter near Campus avenue and Dessau streets and finally landed Paul Espinosa and Louis Flores in the City Jail for shooting things up after they had partaken too freely of the juice of the grape.

This morning Judge Pollock was evidently in a kindly frame of mind for despite the fact that the Mexicans have given the officers unlimited trouble, he imposed a fine of only $5 each and accepted checks for the same. To say that he was peeved when he found later that the checks worth worthless is to put it mildly and his present frame of mind bodes no good for the dusky natives of the southern republic.

SHORT NEWS STORIES.

Miss Bessie Preston of No. 531 West Grove street has a lame hand as the result of a peculiar accident which befell her the other day while on a camping trip with a party of friends near Redlands. She was sitting on a rock at the camp when she was struck on the back of the right hand by a bullet. No report was heard and the hunter was evidently some distance away. She came to this city, where the bullet was located by the means of an X-ray and removed by Dr. D. N. Bacon.

A barefooted burglar entered the home of W. L. Cronenberg, No. 531 West A street, about 4 o'clock this morning, but was frightened away by a member of the household, who chanced to be awake. This is the third house to be broken into in the past few days and in each case it has been done by a barefooted man, whose tracks were found near the house and on the floors.

EPISCOPAL RECTOR RESIGNS.

Charles F. Blaisdell Surrenders Redlands Pulpit to Take a Place in St. Louis—News Briefs.

REDLANDS, July 29.—Rev. Charles F. Blaisdell, rector of Trinity Episcopal Church, has tendered his resignation, effective September 30. He is to assume the rectorship of St. Philip's Church at St. Louis after that time.

Although being offered as large a salary here as at St. Louis, Mr. Blaisdell believes the opportunities for work are larger in the East.

Mr. Blaisdell came to Redlands from St. Louis in February, 1909. He is recognized as one of the leading pulpit orators of Southern California. Numerous calls have been extended him during his stay in Redlands, but they have been declined. One was to Christ Church at Los Angeles, at the time of the division there.

Raymond Duncan of Center Point, Or., is to be the new physical director of the Y.M.C.A. He comes well recommended and is said to be an all-round athlete.

H. C. Cleveland, manager of the Y.M.C.A. baseball team at Long Beach has written R. L. Glover, acting secretary of the Redlands Y.M.C.A., asking a date for a game, either August 17 or 24, the contest to be pulled off here.

Last week's orange shipments were twenty-four cars and 372 boxes, as compared with eighteen cars and forty-five boxes for the same week of last season. The total shipments from the Redlands district are now 4883 cars and 175 boxes, as against 4593 cars and 203 boxes up to the same date last year. Of lemons, twenty-four cars and 256 boxes have been shipped this season.

RELATIVES ARE SCORCHED.

Oxnard Officers Fear That Enraged Family Might Take Summary Vengeance on Slayer.

OXNARD, July 29.—Fearing that an attempt might be made by relatives of Mrs. Filomena Ponce, who was shot down in cold blood a few days ago by E. Patlan, to kill the defendant when he appeared in court today for an arraignment, every member of the family was searched and watched by special officers when they entered the justice courtroom today. One was found to be carrying a suspicious looking knife.

As the complaint against the prisoner was read a son broke into a hysterical fit of weeping and caused excitement in the courtroom. The man was held for a hearing on Friday, next.

NEWS BRIEFS.

With the arrest here today of Dr. M. Mitsuboshi, a Japanese dentist, the first arrest in the county of a dentist for failure to take out a license was made. The Japanese is alleged to have been practicing quietly in the oriental section for some time and was discovered today by Marshal Kelley. At first protesting innocence, he later entered a plea of guilty and will be tried Friday.

The committee appointed by the Lima Bean Growers' Association to investigate the financial records made its final report this afternoon, and was submitted to the directors. It shows the records to be in good condition and the financial condition of the association to be excellent.

On the last lap of a strenuous journey, during which they are surveying the line for the Pacific Pipe Line Company from Maricopa to this section, a party of twenty surveyors have just completed the breaking of a new trail over the mountains of the Matilija section. The party is in charge of T. O. Turner, who stated today that the work is progressing rapidly, and that the line will soon be laid for the pipe layers to follow. The pipe line will have an outlet at Ventura, and possibly another at Huenema.

Cavardossi, wonderful tenor, sings at Coronado this week.

NURSE SLAYS HERSELF.

SANTA BARBARA, July 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The body of Lena Kieran, aged 23, was found on the beach near Surf, in this county, last night. She left her home in Lompoc last night in an automobile, discharging the chauffeur at Surf. Failing to return, relatives instituted a search and while this was in progress her body was discovered. It is the belief of Chief of Police Ross of this city, who investigated the case, that the woman committed suicide. Miss Kieran was a comely girl who had just graduated from a hospital as a nurse.

ELECTRIC LINE TO RIALTO SURE.

Riverside-Bloomington Promoters Secure Route.

Mayor Approves Water Company Agreement.

Health Board Issues Order Regulating Youngsters.

RIVERSIDE, July 29.—It is learned from the office of the Riverside Portland Cement Company that the extension of the Riverside-Bloomington electric line to Rialto is assured.

The right of way along the Diagonal road has been secured with the exception of two or three pieces, and condemnation proceedings will be brought in these cases. The Crescent City Railway Company has been engaged for several months in the effort to get the line through to Rialto, but has made better progress than the Pacific Electric, which is seeking to extend its Colton avenue line to Colton. Work was begun today on setting the grade stakes for the Rialto extension.

INSURED FOR $100,000.

In line with the plan adopted by a number of Los Angeles merchants recently, because of the benefits to be derived in a business way, Chas. L. Reynolds, of Reynolds Department Store, has taken out a hundred-thousand life insurance policy, the largest ever written in Riverside. It was written by Percy Powell, representing the Equitable Life of New York. Mr. Reynolds is one of the youngest men in the State carrying a policy for this amount.

MAYOR APPROVES.

After holding for ten days the agreement drawn up between the city and the Riverside Water Company for the purchase of the domestic system for $575,000, Mayor Peters has given it his approval. The charter allows the Mayor ten days in which to approve an ordinance or resolution, and the public was given the fullest possible opportunity to protest against the approval of the agreement, which has had the indorsement of the Council and the directors of the water company. That no protest was received, encourages the belief that the proposed bond issue will have little opposition.

PUBLIC HEALTH MEASURE.

The Board of Health issued an order today forbidding children under the age of 12 years entering the swimming or wading pools at Fairmont Park or any other public pool. This includes the Y.M.C.A. plunge, which is just now offering special inducements to boys during the summer vacation, with the pool as a tempting bait. The order is due to the fact that there have been discovered a few cases of infantile paralysis in the city.

BICYCLE PROVES DANGEROUS.

While coasting down hill on his bicycle today, S. B. Hook lost control of his wheel and was thrown into a deep ditch at the roadside. Besides receiving other injuries, he sustained a broken arm in the fall.

JAPANESE MARATHON.

Clad only in a union suit, Y. Asucavaki, son of a Japanese family living at Prenda station, was found yesterday morning in the vicinity of Howard street, about five miles from his home. The boy has been mentally unbalanced since an attack of typhoid fever, and he was laboring under the hallucination that he was taking part in a marathon race. He was taken care of by the police until his parents could be notified.

DESECRATION OF THE SABBATH.

Evangelist at Huntington Beach Says This State Is Flagrantly Guilty—Also Denounces Divorce.

HUNTINGTON BEACH, July 29.—That California is especially guilty in desecrating the Sabbath was the contention of Evangelist Brown in his sermon at the Methodist camp meeting here today. Taking his subject from Daniel, the evangelist attacked crime in all its phases. He was extremely plain on the question of divorce which he condemned as being often a species of adultery.

During these last days of the Epworth League sessions, to which the mornings are devoted, unusual interest is being manifested in the work of the Sunday-school institute.

NEWS BRIEFS.

The Woman's Club of this city is making an effort to secure funds for building a clubhouse as soon as possible and to that end expects shortly to give a series of entertainments.

Arrangements have been made with the veteran drum corps of the Grand Army of the Republic at Los Angeles, securing the services of the organization during the encampment of the Southern California Veterans' Association which begins here on August 18 and continues ten days.

A special election to decide whether to provide a promotion and advertising fund for this city will be held tomorrow and considerable interest is being shown in the result. If the election carries the special tax of 15 cents on every $100 of taxable property will create a fund of about $3000.

A slight fall of rain here this afternoon surprised every one, even the oldest inhabitant being unable to remember a rain at this time of the year. The fall was so slight as to be negligible so far as its effect on crops in this section is concerned.

COLTON NOTES.

COLTON, July 29.—Another industry has been added to Colton's list. The Standard Brick and Tile Company is building its factory on its site, south of town, and seven carloads of machinery are expected to arrive this week from the East.

Power will be obtained from the Sierra Power Company and a spur from the Southern Pacific has already been built to the factory site. The principal business of the firm will be the manufacture of sand, lime bricks, the sand from the river bottom having been tested and found of great value for this purpose. The bricks are made with great heat and pressure, and are turned out in a few hours, whereas the clay brick required far more time and is of vastly inferior quality. The company opened its office in this city today with Earl F. Van Luven as secretary and manager.

H. D. Davis has sold his five-acre ranch on Hermosa Terrace to F. R. Dane of Los Angeles. Mr. Dane has also purchased five acres adjoining and will make his home on the ranch.

WILL INVESTIGATE RUMORS.

Santa Ana Board of Education Will Delve Into Conversations of a Los Angeles Architect.

SANTA ANA, July 29.—A meeting of the Board of Education of this city has been called for tomorrow night to take up the investigation of remarks alleged to have been made by A. Burnside Sturges, a Los Angeles architect.

Sturges, who has the contract for the architectural work for the Polytechnic High School, is accused by J. P. Kennedy of Los Angeles of having said that he had to take out a $5000 life insurance policy with W. L. Duggan, who is president of the School Board, in order to hold his job. Duggan readily admitted having written the insurance, but declared it was entirely separate from his official position. Sturges's remarks, as reported by a private detective sent to him by H. G. Dean, a director of the School Board, were to the effect that he had to take out the policy "in order to do business with these people." Including the entire board in this remark has added fuel to the fire, and the four school board directors, who knew nothing of the insurance, are indignant, and if it is shown that Sturges included them in his remarks, Sturges will probably be asked to resign.

NEWS BRIEFS.

By a watch found on him when he was arrested for stealing $85 from another Jap, K. Tani, was today charged with burglarizing a Japanese house at Smeltzer on June 30. The watch was stolen from S. Nakagawi.

A quarantine has been established upon the home of Edward Stockton at Westminster as the result of a case of infantile paralysis in the family. This is the only case in that section.

Marriage licenses: Albert L. Dietsch, 34, of Pittsburgh, Pa., and Ida M. Harold, 36, of Hoxhehn, Ia..; John W. Sutton, 46, and Mary J. Eagan, 42, both of Los Angeles; Harry F. Lisk, 22, and Ethel A. Kirby, 18, both of Riverside; James V. Davis, 22, and Hazel M. Neighbors, 18, both of Los Angeles; Bennie T. Kimsey, 21, and Olive Holborn, 18, both of Santa Ana.

FINED FOR DYNAMITING FISH.

SANTA CRUZ, July 29.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] For resorting to the unsportsmanlike and illegal method of fishing by exploding dynamite in the San Lorenzo River, Nick Patton of this city was fined $250 today by Superior Judge Lucas F. Smith. Patton, Leonard Lovett and Hugh Baird were tried a month ago on the same charge, but the jury then disagreed. Lovett and Baird later confessed and escaped retrial.

JEALOUS MEN USE REVOLVERS.

San Bernardino the Scene of Two Tragedies.

Woman Killed as She Sang at a Reception.

When Apology Is Refused Man Shoots Workman.

SAN BERNARDINO, July 29.—Peculiar atmospheric conditions may have been responsible for intense jealousies of two husbands who lengthened the criminal record of this county last night, one killing his wife and then mortally wounding himself, while another husband wounded a man whom he charged with having attempted to lure his wife into a romantic elopement.

Camilo Ruez, seemingly aroused because of the applause which greeted his wife's singing of "La Paloma," shot through the window of their home and the bullet almost instantly killed the woman, who fell to the floor, the last words of the beautiful Spanish song ending in a piercing scream. The shot was quickly followed by a second one, when Ruez fired into his own head. He died at noon today.

Policeman Ruiz was among the wife's admiring auditors, and when the fair singer fell, mortally wounded, Ruiz dashed from the house in pursuit of the assailant, only to stumble over the prostrate form of the husband, who was dying from the self-inflicted wound.

The second jealous tragedy occurred at Oro Grande, where S. C. Scranton attempted the life of F. C. McGee, when the latter refused to get down on his knees and apologize for having spoken honeyed words to Mrs. Scranton, and according to her story urged her to elope.

McGee had gone to Los Angeles, and during his absence, Mrs. Scranton informed her husband of McGee's attentions. When McGee returned to Oro Grande he was met at the train by Scranton, who demanded an instant apology. McGee denied the charges and refused to apologize, whereat Scranton drew a revolver, and aiming at McGee's heart, fired.

McGee threw up his arm, the bullet, instead of entering the breast, wounded McGee in the wrist. He was taken to the hospital, and Scranton was brought to jail. The men work for the Golden State Cement Company at Oro Grande.

MINNEAPOLIS, July 29.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] Former Senator William D. Washburn, a leader in the upbuilding of the Northwest, died here shortly after 10 o'clock tonight. He was 81 years old.

Our income from rents of houses alone exceeds $140,000 a year. Sure rentals mean large dividends. Large dividends mean shares will rise in value. Shrewd investors always buy early. You can buy your shares now at 30 cents. After Aug. 3, 32½ cents. You cannot buy shares at 30c in the OLD companies. Profits from subdivisions and building will be great. For 30 years you have seen the Wiesendanger Investment business—now OUR business grow and grow—and finally become too big for one man. That's why Conservative Investment Co. was incorporated. Theodore Wiesendanger, our President, continues as General Manager. This is your opportunity to become part owner in a "GOING" concern. Buy these shares now at 30 cents and watch your dividends come in and your stock rise in value. Next dividend will be declared payable Aug. 25. Stop at 408 West Sixth street and see photos of our many properties. "Watch Conservative shares grow."

Conservative Investment Company 408 West Sixth St.

The value of the Wiesendanger properties, now belonging to the Conservative Investment Co., all centrally located, will grow to $10,000,000 by the time Los Angeles has a population of 1,000,000. Already the company has an income from rentals of over $140,000 a year, insuring large dividends, immediate, sure. Shares will go to $5. Now 30 cents only. Aug. 3 advance to 32½ cents. Wise men buy shares early when the price is low. You cannot buy shares in old companies now at 30 cents. Act now. Next dividend will be declared payable Aug. 25. Before you forget it, order shares at 30 cents of Conservative Investment Co., 408 West Sixth St. "Watch Conservative Shares grow."

The Officers of this great Bank devote all their time and effort to its affairs.

This means that they are continually at the service of our Depositors and Patrons.

You seldom hear them named in connection with outside business matters — and never actively. This is because they regard the business of the Bank's Customers as a sacred trust—both worthy and actually demanding their undivided effort.

"Efficient Service" is the ideal of this Institution. We have attained it in such measure that this Bank's Deposits have more than doubled in the last four years. During the first six months of 1912 alone, Deposits increased more than Two Million Dollars.

Accounts opened at Four and at Three Per Cent interest, the latter with checking privileges under moderate restrictions. Money loaned on Collateral and on approved Real Estate. Trusts executed. MISFORTUNES IN PAIRS.

Japanese Newspaper Suffers Loss by Fire as News of Mikado's Death Is Prepared for Extra.

The mechanical plant of the Rafu-Shimpo, (the Los Angeles Newspaper) a daily Japanese publication, was partially destroyed by fire early yesterday morning. The ruin wrought by fire, water and smoke was not sufficient, however, to prevent the editorial and mechanical staffs from placing an extra edition on the streets shortly after the news was received in the city of the death of the Mikado.

The Rafu-Shimpo is published on the second floor of No. 230 East First street, a brick building owned by a man named Porer. On the ground floor is a store and the International Theater. On the third floor is a rooming and boarding-house conducted exclusively for the employees of the Rafu-Shimpo. They escaped amid much confusion. The fire is believed to have been caused by spontaneous combustion among oiled rags in the press-room of the paper.

The loss to the newspaper is estimated at $300, and $100 is the damage to the building. Both are covered by insurance.

Aqueduct Celebration Is Taking Form.

Elaborate Plans Considered by Committee.

Big Monument and Fountain as Memorial.

Important steps were taken yesterday toward the consummation of plans for holding a mammoth celebration next spring in commemoration of the completion of the Owens River aqueduct and the opening of Exposition Park. A meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Committee appointed last year to handle the matter was held yesterday afternoon and it is expected that other meetings will follow soon.

Some of the members said last night that a reorganization of the committee would probably be the first step. This will be done in order to get an active membership of at least fifty men. When this has been accomplished, the suggestions for the celebration already advanced will be considered and a campaign to secure the necessary funds begun.

No action was taken at yesterday's meeting, it being decided to wait for a full meeting of the reorganized committee. Various suggestions for the celebration were offered and drawings of a proposed fountain and monument submitted. All the ideas advanced contemplate a celebration on an elaborate scale to continue for several weeks.

Davison's suggestion is for a celebration to last for at least a month next April or May. It will cost about $200,000, which amount is not expected to cover the full cost of the proposed monument when completed. It is proposed to build a set of temporary buildings in Exposition Park which will house exhibitions and provide offices for executive committees.

A race meet and similar attractions, a series of public meetings and banquets and an elaborate programme of day and night events will constitute a public celebration and demonstration unparalleled in the history of the city.

The climax will be reached when water first issues from the big memorial fountain. The park is to be elaborately lighted and the fountain will be made as light as day on the night of the final event. The Park Commission and others who are interested in the project are united in favoring a monument which shall possess artistic merit and which shall reflect credit on the city for generations.

If this idea is followed it is probable that the committee will only undertake to build the fountain basin in time for the celebration. The superimposed monument may require years to complete. One suggestion is to have a full-length figure of Mulholland, who has been the chief engineer of the Owens River project since its beginning, placed on top of the monument.

The members of the Park Commission were favorably impressed with the suggestion and yesterday afternoon voted to permit the committee to hold such a celebration in Exposition Park, if the committee shall decide to adopt the plan. This action was taken with the provision that the expense of tearing down the temporary buildings shall be borne by the committee and also that $20,000 shall be secured to them for permanent park improvements.

The Sixth District Agricultural Association, which has played an important part in the improvement of Exposition Park, is in favor of a celebration such as the one proposed by Davison. Many business men who have been approached on the matter have given the project their indorsement and thus far none has expressed an opinion that the amount named is too large.

MYSTERY SOLVED.

SAN PEDRO, July 29.—Local city officials and police were given a big scare this morning when the report spread along the water front that the Southern Pacific Company was fencing off a part of the city's property along the north line of the Huntington concession near the foot of San Pedro street, on the outer harbor. The report sifted through to the Board of Public Works and an official investigation was ordered. The investigation resulted in the information that the work was being done by the Standard American Dredging Company in accordance with that company's contract for the improvement of the Huntington fill and that the Southern Pacific Company was in no wise interested in the proposition.

The fence under construction is intended as a bulkhead to hold the debris on the north side of the fill, which will be pumped out of the concession.

Which is merely another instance of the eternal working of the law of compensation. It applies to our business, too. It costs a little more to produce each suit that we sell than it does the average tailor. The point is just this—the extra cost we put into that suit is saved in advertising, because our customers themselves do most of our publicity work. It's a good point to remember.

The Neal Treatment For Drink Habit

Users of Alcoholic Liquors need Medical Treatment—It is the Only Way to Help Them.

All promises, resolutions and punishments in the world cannot eliminate the accumulated alcohol and neutralize its functional effect upon the system. Alcohol is a poison and will poison anyone who uses it. It is cumulative and the result of the habitual use of alcoholic liquors is to create a craving and necessity for false stimulants which is so much stronger than the will power that the drinker cannot stop without assistance.

The Neal Treatment which is administered in nearly all large cities in the United States, Canada and Australia, will relieve all appetite and necessity for liquor in three days, without the use of painful, dangerous hypodermic injections.

For full information call at the Los Angeles Neal Institute, 945 South Olive street, or write or phone G. U. Neal, Manager, for Dr. Neal's free book. Phones: Broadway 4602; F4072.

FOR BOYS
(Twenty-five miles south of San Francisco) is trying, and we believe successfully trying, to do for the moral, the intellectual and the physical welfare of its boys what thoughtful parents most wish to have done. Contributive to this end are the location of the school, removed from the temptations and distractions of town or city, the fineness of its climate, the excellence of its buildings and other equipment and the beauty and extent of its grounds, with the wide range of foothills surrounding them. We are glad to have our patrons and graduates consulted. For catalogue and other specific information address the head master.

THE HELD-UP ORDINANCE AND DECEIVING LETTERS.

Important Ruling of the Court in the Henderson Libel Action Brings Out the Crux of the Case—Testimony as to Motive of Mayor and Henderson and Value of Contract to City Not Admitted.

THE sixth day of the trial of the Henderson libel action against The Times proved to be the most interesting and important thus far developed in the progress of the case now proceeding before a jury in Judge Chambers's court.

An attempt was made by the prosecution to introduce the testimony of a lot of Edendale people, tending to show that in holding up the Alessandro-street vacation ordinance the Mayor and his clerk were acting in pursuance of a "good motive," and for the benefit of the people.

This evidence was ruled out by the court. Attorney Adams argued that the Mayor or Henderson, having secreted the documents, had been guilty of a felony; that their motive, good or bad, is, under the law, immaterial, and that the fact that they were in conference with people from Edendale over the matter only emphasizes the fact that they were guilty of "dirty work" (a phrase in the editorial upon which Henderson bases his chief claim to injured "honesty, virtue, integrity and reputation") in concealing it from others who had a right to know where and what it was, and to see it.

The attorney further declared that the fact that Henderson and the Mayor were holding up the ordinance for the purpose of getting a contract with the railroad company shows that they were deceiving Evans and others in claiming that the ordinance had not yet reached the Mayor when he had already signed it, and that he was holding it purposely while writing to Evans to tell him that he would give the ordinance his consideration when it came before him.

Attorney Adams showed that Section No. 113 of the Penal Code of California provides that every official having the custody of any record filed or deposited in any public place, or placed in his hands for any purpose, who is guilty of removing or secreting such record or who permits any other person so to do, is punishable by imprisonment in the State prison not less than one year or more than fourteen years.

Attorney Adams quoted from the decision of the Supreme Court in the O'Brien case to show that it made no difference whether the motive was good or bad if such an offense were committed.

Section No. 114 of the Penal Code provides that every person not an officer who is guilty of any of these acts is punishable by imprisonment in the State Prison not to exceed five years, or in the County Jail not to exceed one year, or by a fine not to exceed $100, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

TESTIMONY OF ANDREWS.

H. E. Andrews, managing editor of The Times, and author of the editorial in controversy, was the chief witness of the day for the defense. The witness explained the motive actuating the article, which, he said, was written and published for the purpose of benefiting the public service and protecting the public interest, and preventing, if possible, the politicalizing of the Public Service Commission by turning it over to a coterie of politicians closely identified with the Mayor and the faction he represents.

Incidentally the witness succeeded in establishing his familiarity with the Doxology, a portion of which thus becomes a part of the record in the case. It came about when he was asked what he meant by the use of the word "creature" as applied to Henderson. He replied by quoting the definition of the word as laid down by Webster to the effect that a "creature" is "one who owes his rise or fortune to another," and that we are all "creatures" of the great Creator to whom we sing:

"Praise God from whom all blessings flow;

Phrase by phrase, here a little and there a little the article of which Henderson complains was taken up, and in every instance it was stated by the witness that the purpose animating The Times and the author of the editorial was to prevent the turning over to the management of officials lacking in experience and competency the qualifications necessary for its most advantageous and economical conduct of policies affecting the greatest and most important work now under way in the State; a work costing the people of Los Angeles over $23,000,000.

The witness testified that he did not know Henderson personally prior to the publication of the editorial, which was purely political in its application. He described the sources of his information, which came through regularly recognized newspaper channels, and by means of which he reached the conclusion that Henderson as a public official was a legitimate subject for criticism.

When Henderson's appointment to the Public Service Commission was suggested, and it developed that it was the plan of the administration to make him the president of that important board, The Times felt, said the witness, that the proposed appointee (who had been a stenographer, court reporter and private secretary) was not fitted by training or experience to undertake the vast and complex problems which this most important branch of the municipal government is called upon to solve in providing for the proper and equitable distribution of the Owens River water.

The appointment of Henderson, the testimony of Andrews brought out, meant the placing of the third political representative of the Mayor's political clique upon this board, Graham and Wellborn being the other two, thus giving a control of the board to this faction, or "little coterie," as the witness expressed it, and opening the door for an "opportunity for graft." Witness made it clear that the editorial makes no charge of graft, but only refers to the creating of an "opportunity." "It is well known to me," said the witness, "that graft in a city government is due to the control of the government by a political ring, and I saw danger in the politicalizing of the water department of this city."

"Mr. S. C. Graham, who had been the chairman of the Good Government organization which had placed Mayor Alexander in nomination, was rewarded by being made a member of the Public Service Commission; Mr. Wellborn, who had been active in the same political coterie, was also appointed. Here was Mr. Bryant, a city contractor, anxious for city jobs, and campaign manager for Mayor Alexander, succeeding Mr. Graham as chairman of the Good Government organization. And now is was proposed by the Mayor to take his own private secretary out of his office (an admirable secretary, a good stenographer and highly respected by the Mayor) and make him president of the board of control of the future of a $23,000,000 undertaking. It meant too many politicians of one ring on the board. There was no intent to attack Henderson's personal honesty, but the article referred to the opportunity for political corruption which might come from the politicalizing of the Aqueduct. The article was written in accordance with the policy of The Times and the instructions of Gen. Otis, its editor-in-chief, who left the city for the East six days before it was published.

"Grafting in great cities is almost always due to the laxity or incompetency or inefficiency of officials placed in important positions as heads of departments. All great private corporations insist on having men of special training and fitness in such places, to prevent losses and peculations. Henderson, while an honest man; had no training or business experience or equipment for the position of president of the most important board in the city, as The Times looked at it. There was grave danger in placing such an unequipped man in such a post."

A political "parasite" was defined by the witness as a follower or "hanger on," which he thought accurately described Henderson's connection with the Mayor. Witness admitted that The Times had endeavored to prevent the appointment of Graham to the commission on the grounds of unfitness for the office, and recalled that the Mayor had told a Times representative at least twice that he would not appoint Henderson to the office for which he was opposed by The Times for the reasons cited.

The term "vermiform appendix" was defined to mean a part of the City Hall machine. The words "dirty work" witness said meant the performance of such disagreeable tasks, menial or offensive offices which the Mayor did not care to take upon himself; work that some men would not like to do. The point was illustrated by likening it to the duties of a kitchen maid, necessary, perhaps, but scarcely attractive. "I don't believe Henderson would steal," said the witness, "but he is aligned with a political ring and not fitted by training or experience to be president of an important commission handling a $23,000,000 operation. There is no charge of corruption in the article, but The Times did criticise the inefficiency of Graham and Anderson, and I believe the greatest danger of graft comes from incompetency and laxness in office, and that superior men of business training and experience are needed for important positions."

In concluding his direct evidence witness said the editorial was written as a public journal's criticism of public officials engaged in the city's most important enterprise; that there was no purpose, object or desire in view other than to prevent, if possible, the appointment of a man believed to be incompetent. The editorial was written for the purpose of protecting the public service and preventing the politicalizing of a great work.

A severe cross-examination failed to shake the testimony in any particular. In speaking of the Alessandro-street affair, witness said: "It looked to me as if there had been a job, and from the facts in my possession I was led to believe that there had been some 'dirty work' there."

"I never thought Henderson would steal, but under political duress he might do things he would not otherwise do. I had watched his career and knew his size and caliber, and knew that he had no training, experience or qualifications for the position. The whole theme of the article was political and showed that the Mayor intended to place the water department in the hands of a political machine."

EX-COMMISSIONER'S TESTIMONY.

Arthur N. Davidson, a former member of the commission, testified that he had been approached by Henderson prior to April 24, last, the date upon which the article in question was published, and that Henderson solicited his vote for president of the board. He said the Mayor wanted to appoint him. "I told him," said Davidson, "that I would not support him, and that I did not think he should be a member, for he knew nothing of the business of the board and would make a mistake if he took the office. He said that he must have a salary if he took the position. The Public Service Commission has always been non-partisan and I thought the Mayor was making a great mistake in making a political board of it. I did not think that the position should be held by a lawyer, but said that I had rather vote for Del Valle than for a young man without business experience, and one of the Good Government brand of politicians. They already had Graham and Wellborn as members of the Good Government push and three in five were too many. Henderson is an able man in his line and was one of the Mayor's principal advisers. The Mayor has told me that anything he knew Henderson knew. The City Club is a political club; it may be 'a forum of public opinion,' but I believe that the City Club is absolutely dominated by Earl and a few others. No, one doesn't have to be a member to dominate the club."

WHERE ARE THEY?

George B. Anderson, the present Mayor's clerk, testified to a search he has made through the files of the Mayor's office for the missing Evans letters of March 8 and 30, 1910. "After diligent search," he said, "I find no such letters in the office of the Mayor, and I find nothing in the records about such letters."

These are the letters acknowledged by the Mayor in which he tells Evans that the Alessandro street vacation ordinance will receive his "careful consideration" when it comes before him. The ordinance and the letter of April 18, 1910, written weeks after the ordinance had been signed, passed, and lost, are reproduced herewith and are a part of the record of the case.

DEPUTY CITY CLERK.

Deputy City Clerk Sutherland corroborated F. E. Evans's statement that the latter had made repeated efforts to find out something about the lost ordinance during the time it was lying in Henderson's desk in the Mayor's office. "He came so often," replied Sutherland in response to a query, "that I could anticipate his questions and my reply." L. R. Warren, president of the League of Justice, was also frequently on the trail of the disappearing ordinance, according to the witness.

MISSING LETTERS AND EVANS.

F. E. Evans, the Alessandro street property owner who was deeply interested in the fate of his street frontage and who is the Sherlock Holmes of the disappearing law, if not its Nemesis, was recalled to testify to the contents of the letters he wrote the Mayor about Alessandro street conditions. These are the letters which are now mysteriously missing. One of them contained pictures of the street and railroad cut, reproductions of which were published in the Sunday Times. The letters called the Mayor's attention to the extremely dangerous condition of the street; to the fact that it was at times muddy and impassable, and that wagons frequently fell over the brink into the railroad cut below. He wanted to know what was being done, and when the final ordinance was coming up. To each of these letters a reply was sent (Defendant's exhibits 2 and 3,) in each of which the Mayor promised to give the matter his attention when the ordinance came before him. The one under date of April 18, 1910, was written several weeks after the documentary evidence in the case shows the ordinance to have been passed, signed by the Mayor and "disappeared."

The defense rested with the testimony of Evans, reserving permission to examine one other witness today. In rebuttal the prosecution called several members of a committee of Edendale citizens who the prosecutor attempted to show were interested in securing the adoption of the contract of December 13 between the city and the railroad, an effort which Attorney Fleming characterized in his objection as the "smuggling through of a contract with the railroad company and concealing it from the people most vitally interested in that feat."

Witness Carew, a member of the committee, said that the City Council was asked to adopt the contract because it was believed that it was all that could be secured from the railroad company. It was at this point that the disappearing ordinance came again to haunt the path of the prosecution and the effort was made to show that in its "disappearance" the Mayor and Henderson were acting from pure and lofty motives and for the best interests of the people of the district.

The argument of Attorney Adams, based upon the quotations from the Penal Code cited above, together with the refusal of the court to admit the line of testimony proposed by the prosecution on the grounds that it rebutted something which was not in evidence, put a quietus upon the prosecution's move.

Several rebuttal witnesses remain to be heard, but the case may reach the argumentative stage today.

CASE THROWN OUT.

Neither H. W. Pohlman nor his attorney appeared before Judge Wellborn of the United States District Court yesterday to press the Seattle labor official's claim for witness fees for the time he was in his home city on business, and the case was stricken from the docket. Pohlman came here as a witness before the grand jury, and on leave of absence returned home to attend to business matters. He desired pay for the time he was absent, but the government officials refused the claim, so he took it to court.

Two Illuminating Exhibits in the Henderson Case.

ORDINANCE No. _____
(NEW SERIES)

AN ORDINANCE ORDERING THAT A CERTAIN PORTION OF Alessandro Street in the City of Los Angeles, be closed up, vacated, and abandoned, as contemplated by Ordinance No. 19596 (New Series) of said City.

The Mayor and Council of the City of Los Angeles do ordain as follows:

SECTION 1.—That all that certain portion of Alessandro Street, from Baxter Street to the south city boundary, between _____ and _____ in said City, hereinafter described, be closed up, vacated and abandoned, as contemplated by Ordinance No. 19596 (New Series) of said City, approved January 26 1910, to-wit:

SECTION 2.—That said work is for the closing up of a certain portion of Alessandro Street more particularly described in Section 1 hereof, and it appears to said Council that there are no damages, costs, or expenses arising out of said work, and that no assessment is necessary for said work and therefore no commissioners are appointed to assess benefits and damages for said work and to have general supervision thereof.

SECTION 3.—The City Clerk shall certify to the passage of this Ordinance and shall cause the same to be published once in The Los Angeles Daily Journal, and thereupon and thereafter it shall take effect and be in force.

I hereby certify that the foregoing Ordinance was adopted by the Council of the City of Los Angeles at its meeting of MAR 8 1910

J. H. Sutherland, City Clerk. By [illegible], Deputy.

Geo. Alexander, Mayor.

Here Is the Famous "Disappearing" Ordinance.

It was passed by the City Council March 8, 1910, signed by Mayor Alexander the next day, recalled from the custody of the City Clerk by Frank G. Henderson, Mayor's Clerk, and disappeared. F. E. Evans, and L. R. Warren searched for a trace of the missing document for months and it was finally brought to light in the fall of 1911 in Henderson's desk, where it had been kept a year and a half. Henderson admitted on the stand that he placed it there.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR
CITY OF LOS ANGELES
CALIFORNIA
GEORGE ALEXANDER, MAYOR.

April 18, 1910.

Mr. F. E. Evans,
City.

Dear Sir:

In reply to yours of March 30, 1910, I will say that when the final ordinance vacating Alessandro st., between Sunset Blvd and the northerly city limits, comes before me, I will give the matter very careful consideration, and I thank you for calling my attention to the matter.

Very truly yours,

Geo. Alexander

Facsimile of Alexander's Letter to Evans.

On March 8, and again on March 30, 1910, F. E. Evans wrote to Mayor Alexander asking for information about the Alessandro street vacation ordinance. Each of these letters was acknowledged. Both have disappeared from the files in the Mayor's office, together with accompanying photographs showing the street conditions which it was sought to improve. On April 18, 1910, the Mayor, or Frank G. Henderson, for him, wrote Evans the above letter to the effect that when the ordinance came before the Mayor it would receive his "careful consideration." THE ORDINANCE HAD BEEN PASSED BY THE CITY COUNCIL MARCH 8, 1910, SIGNED BY THE MAYOR ON THE FOLLOWING DAY, AND AT THE TIME THE EVANS LETTER WAS WRITTEN HAD BEEN LYING IN A PIGEON HOLE IN HENDERSON'S DESK FOR SEVERAL WEEKS, THAT IS, WEEKS AFTER HE HAD SIGNED THE LETTER, THE MAYOR WROTE, IN EFFECT, THROUGH HENDERSON, THAT IT HAD NOT COME BEFORE HIM.

Public Service: City Hall, Courts.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

The Board of Public Utilities decided yesterday to recommend to the City Council that it grant a twenty-one-year franchise to the Los Angeles Railway Corporation for an extension of its lines on South Main street to Slauson avenue.

A communication to the City Council was formulated by the Public Utilities Board yesterday, in which it maintains its position that a twenty-one-year freight-carrying franchise for the Pacific Electric lines east of Main street should be granted.

Officers of the Alembic Club announced at the City Hall yesterday that they will circulate referendum petitions if the City Council today grants the San Pedro-street franchise to the Pacific Electric.

A report on Vermont avenue improvement made by Commissioner Humphreys yesterday shows that one of the deeds for widening was executed in Venice, Italy, and another had to be sent to Russia for execution.

A Mexican physician who practiced medicine in this State without a license was placed on probation yesterday by a Superior Court judge, who took occasion to point out some deficiencies in the law and make some suggestions.

TWENTY-ONE YEARS AND TRILBY RAIL.

BOARD'S RECOMMENDATION FOR SOUTH MAIN FRANCHISE.

Believes This Form Is Best for All the Conditions and Circumstances and So Recommends to City Council—Subject Will Go Before Council Today.

The Board of Public Utilities yesterday formulated its report to the City Council on the proposed South Main street railway franchise and this will go before the Council at its session today. The Board recommends a twenty-one-year franchise, providing for the use of the Trilby rail.

The Los Angeles Railway Corporation has notified the Utilities Commission that if such a franchise is offered for sale for Main street from Thirty-sixth Place to Slauson avenue, it will bid on it, provided the property owners will pay for the paving between the rails, as they have publicly indicated they would do.

In its communication to the City Council the Public Utilities Board states that it regrets the city has not yet adopted its model franchise ordinance, which would govern it in deciding the kind of franchise to be offered in this case, and declares:

"There are many reasons why the indeterminate franchise appeals to us as desirable in many, if not in most cases, but we are unable to believe as yet, from such knowledge as we possess, that it is the best franchise for all conditions and circumstances. We are, therefore, compelled to pass upon each application upon its individual merits."

The board recommends the proposed franchise for the reasons that the petition therefor comes from a large and thickly settled portion of the city, which is increasing in population rapidly, and the present unsatisfactory transportation facilities must inevitably grow steadily worse; a car line on South Main street would largely increase the value of property fronting on Main street now hard back by the lack of transportation facilities, and as this street will be the main highway to San Pedro it will in time be built up with business houses.

The board states that the railway company is entitled to a longer-term franchise than other circumstances might warrant because the line begins nearly two miles away from the center of the city and continues away from the city, and therefore its profit-earning possibilities are materially reduced, its traffic will be in a large degree long-distance passengers, with a very small percentage of short distance passengers to reduce the average cost of transportation, and that this is practically an extension of existing lines, not securing the company much volume of new business but rather giving better service to existing patronage.

The board, however, states that when the franchise is drawn it should distinctly stipulate that should the city hereafter purchase or take over the city railway properties, no selling price or values should be placed upon this franchise, as it does not believe the city should grant a term franchise substantially without compensation and later be compelled to purchase it because it has many years to run.

TWENTY-ONE YEARS.
INDORSES TERM FRANCHISE.

The Board of Public Utilities yesterday sent to the City Council its final recommendation on the proposed freight-carrying franchise for the Pacific Electric on its lines east of Main street. The board originally recommended that a twenty-one-year franchise be granted, but this recommendation was sent back with the request that the subject be further considered and that a written statement be sent to the Council as to the reasons for favoring the twenty-one-year franchise if this should be the final conclusion of the board.

The board specifies as its reasons for adhering to its original recommendation the following facts: That the Council has established an industrial district, and it is essential to the growth, permanency and efficiency of such district that it should be supplied with modern buildings, tracks, switches and machinery necessary to enable merchants, jobbers and manufacturers to compete with other cities and sections, and that the largest factor in establishing such permanency of the district is the knowledge that the railroad facilities as now established will not be removed or revoked; that representative business men have appeared before the board and presented positive assertions that the men they represent would hesitate to erect costly and permanent concrete warehouses and other necessary buildings when it is possible that railway facilities now serving them may be changed later, and that the board is desirous of co-operating with the business men in these matters as far as is reasonable and just, because many of them are even now being tempted by business offers of superior facilities and less restrictions from near-by places.

Conference Held Up.

Auditor Wren of the Economic Gas Company appeared before the Public Utilities Commission yesterday morning and presented a letter from his chief, President Lowe, of that company, in which the latter announced that he was leaving for Seattle and had not had time to give attention to the proposed "gentlemen's agreement" between the gas and electric companies to do away with the giving of bonuses, etc. As the meeting between all parties interested was to have been held this morning, and as the Economic Gas Company was the one concern holding out, the board has considered that it is useless to proceed with the conference. Members of the board stated yesterday that they were not inclined to further temporize with public utilities companies that they believe are clearly violating the law by giving considerations in order to secure contracts, and that the whole matter would be put up to the City Attorney for advice as to whether the board should proceed legally against the offending concerns.

May Alter Plans.

At an executive session of the Harbor Advisory Board held yesterday the majority of the members were of the opinion that it may be advisable to change the general plans for the improvement of the Huntington fill so as to comply more closely with the government regulations and the provisions of the contract with the Standard American Dredging Company. The plans approved at a previous meeting called for 1500 feet of wharfage on the west side and 1300 feet on the east side. At a meeting to be held today it is probable the board will decide to eliminate the plans for the present improvement of the east side of the fill and concentrate its work on the west side, completing that with concrete wharves and warehousing of modern construction.

Goes Afar for Deeds.

Commissioner Humphreys of the Board of Public Works has made a detailed report to that body on the various steps that have been taken in the move to improve Vermont avenue, between Sixth and Temple streets, and concludes that it is impracticable for the city itself to undertake to improve such a long stretch of street from the general fund, but recommends that $2000 be expended in surfacing a strip down the center of the street, rolling and oiling the same. The board asks the City Council to make the necessary appropriation and authorize it to proceed with the work. In this connection, the widespread interest in Los Angeles real estate is noted in the item of Commissioner Humphreys's report, detailing the work of securing deeds to property needed in widening Vermont avenue. He states that the last of these deeds was executed in Venice, Italy, and that another had to be sent to Russia for execution.

To Invoke Referendum.

Officers of the Alembic Club stated at the City Hall yesterday that if the City Council grants the Pacific Electric Company the proposed ten-year franchise on San Pedro street, petitions will be at once circulated to invoke the referendum thereon. The club advocates a plan for re-routing of cars, whereby Fifth street will be used largely as a downtown terminal, and claims that this plan would reduce the congestion on Main street and divide the crowds with Spring and Broadway. The proposed franchise will be before the City Council tomorrow.

Pawnbrokers' Ordinance.

The City Prosecutor is preparing an ordinance to regulate the rate of interest that may be charged by pawnbrokers and will submit this to the City Council within the next two weeks. The rate will be limited to 2 per cent. per month and a penalty of $500 for violations will be provided.

Playground Vacation Camp.

All members of the Playground Commission visited the vacation camp in San Gabriel Canyon last Saturday, walking the full fourteen miles from Azusa. The date for the boys' camp having been set ahead five days, the camp for girls was shortened. The first outing for girls will leave Los Angeles on Saturday morning, August 17, returning August 30. A large number of girls have visited the Playground Commission offices at the City Hall and paid for their outing. Several mothers of members of the party will go with their daughters. The girls' camp will be in charge of Mrs. Maud W. Hammond, who is supervisor of girls' work at the public playgrounds.

Bids for Machinery.

The Board of Public Works yesterday opened bids for machinery and appliances to be used for the aqueduct power plants at San Francisquito Canyon amounting to 7,000,000 pounds. Eight bids were received, the lowest being in the neighborhood of $200,000. The contract will be awarded the first of next week. All of the bidders were eastern concerns, and the time required for shipment varies from three to nine months.

Appropriation Reduced.

The Budget Committee of the City Council yesterday decided that but $8000 could be appropriated for the proposed municipal lodging-house and labor bureau, which is only $1000 more than was asked for the employment bureau alone.

Want Tracks Lowered.

A petition to the City Council was filed with the City Clerk yesterday, asking that the Pacific Electric Company be required to lower its tracks on the Long Beach line at Thirty-eighth and Vernon avenues, alleging that the four tracks are now three feet higher than the surrounding streets. The petition is signed by several hundred property owners of that vicinity.

Would Use City Flowers.

Laura Thomas Carter, superintendent of the flower mission department of the W.C.T.U., yesterday sent a letter to Acting Mayor Williams, in which she commended his stand for the distribution of flowers from the parks to hospitals, asylums, etc., and asks that a portion of the flowers be turned over to her department for distribution. She says that she has been in this work for twenty-five years, and her records show that more than 65,000 persons have been given joy and cheer in this way. A Friday flower mission has been started at the Temperance Temple, and arrangements have also been made for a free distribution of flowers by the Wells-Fargo Express Company within a radius of 100 miles from the city, when properly tagged.

LINGO BAR TO GIVING PILLS.

HIS PRACTICE IS IN SPANISH, NOT ENGLISH.

State Board Gets After Mexican Medico Who Has Doctor's Shingle, but No License—Judge Shows Wherein Law Is Deficient and Offers Some Suggestions.

Although it was clearly shown that Dr. Jose A. N. Enriques had practiced medicine without a license and had therefore violated the law, Judge Cabaniss placed him on probation for one year yesterday and took occasion to make a suggestion to the State Board of Medical Examiners which bore directly on the case before him.

Dr. Enriques came from Mexico some time ago and applied to the State board to take the medical examination. He has practiced in Mexico and apparently is well-educated and proficient. He was told that the examinations are in English. As he is not proficient in the English language, Dr. Enriques declined the examinations, but asked that he be examined in his own language. As the law does not provide for this, his request was turned down.

Dr. Enriques began the practice of medicine among his native people in this State, and was soon tripped up by the agents of the State board. It was a flagrant violation of the law, but when the court's attention was called to the fact that Dr. Enriques cannot comply with the law as to taking an examination in the English language, but is otherwise competent to follow his profession, his plea of guilty was accepted with the view of placing him on probation.

Judge Cabaniss said he had no criticism to make against the law governing medical examinations. But like all human legislation, he said it has certain imperfections. In his opinion the law should be modified so as to make it possible for a foreigner who is well-educated in the schools and colleges of his country, to engage in the practice of medicine in this country among his own people, where it is expected he would be better qualified than a practitioner not acquainted with the language of the foreigners.

The State board would be justified, the court thought, in going to the expense of engaging interpreters so that educated and proficient foreigners might have the opportunity of engaging in their profession here.

DETERMINED DEFENSE.
FLOCK OF EYE WITNESSES.

David H. Gates, the first witness for the defense in the trial of J. G. McKinney, charged with manslaughter, went on the stand in Judge Cabaniss's court yesterday afternoon. All told there will be fourteen eye-witnesses to the tragedy near Dominguez Field last January when McKinney's auto is alleged to have struck Richard J. Smith, a Compton farmer, with sufficient force to produce death.

While the witnesses for the prosecution testified Smith stood in front of the auto, holding out his hands in a protesting attitude when he was struck, the defense will endeavor to show that Smith had his back to the machine.

The blow which the prosecution alleges caused death was over the heart, leaving a bruise on the pericardium sac. An important witness for the State yesterday was Dr. Sylvester Gawltney, who, in reply to a hypothetical question covering the alleged facts, stated that in his opinion death was caused by the impact of the auto which was so violent as to stop the action of the heart.

The defense will call experts to show there was no bruise on the heart at the first autopsy. These will be Drs. Campbell, Holcomb and Verbert. The defense will produce evidence to show that the bruise appeared after the autopsy.

FIGHT GOES HIGHER.
SUM, SMALL; PRINCIPLE LARGE.

An echo of a suit tried by Judge Moss two years ago was heard in Judge Craig's court yesterday, when a demurrer to the complaint of the Southern Pacific was argued by Attorneys McKinley and Drake. Although only $1250 is involved, a neat point of law is in dispute.

Edward G. Edmunds, a mail carrier, brought suit against the Southern Pacific for injuries received December 19, 1909, when the mail car in which he was employed was derailed. He asked $20,000 damages. The jury awarded him $5000. It was brought out during the trial that the company had settled with Edmunds for $1250.

In the instructions of the jury it was stipulated by the attorneys that the judgment should not be credited with the $1250. When the company tendered Drake a less amount than the judgment, Drake refused to accept it. The company filed suit against Edmunds to collect the amount he had received in settlement.

Judge Craig sustained the demurrer on the ground that the subject matter of the action had been adjudicated. The Southern Pacific will take an appeal to the Supreme Court.

MUST RAISE SIEGE.
COURT GIVES ULTIMATUM.

Judge Conrey made it clear from the bench yesterday that if men armed with Winchesters are patrolling Millard Canyon, a disarmament must be had, as pending the termination of the water suit between the La Vina corporation and F. W. Ford and Mrs. H. Gill. The litigants must be on a peace footing.

Attorney McKelvey declared the company maintains an armed guard and threatens dire punishment to trespassers. The company contends that the canyon is not in a state of siege. Judge Conrey said he will not pass on this phase of the question, but will confine his attention to the injunction proceedings. After argument the case was submitted.

The La Vina corporation claims title to one-half of the water that flows through the canyon. It maintains a sanatorium in the canyon. The defendants made claim to a prior water right, and desire the water for gold mining claims. The corporation avers the defendants have attempted to destroy its pipes.

SATISFIES COURT.
WITNESS IS CANDID.

The candor of Kenneth Stone, who was cited to the Probate Court to explain how he obtained certain securities from Walter L. Allen, a declared incompetent, was remarked upon by Judge Rives yesterday. Stone frankly detailed the transactions he had had with Allen in the course of business. It seems he had negotiated certain loans for Allen, taking stock as security.

Allen formerly resided at the Hotel Pepper. It was shown that he is not a proper person to care for his property, and a guardian was appointed. The latter believed that some of Allen's securities were not accounted for, and the citation of Stone was in line with the proceeding to trace these securities. Stone's examination showed that his dealings with Allen were ordinary business transactions.

SUES ON TELEGRAM.
PREVENTS COURT ATTENDANCE.

By reason of the alleged delay of the Western Union Telegraph Company in delivering a telegram to S. E. Knapp, general manager of the Hayden Hill Gold Company, who was to testify in a trial pending before the Superior Court of Modoc county, Knapp arrived in the courtroom too late. Judgment was given for $1498.63, including $125.23 costs. The company now seeks to recover the judgment and costs from the Western Union.

The telegram was sent by E. C. Bonner, attorney for the company, notifying Knapp that there would be no continuance of the suit beyond one or two days and asking him to come. Knapp alleges that he gave the Western Union his office address, but seeing the message advertised as undelivered, called at the office of the company for it.

CITY'S ACT LEGAL.
COURT SUSTAINS DEMURRER.

The contention of E. Rabin, who acted as his own attorney, that the city had not served notice when it vacated the alley between Benton boulevard and Rampart street, was thrown out of court yesterday when Judge Bordwell sustained the city's demurrer without leave to amend.

It seems that Rabin held an option on a lot on Benton boulevard. H. W. Bryson waited until the option expired, when he bought the property from the owner. He then exchanged a strip of land for the jog in the alley on his property in order to have a straight boundary line. Rabin brought suit, asking that the alley proceedings be vacated.

Bryson is completing the construction of a large apartment-house on Benton boulevard. The result of the proceedings yesterday throws no hindrance in the way of finishing the building.

OPENS OLD ESTATE.
PAPERS YELLOW WITH AGE.

A final distribution in the estate of Joseph St. Onge, who died in October, 1857, was ordered by Judge Rives yesterday. The papers, yellowed with age, were brought into court for the purpose of proving a clear title to property owned by St. Onge on New High street.

St. Onge bought the lot for about $15. The estate is valued at $7000 today. His wife, Merced St. Onge, was an Indian woman. Three children were born, the survivor being Felicidad St. Onge de Baker, now 65 years old. It was necessary to reopen the papers when Mrs. de Baker obtained a loan to pay for the improvement of Sunset boulevard, as the abstract company desired to know if her title to the property was valid.

IN THE INFERIOR COURTS.

Young Man Who Breaks Arm Trying to Escape from Woman He Has Robbed Held for Burglary.

Frank Williams, 21 years old, who broke his left arm while trying to knock a board off a high fence with his elbow, that he might escape, after he had been cornered in the back yard of Mrs. Mary Winters, No. 921 South Hill street, from whom he had escaped after she had caught him in the act of looting a room, was bound over to the Superior Court yesterday by Police Judge Williams to answer to a burglary charge.

Williams forced an entrance into the Winters's home through a rear door. In one room he found a suit case. Mrs. Winters caught Williams in another room, packing it with clothes. When the young man saw her, he ran into the back yard, closely followed by the woman. She caught him as he was attempting to crawl over a high fence.

Taking Williams by the arm, Mrs. Winters led him into the house intending to telephone for the police. Before she could do it, the young man tripped her up, and while she was recovering her feet, made another break for the back yard.

Mrs. Winters followed, calling loudly for help. Finding he was unable to climb the fence, Williams attempted to knock off a board with his elbow. He pounded too hard and broke the bone between the elbow and shoulder.

Fined for Recklessness.

Robert Gustenhauer, No. 1012 East Ninth street, a truck chauffeur, was fined $10 or ten days by Judge Williams yesterday for failure to report an accident Saturday night.

At First and Main streets he accidently ran a heavy truck into an auto in which Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wells, No. 2108 Manitou avenue, were seated. The impact was sufficient to hurl Mrs. Wells to the pavement. She was not seriously injured.

Gustenhauser admitted in court that he did not stop to see how seriously Mrs. Wells was injured, and that he had failed to make a report to the police.

Fails to Call Doctor.

Earl Tiffany, truck chauffeur for a wholesale hardware house, was held to answer to the Superior Court yesterday by Judge Williams for having neglected to summon medical assistance for John Giavata, a 19-year-old Slavonian, whom he ran over on East First street, near the viaduct, on the 20th inst. The testimony showed that Tiffany took Giavata to the latter's room on East First street. The chauffeur swore that he did offer to get a physician, or take the injured man to a hospital, but others testified to the contrary.

Must Pay or Work for City.

Raymond Capsut, one of the "higher ups" in the local ranks of the I.W.W.'s was fined $10 or ten days by Judge Williams yesterday on conviction of a drunk charge. He was arrested in Sonoratown while creating a disturbance in a Mexican home. Capsut was prominent in the disturbances created several months ago by the I.W.W.'s at San Diego.

ON ITS MERITS LATER.

Preliminary Skirmish in Big Oil Suit Heard Yesterday But Case Is Continued Five Weeks.

The complicated business affairs of T. N. Barnsdale of Pittsburgh, and James C. Yancey and others of this city, involving the partnership once existing between Barnsdale and Yancey in the leasing and selling of about 10,000 acres of oil land in Kern county, were aired in Judge Wellborn's court yesterday in a suit brought by Barnsdale.

By stipulation it was agreed that the case should be taken up on its merits Saturday, August 31, and meanwhile the complainant must give an additional bond of $10,000 to protect the interests of the various defendants.

Another suit against Yancey in San Francisco is for an accounting under the partnership, and G. H. Umbsen was appointed receiver and referee in the case, before whom testimony had been taken. An order was issued restraining the defendants from disposing of property.

The local suit grows out of a business venture of Yancey and Barnsdale in locating and leasing oil lands three years ago. In the complaint it was alleged that Barnsdale had advanced to Yancey at least $10,000 in developing the lands in question, and that he had obligated himself for $100,000 in addition for oil well machinery.

ROAD IMPROVEMENT.

The County Supervisors yesterday took the first step in a pet project of Supervisor Nellis when they voted that the county might furnish rock and oil for the building of a permanent rock road between Whittier boulevard and the city limits of Long Beach. Nellis some time ago pledged the road district itself to stand the remainder of the expense. The Supervisors also signified their willingness to supply rock and oil for the surfacing of Hill street, from California avenue to Cherry avenue.

FOUND NOT GUILTY.

A jury in Justice Forbes's court yesterday returned a verdict of not guilty in the case of H. H. Crouch, charged by Motorcycle Officer Nelson with scorching on the beach road last Fourth of July after it got too dark to see the speedometer. The jury was out three hours and had luncheon at the county's expense. Crouch maintained in his defense that Nelson had followed him half a mile without noting an infraction of the law and then had arrested him when he momentarily speeded up to pass another car.

MORE TROUBLE FOR TUFTS.

Ray J. Barber yesterday filed a complaint in the Justice Court whereby Gorham Tufts, Jr., man of many matrimonal and financial adventures, is made defendant in an action for the recovery of $140 alleged due on a note bearing the date March 21, 1912. Tufts was recently sentenced to three years' imprisonment after trial in the Superior Court on a charge of fraudulent manipulation of his wife's fortune, and is confined in the County Jail.

TO BE EXAMINED LATER.

The examination of Henry Leroy, charged with passing fictitious checks, was continued until tomorrow by Justice Summerfield, yesterday, because of the absence of witnesses for the prosecution. It is alleged that Leroy issued a check for $75 on the Bank of Southern California in which he had no funds.

CHARGE AGAINST JAP.

R. Hayashi, a Japanese, will be examined before Justice Summerfield this morning on a charge of having defaced and obliterated a ticket representing points and credits redeemable in merchandise at the store of J. C. London, who is the complaining witness.

GRAND LARCENY SUSPECT.

L. A. Lindsey, wanted by the Mendocino county authorities on a charge of grand larceny, was arrested yesterday at Glendora by Deputy Sheriff Davidson. Pending the arrival of an officer from the northern county he was placed in the County Jail.

The Oil Industry.

MAY BEAT THE BEAR'S RECORD.

California Oil Output Now Close to Russia's.

La Habra and the Lost Hills Swell the Total.

Two Large Gushers Brought in Simultaneously.

It is likely that the net oil production of California will be nearly 54,000,000 barrels this year. In this case the gross output from this State will exceed that of Russia during her greatest year. The prospects are for a good increase in the daily average for the remainder of the year, owing to the developments in the La Habra field, the Lost Hills and Belridge districts. The La Habra field is a new factor in the oil production of the State, and will probably contribute toward swelling the output for the year.

New Consolidated Gusher.

The M. J., and M. M. Consolidated Oil Company has brought in a big gusher in well No. 10, section 36, 12-24, which flowed 10,000 to 15,000 barrels in less than twenty-four hours before sanding up. The oil shot over the top of the derrick from a hole 3199 feet deep. Efforts to take care of the production are now being rushed.

This well is in one of the richest sections of the Maricopa field. The M. J. and M. M. has a number of good wells and is drilling two more.

The Midway Field Oil Company's well on section 4, 11-23, broke out and flowed at the rate of 5000 barrels of 27.5 gravity oil for ten hours before sanding up. The company was in five feet of the cement the oil burst through. This well was cement-developments while drilling during the course of which the tools were blown out by gas pressure.

Will Try New Territory.

The Traders Oil Company, which has acquired 5000 acres of land near Ventura, is now running one string of tools on [illegible] to be a prospecting well, the holding promising to be good for oil.

The California Counties Oil Company is also drilling a well on the Caiuss ranch, near Ventura.

Field Notes.

It is reported that the Standard Oil Company has had a showing of oil in a well on the Sterns lease in the Coyote Hills sections, also that drilling will soon be recommenced on the Laffingwell hole, which has been shut down, waiting for cement to set, at about 2900 feet.

The Pacific Midway Oil Company has cleaned out and reperforated well No. 1, which has been making 100 barrels, for the purpose of increasing production. A twelve and one-half-inch casing has just been landed in well No. 2, which is down 600 feet. So far the company has been exceedingly successful in using electric power to drill this well, as the expense has only amounted to 8 cents a foot.

Two new wells will soon be started on the property of the Midway Five Oil Company, which was leased to F. E. Schaad July 1. There are already three wells producing on this property lease and two drilling. The property was turned over to Schaad with the understanding that he was to develop it.

It is reported that the General Petroleum is planning ten new rigs in the Bear Creek property, which has recently been acquired.

The Industrial Oil Company is now drilling only one well, having recently sold its property to the West Coast. This well is in the Coyote Hills district and is somewhat west of the Murphy wells and is known as a "conservative wildcat." The district looks promising because the Murphy wells have had a large production, and it is supposed that the same oil strata will be struck by the Industrial.

The Pacific Midway Oil Company is contemplating starting two or three more wells on its holdings in the Midway district before the end of the year.

The Belridge district is the center of a good deal of attention at the present time, and has seen a very rapid development. Many of the wells in this section are brought in at a very shallow depth, and have yielded an excellent flow of oil. The Belridge Oil Company is now running three strings and the wells will probably come in after twelve or fifteen days drilling, so shallow is the stock. The production of this company's wells at the present time is a little better than 1000 barrels. Other companies are also carrying on very active development work in the Belridge region.

Well No. 8 of the Amalgamated Oil Company in the La Habra district is in oil sand at 3032 feet, and No. 10 is 3285. Two wells on the West Coast property, in the Olinda district, are in oil sand at 2885 and 3110 feet. The Aroturus well No. 148, which is a wildcat, is drilling in brown shale at 2921.

The Associated Oil Company spudded in well No. 63 on the Del Monte leases, in the McKittrick field, and the following day began to land a twelve-inch casing.

The German-American Oil Company is about to spud in well No. 1, on section 18, 29-22, on the North McKittrick front.

The Tight Wad Oil Company, on section 35, 32-23, has brought in well No. 8 with a production of 250 barrels a day. This well was perforated at 1305 feet.

It is reported that the Standard will put up a standard rig on section 8, 32-20, and another on section 19, 29-21, in the newly-acquired property of the company in the Belridge district. Section 8 is ten miles northwest of the Belridge Oil Company's property and section 19 four miles.

The Coalinga Midland well No. 1 has reached a depth of 1620 feet in six and five-eighths-inch casing. The company is following the log of the K. Z. and O. well, which struck oil and at 1882 feet a short distance away. The Midland expects to reach the sand within fifty feet of the present depth.

TO POLITICAL ADVANTAGE.

Candidate for Office Evicts Disorderly Men from Dance Hall, Uses Fact in Campaign, Alleged.

A second lively fight over the proposed revocation of the Point Firmin dance hall license, held by G. H. Peck, a wealthy realty operator of San Pedro, was staged before the Board of Supervisors yesterday, when Peck appeared with attorneys and witnesses to defend himself against charges preferred in complaints recently brought before the board.

Mrs. W. L. Weldon, an officer of the State and County Humane Associations, led the opposition, maintaining that disorderly conduct and the illegal sale of liquor make the place, which is beyond the city's jurisdiction, a menace to public morals.

Attorneys Post and Steiglitz for Peck, put witnesses on the stand to controvert these assertions. Peck testified he had known nothing of improprieties at the place, and that he would not imperil realty interests he values at $500,000 dollars by establishing an improper resort as an advertisement.

John Makins, secretary of the Sailors' Rest at San Pedro, caused a mild sensation when he charged Peck with having evicted disorderly tenants from premises owned by him, just before election time, and asking the support of reform politicians on the strength of this action.

"And he was the Good Government candidate for Trustee at the time," said Supervisor Nellis, with a smile.

Supervisor Manning wanted to withdraw the license, but Nellis wished merely to oust Peck's manager, Joseph Boughton, and be assured that his successor would run a clean place. The others voted a continuance.

CHICKENS GET AUTO RIDE.

Squawking Fowls, Stolen From Hen Roost, Awaken Neighbors, But Miscreant Escapes.

The "auto chicken-thief" has made another raid. This time he stole ordinary hens Sunday night from a coop in the rear of the Fairchild grocery store, at State street and Brooklyn avenue. About two weeks ago, he visited three poultry runs on Boyle Heights and stole more than a gross of highly-bred hens. The squawking of the hens, in the latest raid, awakened the neighbors, but the thief escaped before the number of the machine or a description of the man could be secured.

Oscar Stack, No. 1417 Griffith avenue, reported to the police yesterday that Sunday night, while boarding a car at Venice he was "jammed" by a couple of men. Later he discovered that his pocket had been picked of $25 and two checks drawn in favor of his wife on the First National Bank of Fresno.

Six men "strong-armed" Otis Hopkins of No. 1431½ North Main street, late Sunday night near Naud Junction, and robbed him of his watch and $6, according to a report he made yesterday to police detectives.

RIG DINUBA DEAD.

DINUBA, July 29.—The marked activity in the lands adjacent to Dinuba is evidenced again this week by the purchase, from San Francisco parties, of 640 acres of fruit land, by Allan B. Bevans and Leslie B. Bevans of Los Angeles and A. W. Wise of Pomona. While the purchase price is not given, it is understood that it is in the neighborhood of $100,000. It is the intention of the new owners to hold a portion of the tract for improvement and subdivide and sell the remainder in twenty and forty-acre tracts.

PLAN TO HAVE ONLY ONE 'PHONE SYSTEM.

THE directorate of the American Merchants' Syndicate, twenty in number, decided last evening to inaugurate at once an agitation for one telephone system for this city. The meeting was held at the headquarters of the syndicate, No. 236 South Los Angeles street.

After the meeting it was announced by J. F. Paulding, president of the syndicate, that twenty canvassers will set out this morning with petitions to obtain signatures of patrons of the Home and Pacific telephones.

The plan is to ask the City Council to enact legislation which will require either a consolidation of the two companies, an exchange system that would do away with the necessity of renting both phones to get both services, or the giving of the exclusive right to do business to one company or the other.

Paulding said it is expected the work of getting signatures will require about sixty days, at the end of which time the signers will hold a mass-meeting and decide which company shall continue in business, if it comes to a question of elimination. Signers who can't attend this mass-meeting may express their preference by letter.

"The American Merchants' Syndicate has 2000 members in Los Angeles who are tired of the two-phone system," Paulding declared. "The syndicate has six telephones and forty-six extensions in its offices—twice as many phones and extensions as are really needed. We are tired of paying for two services. The syndicate doesn't care which company continues in business, so long as one is eliminated."

World of Dreams.

STRANGEST ROMANCES END WITH THIS LIFE.

THE funeral services over the remains of Prof. J. H. Von Keith yesterday morning at 9:30 o'clock in the Dexter Samson parlors closed the last earthly chapter of a career of singular freedom and exceptional romance. Rev. Will A. Knighten paid a glowing tribute to the well-known California landscape painter, and many friends paid the respect of their presence to one who, through a life of seventy-seven years, had walked much apart from men in a world of his own dreams. The remains were laid away in Evergreen Cemetery.

Von Keith was born in the shadow of Harvard campus and graduated from that university when still in his teens. Then he went to New York and engaged in business with almost sensational success, although his heart was never in the affairs of the world, and even the fortune he then amassed and the ones he acquired later seemed to have been snatched out of the very air. Always he held his money in such extravagant disregard that it melted as snow in the sun.

FORSAKING A WORLD.

Perhaps the strangest romance of his life was a chapter that to nearly all who knew him was ever closed. He did the strangest of all things in that he deliberately shut out one life that he had built for himself and began a new life without losing his personal identity by loss of memory or by any trick of the brain. The strange wild thing that he did was a step that he took out of some purpose which only he himself knew, and after which he never offered the world either an explanation or an apology. He had built for himself a beautiful home—a mansion—on the Hudson River, close to New York. One day his wife and himself boarded a New York steamer, bound for New Orleans, and for twenty years that was the last heard of him by those who had known him before. He never closed his bank account, he never rented or sold his property, or made any provisions for the care of his estate, which was never recovered by himself or his family. He seems to have been simply weary of business life and to have wanted freedom and art, utterly unhampered by a breath from the world upon which his back was turned.

Twenty years after that mysterious disappearance from a successful business and a lovely residence, he was heard from as a struggling painter in Germany, where he had married his second wife, who became his great chum and his constant companion. These two seemed mated for the same world of dreams, and life held for them all the colors and changes of a kaleidiscopic existence. They came to California in 1882, and while he had ever since been engaged in painting still life in the West, and had made a glowing reputation for the beauty of his work and its copious abundance, he nevertheless made many strange turns in business, which were so completely out of the ordinary run of affairs that no conventional or conservative man would have entertained any one of them for a moment.

MAKES MONEY OF BONES.

Some of his plans were, of course, utter vagaries and came to naught. Once he found a great deposit of the bones of monster fishes on some Mexican strand, from which the waters had long ago receded, and these bones he shipped by the ton and by the carload to a California sugar company's plant, where they were used in the refining process. From the sale of this singular commodity he realized a handsome sum.

Another time he took a tract of apparently worthless land in Arizona, put the Indians to work stripping it of a peculiar shrub that he found there, and sold it to a California tannery for tanning purposes, and he made money from this. Once he realized something from bat guano, which he found in Arizona and Mexican caves, and he once sold several wagonloads of wild honey, which he took from caves in the mountains of a wilderness country. Another time he had a plan, which never materialized, for gathering seagull eggs by the thousands and hundreds of thousands and extracting their heavy yield of albumen.

At intervals during several years he endeavored to perfect a certain glass apparatus, which, placed in high altitudes, should extract the honey from the atmosphere. This saccharine substance gathers upon leaves and is known as honey dew. This process was a success as an experiment, but never was carried out in commercial proportions.

He built a fine residence on a hilltop in Los Angeles, and when it was completed he locked its doors and took his gentle companion to Arizona, where they spent many years on the desert and in small towns, studying the Indians, resting in the vast silences, revelling in the glow of their incomparable desert skies and painting or dreaming as the mood might seize them.

His late years were filled with pain, as a malignant cancer developed, but even in the pain of his body his mind was always full of peace, and he greeted his friends with a gladness that had about it the glow of youth. Up to within six weeks of his death he dragged himself about the streets with a canvas under one arm and that far-away look in his dimmed eyes, which is the look of a man who already sees another country.

Wealth and want were inconceivable to him, and neither was ever within his conscious experience, although, as the world thinks about things, he often touched the high tide of one and the low ebb of the other. He loved to relate the romances of his days, and would speak with charming frankness of all the experiences which life had brought him.

An announcement was sent from Lissner's headquarters on Saturday night that the Roosevelt Progressive League had adopted resolutions indorsing the candidacy of some thirty named men for legislative office. It was thoughtful to send the indorsement to The Times, but this column had already published the fact that Lissner, in person, and, as the committee of fifteen, had already indorsed these men, after selecting them with care from those who would promise to do exactly as he or Johnson bade them to do. Why, then, should Lissner want the Watchman to say that Lissner, in his capacity as the Roosevelt Progressive League, has indorsed the men that Lissner, in his other capacities, has picked out as serviceable to himself and to Johnson? Many of them grow petulant every time the fact that Lissner has indorsed them is mentioned at all, and it is really mean to rub it in.

Yesterday was the last day for the filing of nomination papers by candidates for the Board of Supervisors and for Superior Judge. Elections for the Board of Supervisors will take place in the Second, Fourth and Fifth districts, now represented, respectively, by H. D. McCabe, C. J. Nellis of Sawtelle and R. W. Pridham of South Pasadena, each of whom is a candidate for re-election. There are five judges to be elected, and there are twenty-seven candidates for the places, including four of the judges whose terms will expire next January.

The county convention of the Prohibitionists was held yesterday at the corner of Temple street and Broadway. Through the oversight or neglect of those having the campaign in the State in charge, the majority of the county leaders did not know that they were entitled to a separate party ballot at the primary. To make the best of a situation that might have been better, the leaders will place their candidates on the ticket in November by petition. Yesterday they selected as candidates for Congress George S. Yarnell in the Ninth District and Emory D. Martindale in the Tenth. There will also be candidates for every legislative district. In the Eleventh District, Mrs. Helen Stoddard of La Mesa, a noted temperance worker, formerly of Texas, will have her name on the primary ballot, as she circulated her petitions for that purpose.

Raymond Heffelfinger is trying to find the answer to the famous old question: "If so soon I was to be done for, whatever was I ever begun for?" There he stands, Lissner candidate in the Seventy-fifth Assembly District, with his papers officially receipted for at Sacramento. And there stands Lyman Farwell, also Lissner candidate in the Seventy-fifth, with his papers officially accepted at Sacramento. Lissner, however, has kicked over Heffelfinger and gone back to Farwell. The names of both will appear on the ballot. It is hard, and the worst of it is that there is no way out of it. Yesterday an effort was made to see what could be done, but there was not a thing. The two have to remain on the ballot and cut each other's throats, politically, while R. W. Richardson, the regular candidate, just walks in. Incidentally, the Lissner headquarter's managers are bewildered and perplexed.

In plain English, they are so mixed that they do not know what they are doing.

They nearly left W. D. Stephens off the ticket, it appears, and if County Clerk Lelande had not notified the Congressman himself it is probable that Stephens would never have known the pleasure of running again. As it is, though, he is going to taste defeat, as his closest friends admit, for they do not look for him to win against Col. W. H. Holabird. The latter is letting no grass grow under his feet. He is out conducting a systematic campaign already.

G. W. Wyllie, father of the local option law, and anxious to return to Sacramento as Assemblyman from Tulare county, has learned how it feels to fall between two stools. Wyllie thought he was out for Congress until he discovered that nothing could defeat Needham. Then he changed his mind and resolved to run for Sacramento. In the meantime, however, Ward Rush and James Burke had come to the front, and they do not show any signs of withdrawing. Between the two candidacies, therefore, Wyllie is likely to get nothing.

THE WATCHMAN.

Federal Officials Are Looking After the Welfare of Red Men with Moving Picture Concerns.

SANTA MONICA, July 29.—An investigation is being made by Federal officials and the local police, into the giving or selling of liquor to Indians in the employ of the motion picture companies operating in and to the north of this city.

Many noble reds have been found in an advanced stage of intoxication within the past week. The case of William Eagle Eye, who was arrested last night, and came before Police Judge Carillo this morning on the charge of drunkenness, brought the eye of Uncle Sam's officers to bear upon the situation. William Eagle Eye is a tall, well-built brave, with hair reaching a foot below his shoulders. He promised to go back to his film-making and never touch fire-water again.

It is said that Eagle Eye gave a United States marshal the names of the persons who have been furnishing him and his fellows with liquor. Liquor dealers in this city knowing the enormity of the offense of selling or giving Indians intoxicants, warn the aborigines to leave their places when they enter, and it is the belief of the authorities that somewhere in a northern canyon there is a blind pig operating.

Infantile paralysis has made its appearances in this city, and Mayor Dow, his attention having been called to the fact by the health officer, has made an investigation and will recommend that the strictest measures be taken to prevent the spread of the dread malady. There are four cases of the disease in this city, and one in Venice, when a month ago, there was not a case on the bay. All these cases have been carefully quarantined, and the health officer may forbid the gathering of children in any building.

NEWS BRIEFS.

William Richards, retired inventor of note, died at his summer home, No. 234 Pacific street, early this morning. He was 77 years of age, and leaves only his daughter, Mrs. Cora A. Howards, his wife having passed away three years ago. Deceased came to Los Angeles five months ago from Maine, and recently moved to this city. Richards gained fortune and fame by many electrical inventions, notable among which are the electro-radiator much used by physicians. He was a man of strong mentality and retained the use of his faculties to within a day of his death.

Mrs. May Van Orman, wife of J. T. Van Orman, who resides at No. 1327 Euclid avenue, died last evening at the family residence. Besides the widower, she leaves a daughter, Emily. Van Orman was a director in the National Bank of Santa Monica, and is well known in business circles. Mrs. Van Orman was 71 years of age.

A LOSING FIGHT.

The Grand Junction (Colo.) preacher who talked about old maids certainly stirred up a hornet's nest. In the first place, in these modern days there are no old maids. An unmarried woman is a bachelor woman. In the second place, the famous old maids of history are much better than the famous affinities of history and have accomplished much more than they might have done had they been handicapped with the management of weak husbands.

RESPONSIBILITY.

A Chicago woman blames five saloons of that city because her husband is a drunkard. The United States will investigate rumors that individuals in the United States may be responsible for the war in Mexico. Persons are always suing companies for injuries they received while in the service of those companies. The world evades itself. Men dodge themselves. No one wants to face the responsibility and the results of his own conduct, yet life goes forward, holding each to account in what Mr. Wells has called that little game of consequences.

REGULATING TOLLS.

Great Britain suggests that our right to regulate the business of a canal built with our own money across our own territory is a matter that should be submitted to The Hague tribunal, every member of which is interested for his government in deciding against us.

"Will you walk into my parlor," said the spider to the fly;
"'Tis the prettiest little parlor that ever you did spy."

The next diplomatic move in order will be to have the rate of tolls on the Erie Canal in New York fixed by a Board of Arbitrators representing the wheat growers of Ohio, Michigan, Illinois and Wisconsin.

THE MATCH.

A visiting educator praises Los Angeles schools because she says they teach children to create. This they do not and cannot do, but they encourage the latent power of the children. They inspire endeavor along original lines. They furnish opportunity and they develop creative ability. All external forces and encouragement are only the matches which light the fuel within. Even medicine to a sick man is only the match which ignites his own powers of resistance and his own constructive forces. Striking a match at the right time makes the flame, but men themselves contain the fuel. Manhood is the temple of the prepared altar on which the sacred fires of genius might and should be forever burning.

BUSINESS GENIUSES.

The popular belief that genius is, as a rule, destitute of business sense; that inventors, poets, painters and musicians do not know enough about the practical affairs of life to come into the house when it rains, is not sustained by the facts. McCormick, Howe, Bell, Westinghouse and Hoe accumulated great fortunes, and Edison is reputed to be a multi-millionaire, so adroit and successful in financial combinations that he has repeatedly made Wall street sit up and take notice.

Fielding, and Pope, and Johnson, and Goldsmith may have made their homes in garrets, but Dickens, and Thackeray, and Meade, and Tennyson, and Stevenson, and Longfellow, and Lowell occupied mansions. Rubens and Michelangelo may have died poor, but it was not so with Bierstadt and Hill. Patent laws have aided inventors, and copyright laws have protected authors. If copyright can be extended to the "records" of singers a hundred thousand Victrolas would give Caruso royalties that would make the income of Schwab seem insignificant in comparison.

KILLING A BUGABOO.

When the Japanese farmers in Mexico lodged a complaint with the Japanese Ambassador in Mexico City to ask the United States to intervene and end the Mexican rebellion they took a stand of good moral effect, although they have taken it too late, perhaps, to make it practical in results. The same request made months ago, had it been acted upon favorably by the Japanese Ambassador, might have been a material influence with Washington. The position of the Japanese destroys the absurd proposition that Japan would have resented the interference in Mexico and would have taken advantage of such a situation to strike at the United States. The powers should long ago have agreed on some line of action in the face of the Mexican emergency, and have left it to the United States to execute the policy thus agreed upon.

"COPPER, 17 3-4."

Copper 17¾. These brief words in the market quotations will mean much to thousands of miners and stockholders in copper mining companies who, through years of discouragement, have managed to hold on to their properties. In 1905 copper was manipulated by the copper trust to a price of 24 cents per pound. As a consequence the use of copper lessened and new enterprises based upon cheaper copper were abandoned. Copper fell with a sudden slump to 13 cents per pound, and there it remained for long weary years. Only those mines the ore of which was rich enough, with economical treatment, to make it profitable to produce refined copper at 13 cents per pound, continued operations, and in these the output and the dividends were materially decreased.

The projectors of enterprises which would have proved profitable with copper at 15 to 18 cents, but which could not be conducted except at a loss with copper at 24 cents, were slow about proceeding with their plans, even after the fall to 13 cents, for fear that copper would be again cornered and its price advanced.

The fall in price caused a reduced production. Stocks of ingot copper which had been accumulated by the copper trust during the era of forcing and holding prices above 30 cents were sufficient, with decreased production, from high-grade ores, to supply the decreased demand. These accumulated stocks have now been disposed of. The inauguration of new industrial works and the resumption of operations in enterprises which had been suspended when copper was forced to 24 cents caused consumption to lead production, and the result has been to elevate prices, not suddenly but generally, from 13 cents to 17¾ cents.

The demand for copper now exceeds the supply, and, as a result, new mines are being opened and old ones reopened. Smelters long idle and dismantled are being re-equipped and put in operation, and the outlook for the producers of the tawny-colored metal is now most favorable and promises a long season of prosperity to copper producers.

This is not the first time that the copper industry has suffered vicissitudes. In 1880 Lake Superior copper was 25 cents per pound in New York. In 1886 it had fallen to 9 4-5 cents. In the thirteen years from 1872 to 1885 the increase in the copper product of the world was 97 per cent. In the United States the increase from 1879 to 1885 was nearly 47 per cent., while the increase in production was from 32,000 tons in 1879 to 74,068 tons in 1885.

The result following the great fall in the price of copper in 1886 was that the Montana Copper Company, with an annual product of 5,000,000 pounds, entirely suspended operations, and the Anaconda Company, with an annual product of 34,000,000 pounds, shut down twenty out of twenty-eight furnaces and discharged most of its hands at the mines. In Germany the great Mansfeld mine, which reported gross profits in 1884 of 5,675,000 marks, sustained a loss in 1885 of 653,338 marks. In the years 1881-83 the great San Domingo mine in Portugal paid annual dividends of 12½ per cent. In 1885 the annual rate was reduced to 3¾ per cent.

In 1887 the Societe des Metaux of France, with an immense capital, started to "corner" the copper market and advance prices. For a time it succeeded and in three months it advanced the price of copper 100 per cent., with a corresponding advance in the shares of copper-mining companies. But, like all artificial endeavors to interfere with the operations of the immutable laws of supply and demand, that of the Societe des Metaux failed, and in 1889 the company "went broke" and carried down with it one of the largest banking institutions of Paris—the Comptoir d'Escompta.

The total production of the copper in this State in 1909 was 32,864 tons. Of this 29,233 tons came from Shasta county, 2719 tons from Calaveras county and 513 tons from all the rest of the State.

The increase in the copper production of Arizona had been phenomenal. In 1911 the copper production of Arizona was 149,803 tons, of Montana 142,121 tons, and of Lake Superior 110,700 tons.

Seventeen and three-quarters cents for copper will mean great prosperity for companies operating in Arizona and the Arizonans will buy machinery and supplies in Los Angeles and come here instead of going to Paris to expend the dividends.

FRIENDS OF LABOR.

No party that ever existed in this country has ever been more active and determined in preserving the rights and promoting the interests of labor than the Republican party. It was organized for that purpose. It was recruited from the ranks of labor. It antagonized the extension of slave labor into free territory. It accepted the wager of battle tendered by southern capitalists who demanded the nationalization of a system which made a chattel of labor. It won the fight for freedom with an army composed principally of hand laborers. It established and maintained a system of protection for labor. Its escutcheon is unstained by a single act of treachery to labor, or indifference to its needs. It has ever frowned upon any proposition for class legislation that would discriminate against labor or divide the masses into classes. The men who preach the doctrine of discontent to the workers of the land are men upon whose hands no handle of hoe or hammer ever left a blister. They brawl and bawl about "predatory wealth," and "grinding corporations," and "big business," and "special privileges," but they ride in autos, and dine at big hotels, and wear diamond pins in their silk four-in-hands, all at the expense of the labor that they flatter and deceive and misguide.

It is those who preach labor and do not practice it; it is those who labor not with their hands, but with their jaws; it is those whose labor consists in yowling upon the street corners who are the foes of labor, and not the capitalists who—with some exceptions—are the friends and not the enemies of labor.

What a senseless howl is that of the Socialists, especially in Los Angeles. Is there a craftsman of any trade at work in this city whose wages do not enable him to occupy comfortable quarters, eat plenty of the best quality of food, clothe his family, educate his children, read newspapers, books and periodicals and indulge in the use of what some people call "soul-destroying" tobacco

Bread for the World.

THE GREELEY FIASCO.

Voters who are only on the threshold of age will remember the campaign of 1872, when Horace Greeley swept the country up to the first Monday in October, and on the first Tuesday in November was swept out of sight, being defeated by Grant by more than three-quarters of a million votes. In the electoral college that year Grant had 286 votes, and the Greeley strength which voted for B. Gratz Brown for Vice-President (Greeley having died after the election) had but 47 votes.

In many respects the campaign of 1872 was similar to the present one. "Progressive" Republicans bolted the convention that nominated Grant and organized a "Liberal" Republican party that nominated Horace Greeley for President. Many of the great Republican leaders of the day—notably Charles Sumner, Carl Schurz and John F. Farnsworth—joined the "Liberal" Republican party. Then the Democrats indorsed Greeley, and the country for two months surged with an anti-Grant movement that threatened the hero of Appomattox quite as seriously as the Roosevelt movement threatens our wise and loyal President. State after State in the October elections went over to the Greeley party, and it looked as if the Tribune philosopher was ticketed for the White House.

A month later the insurgent wave had spent its force. The common sense of the people resumed sway. Five hundred thousand Democrats stayed away from the polls. The "Liberal" Republicans who were "going" to vote for Greeley concluded on reflection to stay by the old party, and Grant received 581,999 votes more in 1872 than he received in 1868, while Greeley received only 124,466 more votes than were cast for Seymour.

The marvel is that Greeley received as many votes as he did. Democratic meetings that year were of the temperature of the North Pole before it was undiscovered by Cook and Peary. A Republican spellbinder of abolition antecedents who had been lured into the "Liberal" Republican party by his admiration for Horace Greeley was addressing a Greeley meeting composed chiefly of Democrats. He enumerated leading statesmen who had left the Republican party to advance the cause of Greeley. After mentioning several names he said: "And there is that great statesman and orator, that noblest Roman of them all—Charles Sumner——" He paused, but there was no applause. "Mutfrends," said he in a grieved voice, "in the present state of political affairs it is the proper thing for a Democratic audience to cheer at the mention of the name of Charles Sumner."

The audience laughed, but it declined to cheer, and the speaker proceeded with his remarks uninspired by any tumultuous response to his arguments.

FREEDOM.

J. H. Von Keith died in Los Angeles last Friday night and there passed from among men a great dreamer and one who was singularly free. His declaration came more singularly than that of most men. He was very old when he died, so that in 1857 he was already a grown man. In that year he declared his freedom with the boldness of Gustama, who stole forth from his palace with fragrant night winds in his face and, renouncing love and empire, rode into the desert alone with only a begging bowl in the hands that had swayed India with a scepter. Von Keith, who was already an artist, owned a beautiful home on the Hudson close to New York. He had money in the bank; he had friends and position. Walking down to the river bank with his wife, they boarded a steamboat and sailed for New Orleans. They made no farewell; they drew no money from the bank; they did not even lock the doors of their own home, and they became to the world that knew them as those who are dead. Von Keith never wrote and he never returned. The old world fell away from him and entered the new. He had committed no crime; he was involved in no scandal; he was simply a free soul, aware of himself and co-expansive with the universe. When the few who remembered him heard of his being alive twenty years afterward they said he was insane. From their standpoint this was true. He was out of order, but only out of their order. When he left their realm he entered his own because he was simply taking a step, and he was taking it consciously. All of his life as an artist he moved with this freedom in his world of dreams. When want threatened him he formed those favorable combinations in his dream world which brought him worldly goods, and when he was satisfied he turned his back upon fortune to move again in the dawn and sunset of his dreams. Once he built a little palace on a hilltop in Los Angeles and then, locking its door, he took the wife that he loved and the two lost themselves in the great silence and pure knowing of an Arizona desert for five years. This is not a life that men may understand, nor one that many would care to emulate, but it was a life of perfect freedom and perfect trust, and always this dreaming artist had a heart of love and his days were filled with peace. Thus did he approximate the faith that never asks.

CAUSE OF HIGH AND LOW PRICES.

"The immutable law of economic science is that when the production of any article increases in excess of current market demand prices will decline. When production is checked by storms, drouth, pestilence, extremes of temperature, wars, business combinations, excessive taxation or political misrule or disturbances—prices will advance; and, between these extremes of influence, prices will fluctuate in accordance with the progressive changes in circumstances, and the hopes and fears of producers, exchangers, and consumers." The diminution of farm production coupled with the increase in the population of towns and cities has caused an increase in the prices of food staples. The increase in production of petroleum and the increased use of electric light lowered the cost of coal oil. The additional sugar production of Hawaii and the enlarged area of beet culture reduced the price of sugar. The levying by Brazil of an export duty on coffee doubled the cost of that breakfast-table staple. Diminished production of rice has increased its price. New processes, new machinery and changes from grain farming to dairy farming lessened the price of cheese. Cotton goods and steel goods are lower because of inventions in machinery, and many manufactured articles are higher because of increase in the wages paid to workmen.

Some trusts have decreased the price of goods because of lessened cost of manufacture. Others have increased prices by combinations. It will be found on an examination and comparison of former and present prices that the tariff has very little to do with the cost of any article of general use.

IN COURT WITH DIRTY HANDS.

Mr. Hilles, who is in charge of the Taft campaign, has rendered the Republican party and fair-minded American citizens of all parties an important service by the clear and fearless way in which he has challenged the wild cry of fraud practiced in the securing of Mr. Taft's nomination.

There is a legal aphorism wrought out by years of experience in courts of justice to the effect that the plaintiff who comes into court must come with clean hands. It is a bit of legal wisdom crystallized out of the experience of the world covering many past ages. It contains at its heart the very essence of judicial wisdom and of fundamental justice.

The man who comes into court to plead an offense against a fellow-man must appear there with a just cause honestly brought forward on his own account, or in behalf of humanity. If he comes into court tainted with corrupt purposes and seeking judgment against another in an unjust way he is properly thrown neck and crop out of court.

Let us present a suppositious case. A plaintiff alleges that some person has been guilty of stealing or attempting to steal his property. If the defendant can show that the property does not belong to the plaintiff, but that said plaintiff was caught in the act of purloining some other person's property and that he (the defendant) merely interfered to stop the theft, does not the case naturally fail? That is what is meant in the plaintiff being under the necessity of appearing in court with clean hands.

That is exactly what Col. Roosevelt is doing, and that is what he is backed in by every person who stands by him; and furthermore, that is why he has been repudiated by many of his own best friends and sincere advocates of the cause which he espouses, not for the cause's sake, but in order that he, T. R., may land for the third term in the President's chair in the executive mansion at the city of Washington.

He comes into the court with his hands reeking with attempted injustice. He was caught at the window where delegates were lodged, the property of the regular Republican party, attempting to break in and steal what did not belong to him.

These are not our allegations, nor the allegations of Mr. Taft, of his managers or of any regular Republican in the country. They are the confessions of Mr. Roosevelt and his pre-convention boosters. Shamelessly at the very outset of these contests, when those from the State of Alabama were called and Col. Roosevelt's own adherents voted against the claims falsely set up by his managers, Col. Roosevelt jerked the list out of his pocket, which proved that he and his backers knew that the contests were founded on nothing, a flimsy pretext to mislead the public mind, perhaps a half-hopeless attempt to steal the Alabama delegation.

In any court of justice in America a case on such palpable, such gross and openly-acknowledged attempts at deception and fraud would throw the plaintiff out of court.

HARD ON THE PROSPECTOR.

The Pinchotic policy has been and is bringing evil results to the prospector, and is, conjoined with other causes, driving from his labors the pioneer who, with a burro and a pair of blankets, a pick, a shovel, a few pounds of dynamite and a heart of hope, has done more to develop the wealth and progress of the Rocky Mountains and Pacific Coast States than all the forest rangers that ever graduated from an eastern college into a government job.

The mineral land laws of the United States invite the prospector to go upon the public domain and find an auriferous quartz claim, if he can. The Supreme Court of the United States held in Chambers vs. Harrington (115 U. S.) that a miner might make a valid location upon the mineral lands of the United States, that his own judgment must guide him in determining whether the land was mineral or not. He risked his time and his labor upon his judgment. If the land was mineral he owned his location. If it was non-mineral the United States lost nothing, although the prospector lost much.

And now comes a Pinchotic appointee to the forest reserve force. He is fresh from Yale or Harvard. He can translate Homer from the original Greek, but he does not know quartz from hornblende. He knows—in his own estimation—more than God did at his age. He ranges over the reserve. He takes a seat on the miner's dump pile, lights a cigarette, turns over a piece of limestone with the toe of his patent leather boot, fingers a gold pin in his four-in-hand and says to the miner: "Your judgment is erroneous. This is not mineral land. Pack up your belongings and get out of here. You are trespassing on a forest reserve."

What can the prospector do? He could stand off a jumper, but he cannot fight the United States. The entire forest reserve corps is behind this autocratic young dude, and there is nothing behind the miner but his pick and a small outfit of bacon and beans. Of course he can go to the nearest land office—if the walking is good. He can go to the courts which, like sick oysters, are always open—to men with bank accounts, or he can follow the directions of the forest ranger and go to a place where the climate is too sultry to be salubrious.

He goes away, and after he is gone maybe some friend of the ranger will take his place, and find rich ore, and the friend will organize a mining corporation, and the ranger will get a block of the stock.

BIG BUSINESS.

Once in a great while the melon crop of Southern California comes under the shadow of unfortunate combinations and planters have little or no profit to show for their outlay. This year the melon crop in Imperial Valley alone has been worth nearly $3,000,000. Life is a game of averages and the farmer of all men must figure that way.

Another illustration of life's averages is brought to the public eye by a San Diego mother who had to write two letters last week to two of her sons. One of these boys was in jail for a despicable offense; the other had made the most sensational and interesting aeroplane flight of the year. In a single week life had brought this mother a great sorrow and a great joy. It is the average which counts with individuals, with communities, with nations and with the world. One incident may appear as a triumph and another as defeat, but men cannot see life until they read it as a serial.

UNCLE WALT.

The Poet Philosopher.

His clothes are loud, his necktie red, his hat far back upon his head, his hair profusely banged; and rather than get down to tacks and work with men who strain their backs he says he will be hanged. Brass jewelry his bosom frets; he smokes the cheaper cigarettes, and plays a hand at pool; the latest ragtime song he sings, and knows a raft of useless things he never learned at school. He knows how many rounds it took the great John Sullivan to cook Tug Wilson, years ago; and he can tell you, by the watch, how long it took the farmer Gotch to lay the Frenchman low. He knows the story of the steed which broke all records by its speed 'way back before the wars; and he has soaked his scrambled brains with facts concerning aeroplanes and yachts and motorcars. Alas, his ignorance is dense, when asked the way to build a fence or work a patent churn; he never planted peas or trees—such useless, trifling things as these he never tried to learn. The things to which he'd turn his hand are things for which there's no demand—his knowledge has no sale; and so he makes his penny bets and smokes his spinach cigarettes before the village jail. Some foolish damsel at his side one day goes forth to be his bride, and, having made the splice, she buckles down with mop and tub to make a living for a dub too cheap to have a price.

Have You a List of the 77 Correct Booklovers' Titles?

It is the greatest aid you could get in Solving those pictures.

I want one of The Times Booklovers' catalogues that will get me that fine $1750 automobile," a contestant wrote in yesterday, with an order for a contest catalogue.

That is the way about all The Times assistants seem to feel. By getting a catalogue, the contestant brings to his home all the aid the book stores and libraries could give you in solving the pictures, and more—for from this catalogue all the seventy-seven titles represented by the seventy-seven pictures in The Times Booklovers' Contest are selected.

And with each catalogue, remember, seven certificates, redeemable for the first thirty-five pictures, are given—free. If you want all the pictures that have been published thus far, you can get them all, free, in exchange for these free certificates, and have enough certificates left over to get twenty-seven additional pictures!

But to get back to the catalogue itself:

Suppose you look at a picture and don't know any book title which it can represent. Suppose this picture—to get down to details—represents a house on the bank of a river. And for the life of you you can't think of any title the picture can represent.

Well, you don't have to know anything at all about book titles to solve that picture! If you are just gifted with horse sense and ingenuity you will win out far in the lead!

"Bill," you say to yourself, "Bill, this picture may represent such a title as "The House on the River," or "The House on the Stream," or "By the River," or "The Home by the Stream," or some such title as one of those. I don't know that any such titles exist, and I don't know, particularly, if any such title as one of them is listed in the contest catalogue. But I will see."

And you DO see. You look through the catalogue and see if any such title like or similar in any way to one of the titles you have "doped out" is listed.

Every one of seventy-seven correct titles will be found in the catalogue, among the 4500 titles there. And the titles are in alphabetical order, so it's easy to locate them.

If you think a picture represents some title or other, and you cannot find any such title in the catalogue, then dismiss it from your mind, for ALL THE CORRECT TITLES ARE IN THE CATALOGUE.

And each picture, mind you, represents one title, and only one.

Get the catalogue, get the certificates, redeemable for the first thirty-five pictures, with it, and start in the greatest free game you ever played. Let the Los Angeles Times present you with a fortune, in exchange for having amused you for seventy-seven days!

ANSWERS TO QUERIES.

The Times will announce shortly when the extra pictures will be on sale (at The Times office, or by mail) and to be exchanged.

SNAPPY TENNIS OPENS TOURNEY.

Ketchum Smears Warren by Way of Revenge.

U.S.C. Woman Champion Tastes Defeat.

Miss Beatriz Burnham Is Star of Day.

BY EDMUND PUGH.

Miss Beatriz Burnham, formerly of Marlborough School, and Miss Maida Wellborn, champion of U.S.C., furnished the feature match of the opening day of play in the championship tennis tourney at Hotel Virginia, Long Beach, yesterday. The champion of the Trojan institution went down to defeat, finishing on the short end of a 7-5, 6-1 score. But she put up a hard fight and had she not weakened in the second game would have given Miss Burnham a close run. The first game was closely contested and the gallery had many occasions to applaud the players' clever work.

With an entry list including about eighty racqueters, the twenty-seventh annual tourney opened with better matches than usually mark the opening days. The courts began to hum at 9 o'clock in the morning and there was something doing until sunset. A fair-sized gallery was on hand to witness the play and the spectators were liberal with their applause. The crowd was considerably larger than has ever before turned out on the opening day, and it looks as if the auxiliary grand stand that has been erected for the tourney will have to be pressed into service toward the end of the week.

Matches in the men's, junior and women's singles were run off, no attempt being made to make a start in the other events.

KETCHUM RETALIATES.

Marshall Ketchum, the pride of Santa Monica, got revenge upon Warren, the youngster who beat him in the junior event at the Venice tourney. Ketchum put Warren out of the junior singles, 6-2, 6-0. Warren was unable to hold Ketchum's severe service, which was well placed along the lines. Also, Warren was erratic.

Dr. W. G. Knowlton, the San Francisco veteran, struck a "live one" in Fred Eldred of Occidental College. The young Tiger finally succumbed, but the score, 6-3, 6-4, shows that the "doc" did not have a walkaway. In fact, after the match he said that Eldred had given him one of the hardest games he ever had.

Ralph Sindorf, a 14-year-old youngster from Hollywood, sprang a surprise by beating Forrest Cornett, a Pasadena youth, who was considered "some pumpkins." Sindorf is one of the most likely looking youngsters who has appeared in an open tourney and he is likely to give a bunch of the older boys a fight, in the junior singles.

Ed Deitrich, the L.A.A.C. athlete, went down and out at the hands of Harry Rogers, who played his usual good game and sent Deitrich down the line, 6-2, 6-4.

MRS. STICKROD SHINES.

Mrs. Burt Stickrod's playing proved interesting to the spectators, but Miss Harnett, her opponent, was outclassed and Mrs. Stickrod took the match, 6-1, 6-2. Miss Harnett has a peculiar serve, which while somewhat spectacular, is not effective.

The hotel is filled with players and spectators. Ralph Noble is manag-

The Taming of Happy.

Hap Hogan and Bill Leard of Oakland,

Who were fined for fighting. Hap's picture indicates the joy with which he receives the instructions of President Baum to all umpires to throw him out of the game every time he tries to "ride" a young player of opposing team.

FINES WON'T STOP ME—HAP HOGAN.

I have always played baseball to win. I have always shown a fighting spirit and I always will show that same fight.

The statement by the president of the league that I will be fined every time I address a player of the opposing team will make no impression on the Vernon boys, and it's a cinch that it will not bother me. I will do as I have always done and, if I am fined, will pay the fine and then start the fight.

We are going to keep our lead and every day the pace grows hotter, but we are going to fight and fight hard regardless of fines.

I can stand the fine, and if the president of the league needs the money he sure can have it.

Before the Battle.

HAP'S TIGERS WERE RESTING.

Say They'll Smear Seals Easily Today.

Real Fight Due When They Meet Angels.

Players Want Park Signs Taken Down.

Yesterday was a real rest day for the members of the Vernon baseball club. "Hap" Hogan and his cage of fighting "Tigers" arrived in the city on the early train yesterday morning, and after a short visit to his counting house and an hour in Eddie Maier's "sanctum sanctorum," "Hap" hid himself from public gaze within the walls of his own home. The other members of the club followed the "Tiger" chief's example, and a Vernon player was as hard to find yesterday as a traffic officer on a hot day.

Harry Lord had Gray, Brackenridge and Patterson out in one of his big Garfords yesterday afternoon, but the rest of the striped ones were in hiding.

"Hap" stated that the road trip was the most successful so far this season. The team is in perfect condition, and the boys who are still out will be back in a short time.

"Speed" McDonnell has recovered and will go into the game whenever "Hap" finds use for his services.

Patterson is still on the sick list, but is improving rapidly, and expects to be ready for battle when the club goes out on the road again. The ankle is still badly swollen and "Pat" finds walking painful, but the long "Tiger" claims that he will get into the strenuous stuff in a very short time, and will make up for the fun he has lost.

TAKE DOWN SIGNS.

Many of the players of the Coast League are kicking on the numerous signs painted on the fence. With green on the field and green on the fence, it would be much easier, so they claim, to see the ball. If the management cannot see it to take them down, which they should, there certainly should not be any of that color mixture on the fence in line with the plate.

This is what makes it a dangerous matter for a man to stand up to the plate. This is the cause of so many accidents to batters. A man cannot see the ball against the background and has to suffer a bean on the head.

A number of the Vernon boys called to see Eddie Maier yesterday and Al Bonham, secretary of the Vernon club forced fat checks on several. The day for the salary stuff is not till next Thursday, but Al was there with the kale slips and wanted the boys to take them out of the way.

Patterson claimed that Vernon was the only club in the league which forced the players to take their money three days before pay day.

SCARECROWS FOR ANGELS.

"Hap" says that the fight with San Francisco will be good, but that his boys will carry the pie home as they have done all season.

"The real fight will come when we tangle with Los Angeles in the finals," said the Tiger leader, "but we have their number and they can't get away with it."

Dolly Gray says that they can spread the nine Vernon suits out on the field and stick a bat in the ground near the plate and win from Los Angeles. "We have their sparker he-

Fullerton's Review.

CRISIS IN MAJOR LEAGUE RACES NEXT FORTNIGHT.

Red Sox's Chances Better — Mackmen Must Spurt Soon or Lose — Cub Hopes Fade — New National Agreement — Wholesale Buying of Young Players Brings Danger to the Major Leagues.

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON.

THE next eighteen days tell the tale. The supreme test of the major league clubs is on and within the next fortnight we ought to be able to tell approximately the positions of all eight clubs in each league.

With the opening of this intersectional series, every manager realizes that the season's battle is to be decided, barring accidents, and everyone will strain every effort to win. At the end of this series I expect the National League race to be strung out worse than ever, with the American League clubs bunched for the lead. If Boston can win two-thirds of its games during the trip, I believe the Red Sox will stave off the rush of the Athletics and grab the flag that was practically conceded to the champions until two weeks ago. But the western clubs will put up a strong defense and it is probable that when the eastern clubs return to their home grounds, Boston still will be leading, with Philadelphia three or four games closer to the leaders, and Washington still hanging on.

The western clubs of the American are showing more strength as a whole now, in spite of their disastrous tour of the East. They have been losing, but fighting hard, and the easterners have had superior pitching. With the home-coming, Detroit and Chicago ought to rally and do well, and Cleveland is improving steadily, getting better pitching and playing better ball. St. Louis is building up a bit, and when the Browns get a well-pitched game they give all comers a hard argument. While Boston, Philadelphia and Washington outclass their western foes on playing form and present condition, they will have much harder going than they had at home.

POOR CHAMPIONS.

The last fortnight has been an immense surprise to the dopesters because of the poor showing of the world's champions. I figured confidently that Mack would make a big rally on the home grounds and crawl up closer, and the fact that he has failed to do so, and that Boston has held its three-out-of-four clip against all the western clubs, proves that Mack is having his serious worries. His pitchers have been aging, and every year they have been later and later in getting into pitching condition. He started the season this year with a plan of leaving the veteran pitchers down South until the weather got warm, and of using his youngsters, but the pace cut out was so hot he had to call for the veterans shortly after the opening of the season. It was a great idea, but his pitchers were not conditioned well, and the bad weather and constant changes in weather conditions has retarded them. Last year Coombs really did not pitch a good game until late in August, but Morgan and Bender and Plank went well at different stages, and Coombs came hard and won. This season Mack has not had four pitchers in condition at any one time, and his failure to win a lot of easy games proves that even the best of teams and managers need consistent pitching to win consistently.

STARS NOT IN CONDITION.

The way all comers have been bumping his stars shows that the staff is not yet ready for the grand rush. The team, however, is certain to come, but every day that it delays its start on a winning streak makes the task more difficult. If it should happen that the champions had a bad western trip this time and Boston a fairly good one, the Mackmen would practically be out of it.

One can figure a corking chance for Washington to slip in and actually win the pennant, but I expect the Senators to slip during the coming trip.

WOLGAST TO MEET M'FARLAND AT 135.

[By Federal (Wireless) Line to The Times.]

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, July 29.—[Special Dispatch.] Ad Wolgast, lightweight champion, finally agreed this afternoon to allow Packy McFarland to weigh in at 135 pounds at 3 o'clock for a ten-round battle. Wolgast stipulated that on account of the extra weight allowed McFarland, the lightweight title should not be considered at stake.

Wolgast stopped off in Chicago on his way from California to his home in Cadillac, Mich, and met McFarland by appointment.

For months the pair have furnished the best potential match in the lightweight ranks, but McFarland's few extra pounds have been the bar to the actual closing of an agreement.

In return for getting the chance at the champion, however, McFarland will be compelled to take a very small per cent. of money for his services, as Wolgast demands $22,500 for his share of the purse. He waives any rights he may have in the pictures.

The pair have agreed to allow Billy Gibson of the Madison Square Athletic Club, New York, to have the first bid for their bout.

The team is not yet a championship one, and the strain will tell soon. Not that I mean the team will explode and slide back as the White Sox have

HAP TO BE BENCHED IF HE "KIDS" THE PLAYERS.

As a Result of the Leard Incident President Baum Directs All the Umpires to Compel the Vernon Chieftain to Strictly Observe the Rules or Stay in the Clubhouse or on the Bench.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 29.—Manager Hogan of the Vernon team of the Coast League was fined $25 today for making Second-Baseman William Leard of the Oakland team lose his temper in yesterday's morning game at Oakland. Leard was fined $25 for slapping Hogan. Announcement of the fines was made by President A. L. Baum.

"I had to fine Leard," said President Baum, "but Hogan was to blame. He has been 'going after' the youngsters and upsetting them so they could not play their games."

Baum added that instructions have been given to the six umpires in the league to send Hogan to the bench hereafter as soon as he addresses a player of an opposing team.

"We've stood a lot from Hogan," he commented.

President Baum issued a statement tonight setting forth the reasons for his action.

"The trouble at Oakland," says the statement, "was the culmination of a series of complaints from several teams in the league along the same lines. Manager Hogan had been nagging and abusing Leard and other Oakland players all during the series, making a particular target of Leard. Before last Wednesday's game the umpires were instructed to inform Hogan that this practice must stop. Despite repeated warnings Hogan started after Leard in the clubhouse during the Sunday morning game and continued his taunts during the game.

"When Leard approached Umpire Wheeler after the fourth inning and complained of Hogan's tactics, the Vernon manager applied vile epithets to the Oakland player, precipitating the trouble.

"The affair has resulted in definite instructions to all umpires to immediately shut down on Manager Hogan or any other manager or player guilty of abusing opposing players. Hogan has been given leeway on account of his popularity as a coach, but he has taken advantage of this privilege to go beyond the rules. Hereafter he will confine himself strictly to the rules or stay on the bench or in the clubhouse."

COYOTES KILLING FAWN AND DOES.

[Special Correspondence of The Times.]

PORTERVILLE, July 28.—Local sportsmen will petition the county Supervisors to again offer an adequate bounty for coyote scalps, the word having come from the hills that does and fawns are being slaughtered by scores by the predatory beasts.

Ralph Friend, a leading spirit in the Porterville Fish and Game Protective Association, on his return today from the mountain meadows, stated that in one of the mountain pastures the day previous he had counted five dead does, with mothers less fawns running about the bodies.

Coyotes, in bands of four and five, hunt the does and after running them into an open meadow, will pull the animals down and eat a part of the carcass. The animals appear to kill for the love of the killing, rather than for need of the flesh.

It is believed the reinstatement of the bounty will make the work of exterminating the coyotes much easier as the ranchers will take up the killing if they can receive something for the time spent in killing the beasts.

Yesterday's Victory Third Straight for Chicago, and Flag Looks Good—Alexander "The Great" Does Star Work for Phillies—Rucker Wins for Dodgers Despite Errors of Team-mates—No Boston Game.

PHILADELPHIA, July 29.—[Special Dispatch.] "Alexander the Great" held the Pirates to six hits and struck out eight men. But the Killifer's error in the fourth, he would have scored a shut-out. Consecutive batting by Miller, Luderus, Niehbe, Doolin and Alexander in the seventh inning, sent three runs across and decided the game.

FLAG HOPES REVIVE. CUBS TRIM CHAMPS.

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, July 29.—[Special Dispatch.] A drive to right field by Saier in the eighth inning won the game for Chicago. Leach was on first when Saier sent a fast single to right. Murray allowed the ball to get away from him and it rolled clear to the fence, both Saier and Leach scoring.

New York tried to rally in the same inning. After scoring two runs off Richie, they were confronted by Reulbach, who quickly retired the side. McGraw sent in pinch hitters in the ninth, but after Fletcher flied to Leach, both Snodgrass and Shafer were fanned by Reulbach. This makes three straight games taken from the National League champions and leaders by Chance's men, and again revives their pennant hopes.

ALAMEDA OARSMEN GOING TO HAWAII.

ALAMEDA, July 28.—The senior four of the Alameda Rowing Club crew, augmented by two other oarsmen, have begun training for the September race with one of three Honolulu crews now training. The Honolulu oarsmen will be chosen fro mthe Myrtles, Punnepes and Healani crews.

The Alameda oarsmen, now the Pacific Coast champions, won the right to meet the Hawaiians by defeating the San Diego, South End and Dolphin crews on the estuary at the last annual regatta. The sextette will leave for the island September 10 on the steamer Sierra, and will arrive at Honolulu September 16. The following are the members of the crew:

Stroke, Henry Hess, 186 pounds; No. 5, John Lewis, 165; No. 4, Henry G. Nielsen, 175; No. 3, Charles Kiser, 178; No. 2, Oscar Sommers, 165; bow, Al Brampton, 150; coxswain, Herman Kihn; reserve, Fred Hacken, 115 pounds.

The course will be over a two-mile straightaway instead of the mile and a half with the turn, the usual course of the Alameda oarsmen. The crew is being coached by E. B. Thorning, an old-time champion.

fore we ever start the fireworks," said Brackenridge.

Bill Reidie of the Seals is not hiding from "Hap", but says that the San Francisco bunch is in to show up the howlers. It is true that San Francisco has been playing strong ball of late, and they have the goods to deliver if they want to do the act.

Many claim that the "Seals" are a joy tribue now and are not trying to put up the best game of ball, but the members of the team deny this and state that with a lot of hard luck on their trail, they have put up a good fight.

PAT LOVES FIGHT.

Patterson told a good one yesterday about the fight stuff in ball players, and says that Vernon has some of that in every man on the line-up. "Pat" had been playing with a team in Northern Minnesota, the Northern League, was the name of the outfit. Early in August the league blew up and Patterson started for Omaha in company with a young catcher named Jack Henry. At Fort Dodge, Iowa, they had to change trains and had a wait of an hour. The station was up on a hill and below, they could see the ball park. There was a game on at the time and the two players went down to see the fun, thinking that it was a college or high school game. When they landed inside the park, Patterson recognized the umpire and Jake Donahue, the catcher on one of the teams.

After the game Henry and Patterson went up to the clubhouse and spoke to the boys. Donahue liked his looks and asked him to join the club. Patterson said he would on condition that Henry be put on also. It was done, and Patterson became the star first baseman for the Omahalusa club in the Iowa State League.

The club was in the bottom place, but with the two new men, Henry behind and Donahue shifted to the field, the team began to win and won the next twenty-eight out of thirty games, coming out of last place and jumping to the lead the next season.

Patterson says that the same fight has always been in him and that he would rather play with a team that shows fight and loses than to star on a team that wins with luck and is streaked with yellow on the field.

Kane was asked if he had anything lively to relate, but the little one stated that the trip had been so monotonous and that they had won so many games, that it was not worth telling. "If you want to see Vernon clans and hear Vernon talk," said Johnny, "come out to the ball park tomorrow and watch us get those Frisco guys."

ST. LOUIS BROWNS AFTER PETE DALEY.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

ST. LOUIS, July 29. — [Exclusive Dispatch.] If a deal now pending goes through, the Browns will obtain Pete Daley, the slugging outfielder of the Los Angeles team. It will be a ten-strike for Manager Stovall if he lands this star, as the Browns need outfielders who can hit and field more than anything else.

Manager Stovall has not announced the names of men whom he proposes to turn loose, but it is said that if he is able to obtain Daley he will be willing to pass over Outfielder Bill Hogan and Infielder Eddie Hallinan as part payment for the Coast performer.

Hogan and Hallinan are residents of San Francisco, and, like all Californians, believe there is no place like the Coast. They prefer to play there if they are unable to hold in the big show.

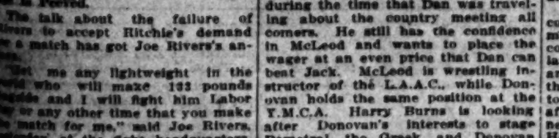
At Last, After Many Days, Old Mr. Wad Gets His Revenge---And Gets It Good, Too!



Freddie Welsh must be meditating forlornly upon the old saying that it never rains but it pours. A few months ago, he couldn't get an matches; now he has more engagements than a society girl.

A special dispatch to The Times last night stated that Freddie has signed for a fight with Grover Hayes August 5, at Winnipeg. Ten days later, August 15, he is to fight Johnny Summers, the English welterweight champion, in Cardiff, Wales.

How did he come to overlook a match on the boat going over.

Tommy Maloney Matched.

Tommy Maloney, the boy from the New York West Side, who was out here with Jimmie Johnson, has been signed to meet young Dave Kurtz of Newark before a New York club; it's to be ten rounds.

Tommy Hogan Mix It.

The white hopes will mix at the St. Nicholas Club next Wednesday, Gunboat Smith, who was brought from the Pacific Coast to the East by Jim Buckley, will fight Andy Morris of Baltimore. Young Wagner, Dick Custer's pride, and Willie Jones; Gunboat Smith and Jack Britton will all go ten rounds.

Jack White Goes East.

Jack White will leave Friday afternoon for New Orleans, where he is to meet Frankie Russell August 12 in a ten-round bout. He will meet Joe Thomas August 19 in the same city. After those fights he says that he intends to return to Los Angeles and challenge the winner of the Rivers-Mandot fight.

Hope for Willie.

If Ad Wolgast can't or won't fight by Thanksgiving Day, Uncle Tom McCarey will give Willie Ritchie the first chance against the winner of the Rivers-Mandot fight—provided, however, that Willie makes 133 pounds ring side.

Joe Is Peeved.

The talk about the failure of Rivers to accept Ritchie's demand for a match has got Joe Rivers's angora.

"Get me any lightweight in the world who will maxe 133 pounds ringside and I will fight him Labor Day or any other time that you make the match for me," said Joe Rivers, yesterday, at the fight headquarters. dramatically describing the incident. "And then," said Harry Burns, "Joe stepped into his automobile and sped away."

Mandot Coming.

Joe Mandot has written to say that he and his manager will leave Memphis Tuesday morning for this city. He will go by way of the northern route and will visit Chicago, Denver, San Francisco and way stations, before coming to Los Angeles.

Conley and Thomas.

Uncle Tom McCarey says he will give the winner of the Frankie Conley and Sally Salvator contest a chance to meet Harry Thomas here on August 16, for he wants to try and develop a card to meet Champion Kilbane here. Thomas is the most promising lad at that poundage and a crack at the winner of Conley-Salvator match awaits him. This ought to make Frankie Conley work his best to win over the Capitol City lad, for he has been pleading and yearning for such a chance and now it is at his finger-tips if he will only show old-time form.

Busy O'Brien.

"Young Jack O'Brien is a very much sought boxer these days," writes his brother, Phila Jack O'Brien, to Uncle Tom in answer to McCarey's asking Jack to let his fighting brother meet Willie Ritchie here the middle of next month.

In his letter to the local promoter O'Brien further states that young Jack is matched with Leach Cross for a ten-round bout at the St. Nicholas Rink, New York, on August 6, and if he beats Cross he will be in line for some cracking good bouts with the best in the world over any route and that then he can demand the best purses for his brother to travel over the short route no decision affairs, but that he would gladly entertain a proposition at any time from McCarey when he had an open date and the terms were right.

Old Wrestlers Matched.

Jack Woods, who says he is ready to back Dan McLeod for a $500 or $1000 side bet against Jack Donovan, formerly was McLeod's manager during the time that Dan was traveling about the country meeting all comers. He still has the confidence in McLeod and wants to place the wager at an even price that Dan can beat Jack. McLeod is wrestling instructor of the L.A.A.C., while Donovan holds the same position at the Y.M.C.A. Harry Burns is looking after Donovan's interests to stage Demetral, the Greek, and Donovan for a match within the next thirty days, and let the McLeod meet the winner, for Dan can't wrestle until Frank Garbutt gets back.

Mud.

PHOENIX AUTOIST HAS HARD FIGHT WITH ROADS.

CAKED with mud and dust until he looked as though he had been in a putty barrel, W. D. Tremaine, the road-race driver of Phoenix, arrived in Los Angeles after a fierce ride over the course of the Los Angeles-to-Phoenix race.

With him were his son, Don Hosmer, and Bob Trumbull, a Phoenix photographer.

They started in Tremaine's Cadillac last Saturday, and ever since then have been struggling with the fierce roads.

Sixteen miles out of Phoenix they had to turn back, but would not return to the town. They then made a long detour to the northward, and managed to struggle through.

On account of the heavy rains, Tremaine says the roads are rivers. The only way they could negotiate a route was to follow the railroad track and cross the rivers and streams on the railroad bridges.

From Mecca in to Los Angeles, he says, the roads are in fair condition.

"By the time they are ready for the road race, the roads should be in pretty good shape," said Tremaine. "Anyhow, what does it matter? This Phoenix race is a test of rough, nervy driving, and it is as fair for one car as it is for another."

Tremaine says that the prospects seem good for an unusually big race this year.

INDIANA RACING TO BE REVIVED.

GARY (Ind.) July 29.—[Special Dispatch.] A revival of the palmy old days of racing at Roby and Forsythe is the programme laid out by the promoters of a meet this fall in Lake and Porter counties.

According to the Indiana State law, racing is allowable for thirty days each year in each county of the State. Roby and Forsythe are close together and in adjoining counties. The meet, if it can be gotten under way in time, will simply transferred from one county to the other.

Gov. Marshall's attitude on the question of racing is not known, but it is not thought he will interpose any serious objections to the establishment of the Paris Mutual system of betting.

The other half of the Bekins-Speers Company, Lesler agents, is expected back during the week some time. Milo Bekins has been all through the East on a vacation trip and is now in Seattle. He expects to start for Los Angeles within the next day or two, arriving here by the last of the week to relieve Speers, who has had his hands full for the past few weeks and has earned a little rest on done, but it would not surprise me to see it lose more than half its games in the West.

CRISIS IN MAJOR LEAGUES.

The Giants are going home, and barring unexpected collapse, they ought to have the pennant race well in hand before they leave the Polo Grounds again. Neither Chance nor Clarke has pitchers enough to gain consistently. Chance worked his staff out to beat the Giants in Chicago, and the result was that the Phillies, who were going better than they have been at any time this year, beat them four out of five games and put a damper upon Chicago's newly-aroused pennant hopes.

It is rather a shame the way things are going with some of the National League clubs. If Chance had Brown in Brown's old condition or Overall going well it would be rather an easy pennant for the Cubs. If Clarke had Camnitz in his best form he could grab the rag. McGraw has had the great fortune to have about the only consistent pitching in the league, and Marquard's wonderful run of victories put the team where it is. Now Mathewson is coming around in fine shape.

GIANTS PATTEN ON WEAK TEAMS.

The Giants have accumulated their immense lead by beating Boston, Brooklyn and Philadelphia, and they have done but little better than .500 per cent against the western clubs. I am more and more amazed at seeing how steadily the team wins in view of the kind of baseball it is playing. In one game that it played against the Cubs on the west side—the game it won—there were fourteen balls thrown from the outfield, or catcher, and not once did any infielder back up another or move to back him up, and the pitchers seldom even started to back up on throws. One would think that kind of ball playing would inevitably lead to defeat, but it did not give the Cubs one inch of advantage. The Giants were playing team ball in attack, individual and rather sloppy ball on defense, and were careless, as if overconfident.

NATIONAL AGREEMENT.

The new national agreement has been officially adopted and is now the law of baseball. It isn't much of an improvement on the old one except that it is much more clearly written and much easier to interpret. The chief changes, of course, are in the rerating of the Class AA leagues and the changes in drafting prices which resulted in the new classification. So far as it affects the players, there is nothing to it.

The rewriting of the agreement, which originally was hastily prepared and adopted as a peace treaty between the warring major leagues, marks the first big move toward clarifying and codifying the laws of baseball.

There should be some clear and concise legal code that all players, managers and owners could have and could understand. In the past a the law has been whatever B. B. Johnson and Garry Herrmann wanted—and they had the power to make a law to fit a case and punish an offense after it was committed. Joe Flanner, the able assistant of Chairman Herrmann, has been at work on the laws and in time he probably will present a complete code for ratification and give some basis for decisions as well as to prevent cunning owners from dodging around laws that they know exist, because the law was badly stated.

ANOTHER DANGER.

There is another danger in the major leagues that promises this season to be more serious than it ever has been before. That is the wholesale trying out of young players before the pennant race is settled. Obviously it is unfair for a club to send a line-up of seasoned veterans through a series against one leading club and then present a team of try-out youngsters gathered from the low-class leagues against another club that has a pennant chance.

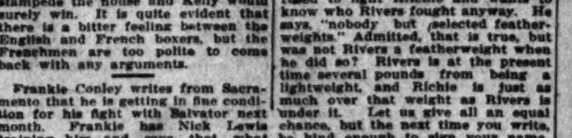
The wholesale buying of players during the last three weeks brings this peril up again. There should be some limit placed, either a time limit or a numerical limit, to prevent the weakening of clubs. For the bringing on of youngsters during this stage of the season surely weakens a club, no matter how good the youngster may be as an individual.

I hardly see how a rule could be made that would operate successfully but one could be framed that would prevent wholesale changes at any rate and permit the managers to recruit by purchase when they need a man to fill a vacancy in case of injury or suspension. It would not work a hardship on any club. Besides it appears to me that a manager who takes forty or more men South and looks over them for six weeks in spring training ought to be able to find enough worth keeping to last until August, anyhow.

[Copyright, 1912, by Joseph B. Bowles.]

Bill Ruess's kids were out in a big Pope last Sunday and pronounce the new cars all O. K. Purdy, who was driving, says that the little Ruesses are wonders in a machine and will have the popular Pope agent skinned seven ways, before long.

Every Pope in Southern California seemed to be at the beach yesterday, but no one seems to know just what the occasion was.



From the accounts that we read in the English papers of the Klaus-Carpentier bout, Billy Papke, our ex-middleweight champion, promises to be the next French champion middleweight. While several of the French papers gave Carpentier the better of the go as far as it went, the English sporting writers say that he was holding on for dear life a greater part of the time. The English papers roast the French boxers severely for adopting what they call the unfair methods of the Yankee boxers. Englishmen have always been and are at the present time much opposed to clinching. The Frenchmen say Carpentier held to prevent Klaus from using his elbow. Carpentier was criticised for using the so-called kidney blow, (which, by the way, can only be used when the men are in a clinch,) and clinching is one thing that the English will not stand for. One writer also says, "It is a standing wonder how such clean fighters as Packy McFarland and Jimmy Britt ever came to the front in their country." Be that as it may, the Englishmen have the right idea of the rules, and it is this very thing that is hurting the fighting game in this country today.

George Carpentier is unfortunate in having an erratic and excitable Frenchman for a manager. He has been fighting George too often for a boy so young, and in the match with Klaus he jumped into the ring in the nineteenth round, threw his arms around George's waist, led him to his corner and kissed him.

The house was in an uproar and many women were on their chairs screaming at the unfair methods of Klaus. Klaus might have been disqualified earlier in the contest for using his elbow, but it was overlooked by the referee and judges. One of the judges gave Klaus thirty-two points and the referee gave forty-five points to Carpentier, yet one of the judges called it a draw. But the fact that Carpentier's manager jumped into the ring lost him the fight.

All these things make Papke's chances all the more good. If Carpentier's manager is such an excitable fellow, it is a cinch that Papke with his American experience will take advantage of this in some manner. Not that Bill is anything but an honest fighter, but the temptation will be too good to overlook. Imagine that French referee arguing with one of Klaus's seconds during a contest, as he did in that fight. If Papke would send over for Spider Kelly and teach him a few French slang phrases, it is a cinch that those Frenchmen would stampede the house and Kelly would surely win. It is quite evident that there is a bitter feeling between the English and French boxers, but the Frenchmen are too polite to come back with any arguments.

Frankie Conley writes from Sacramento that he is getting in fine condition for his fight with Salvator next month. Frankie has Nick Lewis training him and says that, what Lewis does not know about training is not worth knowing. This will go a long way to get Frankie into good condition. Salvator has never been beaten and stands in Sacramento as Frankie does here in Los Angeles in popularity. Conley says that is one time that he, Salvator, is going to get his. "I am going to win, sure," says Frankie.

Billy Nolan writes and says that he and Abe Attell have split all right, but Billy is to get his 35 per cent. when Abe fights Johnny Kilbane, if he ever does. Billy says he is like a divorcee, he has to have his alimony, and believe me, he will get it from Attell. Abe seems to be in ingrate. After the showing here he got in bad with a lot of good men that were his friends, but he did not seem to appreciate it in the least. After he left Los Angeles he begged Nolan to take him and put him back in shape, which he did, and this is what he is handing Billy in return for his trouble. It's a long lane that has no turn, Abe, gratitude costs little. Stop and think a little before you go too far.

The fight between Jem Driscoll and Posey, the French champion, in the National Sporting Club this month, in London, was won by Driscoll in easy style. Now the Englishmen claim Driscoll as the featherweight champion of the world. Where do they get that talk? How about Abe Attell, who held that title for a number of years, and how about Johnny Kilbane, the present title-holder, who defeated Attell? Driscoll is a wonderful boxer and may win that title some day, but he has not cinched it yet. A fight between he and Johnny Kilbane would be great, and from the showing Driscoll made with the French boy he would have a great chance to beat Johnny, notwithstanding his age. They box very much alike, and are artists with that straight left hand. Kilbane might win on his speed, but he would have to have it all with him when he starts with Driscoll.

I received a communication from some friend of Willie Ritchie's, saying that I was wrong when I said Willie only had one twenty-round fight.

The writer, who did not sign his name, says that Ritchie had a twenty-round fight with Matty Baldwin, and a scheduled twenty-round fight in Taft with Tommy McFarland that Willie won in the second round. I wish to say to my informant that I stand corrected and have no desire to give Ritchie, or anybody else, the worst of it.

This same fellow says Rivers refused to fight Ritchie and wants to know who Rivers fought anyway. He says, "nobody but selected featherweights. Admitted, that is true, but was not Rivers a featherweight when he did so? Rivers is at the present time several pounds from being a lightweight, and Richie is just as much over that weight as Rivers is under it. Let us give all an equal chance, but the next time you write, be kind enough to sign your name. There is no danger in doing so.

At 3:30 o'clock—C. W. Smith against A. Blakeslee.

At 5 o'clock—Winner of Emery-Eldred match against winner of Jardine-Ball match.

Stanley Smith has taken a great fancy to the tennis game and is spending much of his time lately on the courts at the Hotel Virginia. During the tournament, he will be there every day and while not a star of the high-powered class himself, enjoys watching the pretty girls and dashing near young men cover the cement. There may be method in Smith's madness, as the ability to handle a racquet may make him of double worth to the co-eds of U.S.C., when college starts in the fall and Prof. Smith and Prof. Booth take up the duties of automobile instruction.

MY BATTING JINX.

BY JIM SCOTT

(Spitball artist of the Chicago White Sox.)

PUT NINE LAJOIES on the Cleveland team and I'd immediately cancel my engagements as a pitcher in the American League. One hitter like that big Frenchman is plenty on any ball club. In fact, he's a little too much, to my way of thinking.

Larry is my jinx and has given my best brand of goods a rougher reception than any other batsman in the game. It isn't a case of walloping now and then with Larry. On the contrary, he delivers those base hits with a monotonous regularity.

His drives are of the A. No. 1 type, the kind you read about, but seldom see—clams that send the ball traveling on a line to some obscure part of the yard.

Harking back over my various tight situations when confronted by LaJoie, I can recall one incident in particular when he laid the second-growth ash against a well meant pitch-out and by so doing broke up an extra inning battle.

It happened about two years ago, as I recollect.

The Sox and Naps were fighting it out for third place during the real, strenuous part of the campaign and Young Cy Young, now with the Minneapolis club, was on the slab for the White Sox.

"Cy" had pitched a corking game for eleven innings, holding Cleveland to a few hits and two runs, while the Sox had counted the same number.

In our half of the twelfth a pinch-hitter was sent up by Manager Duffy in place of Young Cy, but the reserve failed to change the general aspect of the score. I had been warming up for two or three innings and felt strong and fit enough to hold the Naps at bay at least until darkness might butt in and stop the affair. But I got off to a bad start by passing the first man up, then retired the next pair, one on a fly out and the other on an infield play, the walking athlete advancing to third base.

It was a mighty ticklish situation at that time, for LaJoie was coming to bat, and this same Larry had always been my Nemesis. So I held a conference with Billy Sullivan, my battery partner, and it was decided to pass the big Frenchman. That seemed easy enough, when one stops to consider that a pitcher, in this position, merely needs to lob four balls over to the catcher, always taking the precaution, however, to lay the ball at least two feet outside the plate, beyond the reach of the batsman.

The first three balls behaved all right and Larry, with a sneer on his countenance, was giving me the horse laugh. I had hoped to walk my hoodoo in this manner, and then turn all my attention and skill upon the batter who followed LaJoie, a youngster who had always been ineffective against spitball pitching.

On the fourth and deciding ball, which traveled a bit closer to the plate, LaJoie pulled off the unexpected. He gripped his warclub tightly in his right hand, leaned far over the pan, though within the bounds prescribed by baseball etiquette, and took a sweeping, rakish swing. There wasn't "anything" on that ball, just a plain, every-day lobber, and the bat collided with the sphere, Larry getting a short Texas leaguer back of third, the hit putting over the winning run.

"UNCLE SAM" VICTOR BY BALLOON ELIMINATIONS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

KANSAS CITY, July 29.—"America will be represented in the international balloon race in Germany this fall by the bags "Uncle Sam," "Kansas City, II," and "Drifter," said George M. Myers, president of the Kansas City Aero Club, when informed that Uncle Sam had landed today at Manassas, Va., 925 miles from Kansas City.

The Uncle Sam outdistances its nearest competitor, the Kansas City II by 285 miles, and beat the record of Lieut. Lahm, who won the elimination race last year, by 445 miles.

The Uncle Sam and the Kansas City II, which landed at Belleville, Mich., after going 640 miles, were both entries of the Kansas City Aero Club.

Driven to earth by a storm, the balloon Million Population Club I, of St. Louis, pilot Capt. John Berry, Aide Albert von Hoffman, landed near Nora, Ill., about 350 miles from Kansas City at 3:45 o'clock Sunday morning, according to a telegram from Capt. Berry, received here this morning.

BIG CROWD, SLOW TRACK.

GRAND CIRCUIT RACES OPEN AT NORTH RANDALL.

Cleveland Turf Fans Flock to Rain-Soaked Course to Cheer the Wingers—Joe Patchen II Makes Best Time of Day—Tavern Stake Run in Three Divisions.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CLEVELAND (O.) July 29.—The opening of the Grand Circuit races at the North Randall track today was witnessed by a large crowd, but the achievements of the horses were disappointing as to time. Heavy rain last night had impaired the track.

The event of the day was the Edwards stake, 2:12 pacing, purse $3000, best three in five heats. Joe Patchen II, picked as an almost certain winner, took the race in straight heats, establishing his reputation as an unbeaten pacer. Knight Onward made the most gallant attempt to head the big bay, coming up from far back in the last 100 yards of the first heat and giving Patchen a rub. Patchen's first heat was traveled in 2:07, the fastest of the day.

The numerous field of contestants for the "Tavern Steak" with amateur drivers was put into three divisions, thus dividing the $5000 "steak" into four slices, $1000 for each division and $2000 for a race royal on Friday.

"Tavern Steak" first division purse, $1000, 2:14 trotting, two in three: The Wanderer first, Tommy Finch second, Aronama Kinney, Ernest Axtell and Lord White divided third and fourth money; best time, 2:11¼.

"Tavern Steak," 2:14 trot, $1000, second division: Esther W. won, Dorsch Medium second, Castle Dome third, Dave Hall fourth; best time, 2:08¾.

"Tavern Steak," 2:14 trot, $1000, third division: Moke Dillard won, Mike Agan second, New Seal third; best time, 2:12¾.

The Edwards stake, 2:12 pace, purse $3000, three in five: Joe Patchen first, Knight Onward second, Chimes Hal third, Pearl Patch fourth; best time, 2:07.

JOHNNY ALBRIGHT TO MEET THOMAS.

[By Federal (Wireless) Line to The Times.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, July 29.—[Special Dispatch.] Indications point to one of the best matches that has ever been staged at the Stadium Motordrome being held tomorrow night, when Johnny Albright of Denver takes on Harry Thomas, the little Philadelphia man who has been making a reputation for himself lately by his work at the Brighton track. Thomas gave Chappel, the New York sensation, one of the hardest fights of his career last Saturday night.

Albright can be looked to to be in the best possible condition for the battle. Fresh from his victory over Harry Kiebes in Philadelphia Saturday, the winner is ready to ride the race of his life. He is anxious to get on a match with Chappel and must beat Thomas to get the return date.

FOXY POLAR BEAR AND REST OF ARCTIC AT THE MASON.

BY JULIAN JOHNSON.

BEFORE I saw the Alaska-Siberia pictures of the Carnegie Museum's collection, exhibited at the Mason Opershouse last night, I thought that polar seas ran slow and heavy, like cold molasses; that everything beyond the Arctic Circle, or thereabouts, lay enshrouded through eternity in glittering white, and that polar bears were quite inhuman.

But the pictures were certainly educational to me, for they proved that Bering Sea can lap and purr as prettily as San Pedro Channel on an August day under the Cabrillo's forefoot; that its surf rolls crashing, splashing and glittering on the Alaskan sands much as the lazy South Pacific waves tower and tumble on the warm beach at Venice. And I saw, also, the Northland heavy, in its brief summer, under as luxuriant a mass of vegetation as used to rise rhododendronlike in the super-tropics that they say were there when the mammoth lumbered after the skin-girdled cave-man. And as for that bear! The bear that got away—I mean, he was as good a comedian, and as lifelike, and as enjoyful of a joke as any unctuous $500-a-week artist that ever creaked across the Mason boards.

These pictures are in six reels, and were made under the direction of Pittsburgh's Carnegie Museum, in an expedition sent out in the spring of last year under the direction of Capt. F. E. Kleinschmidt, for the purpose of collecting data on the flora and fauna of the Arctic.

And as it is found nowadays much more expedient to shoot with a rolling film than a magazine gun, the little reel, in this instance, had considerable modern advantage over the 10-20.

The surprise that these pictures will hand the uninitated is that of the abundant vegetation and prolific crops in the Arctic country during the hot, six-weeks' summer. Dog-teams hauling cultivators, great fields of beets which would be prize specimens at Oxnard, and other evidences of real crops, in abundance, were presented.

The bear-hunting pictures, comprising most of the last six reels, are vivid and highly realistic.

The humorous bear of which I spoke is before the eyes of the audience for nearly a quarter of an hour, performing wonderful dives, in one of which he is visible, even as he swims beneath an iceberg, and is afterwards roped twice, and escapes as many times. His royal whiteness once gets within fifteen feet of the cinematograph, but I noticed that when he started to come nearer the picture man seemed to have urgent business elsewhere, and our view vanished. In the end, to repay this great glistening bruin for his amiable exhibition prowess, they let him go, without capture or murder, and at the finale he is seen shambling off, at his clumsy dog trot, over the floe-ice toward his cold, but snug habitation.

These films will be on view during the rest of the week at the Mason. Some of the reels are accompanied by an eye-watering wobble, perhaps, due to the motion of the deck on which the triped rested, but generally speaking they are good pictures, and clear.

Western Championship.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LAKE FOREST (Ill.) July 29.—Western Tennis Champion Maurice E. McLoughlin of San Francisco successfully defended his title this afternoon on the courts of the Onwentsia Club, by defeating the challenger, Thomas C. Bundy of Los Angeles, in a hard-fought set match 8-10, 6-1, 6-4, 6-4.

At the outset it was apparent that the two Pacific Coast experts were evenly matched. Both had their serves working superbly, and the brilliant net play of McLoughlin was equaled by the marvelous returns and the accurate placing by Bundy. An endurance contest began, which ended only when, with the count 8-7 against him, Bundy braced and won the next three games and the set 10-8.

McLoughlin started the second set with a rush. He hit the ball harder and playing at top speed, ran out the set, 6-1. Bundy appeared tired.

The third set was keenly contested and a repetition of the first seemed certain. After holding the title-holder even for eight games, however, Bundy weakened, and McLoughlin just nosed him out, taking two straight games and the set, 6-4.

The first game of the fourth set went to Bundy after a hard struggle. Bundy took the net, and by his stellar play led McLoughlin 4-2, the title holder forcing Bundy to the limit, playing the challenger's backhand continually. At this point McLoughlin let out, and allowing Bundy only five points in the next four games, ran out the set, 6-4, winning the match handily.

As a result of the drawings for the preliminary national doubles, which will start tomorrow afternoon, William J. Clothier, Jr., of Philadelphia, and George J. Gardner, Jr., of Boston, will meet Walter T. Hayes and J. B. Winston of Chicago, and Maurice McLoughlin and T. C. Bundy of California will oppose C. Y. Smith and Nat Thornton of Atlanta. The victorious team will play Little and Touchard, the present holders in the challenge round, August 20, at Newport, R. I.

INNOVATION IN WORSHIP.

Upland Church People Desert the Close Audience Room and Sing Praises Out in the Open.

UPLAND, July 29.—Somewhat of an innovation in the holding of Sunday evening church services was inaugurated by the congregation of St. Mark's Church, this city, last evening.

The attendance, during the heated term, has been inclined to fall off, and the thought was advanced by some that the holding of out-door services might solve the problem. A committee was appointed to look after the matter of lights, altar and pews, with the result that a pretty scene was witnessed last evening, when the services of the church were held in the churchyard.

NEWS BRIEFS.

A light shower of rain began falling here shortly before noon and continued, intermittently, until the early afternoon. No perceptible precipitation was recorded, however, the only thing to cause remark being the unusualness of the affair at this season of the year.

The coverings for the various culverts over the city, the wait for which has caused serious inconvenience to travel, have now arrived, and the contractor and his men are placing same as rapidly as possible.

CHO-CHO-SAN GOES TO TEA.

ALSO AN INQUISITIVE "TIMES" YOUNG LADY.

Orpheum Actress Says that One Couldn't Go from Belasco's Remarkable Scenic Assistance to Ben Greet's Bare Walls and Really Act in Anything.

BY GRACE KINGSLEY.

"Poor little Cho-Cho-San! Where is she?" I asked, with my nose all shiny.

"Died and gone to tea at the Hayward," answered my friend and writer-in-law, the press agent.

"Appropriate, anyhow," I consoled myself.

And so I found her, all pinkie from the resurrection, and quite tailored and uncelestial; serene, too, and all unlike the pathetic little butterfly who has just murmured, in the glorification of suicide: "Too bad the robins doesn' nes' again!"

We talked over her "just reward"—to carry out the simile—of English breakfast tea and cakelets.

Uncelestial, did I say? Why, no one could be quite that, with those great, black, soulful eyes, sympathetic voice, and the little slim alert body—as though the spirit lived too quickly—which help Clara Blandick in the magic of getting "Madame Butterfly" across.

She prefers to lay it all to the scenery and atmosphere, though.

"Playing in the perfect atmosphere that Belasco creates always helps the actor tremendously—also spoils him. How could one do a Ben Greet performance without scenery after having every accessory, every detail about him correct? Besides, I think the people are entitled to painless entertainment, and anything that helps the illusion helps the spectator.

"How can you be so cheerful when you've just died?" I asked, reproachfully.

"Oh, one has a sense of humor," she replied. I came to myself when the press agent said: 'Run right across the alley and meet a newspaper woman!' If you were weeping, you should have heard George Evans, up in San Francisco, who brought people back to the world and jokes by exclaiming—his act was right after mine—"Don't cry, girls. She isn't really dead. She's got to play the part again tonight!"

"Horrible!" I said. "But—" my poor literal soul always thirsts with the question: "Do you really throw yourself into your part?"

"I don't know myself in the character at all. Except when I mechanically pause for a laugh—as when I say: 'American maps don't never write letters—never no time,' that's a sympathetic laugh, and I know I have them if I get it," she paused. "Or when there's a dead silence, such as comes when I stand by the window all through the night—doing absolutely nothing—waiting, waiting, with the patient, tender stoicism of the Japanese woman, while the wonderful lights give us twilight, night and morning. Once, during that long seven minutes of dead silence a man up in the gallery sneezed; my heart gave a horrid bound of fear—but, do you know, nobody laughed—and hysterical laughter comes so easily in a case like that.

"The play is picture perfect, I believe. In San Francisco the Japs came to see us. They were delighted and came in droves. Once two little ladies from the land of the cherry blossoms actually giggled with delighted surprise at the ceremony of the pipe.

"Do you know the secret of the success of Cho-Cho-San? Let me tell you! It's the fact that her audience does all the suffering. They want to save her, and cannot! She's so pathetically trustful, so all-ignorant of the thing to befall her! That's the most subtle influence it is possible to wield over an audience—the same influence used by Shakespeare when he gives us the unhappy, helpless Ophelia. As soon as the actor knows as much as the audience, you know, it's time for the curtain to go down."

Clara Blandick plays "Madame Butterfly" by divine right, as it were, for she was born aboard ship in a Japanese harbor.

"My mother loved the quaint land of the little brown men," she said, "and my father was a sea captain in the Orient. All my clothing and playthings and early memories are Japanese.

"From the moment I heard of 'Madame Butterfly' I was crazy to play the part. Once, when I was in Hartford, Belasco slipped down from New York to see me in 'The Girl of the Golden West,' and I think he may have had me in mind for the Butterfly from that time, especially after I told him I was born in the Orient."

"Did Belasco really pull you about by the hair of the head, to give you 'temperament?'" I asked, taking another cup of tea.

"Please correct that impression. Mr. Belasco puts you as much at your ease as though he were entertaining you in the drawing-room. He's most of the time like a spectator, merely, inspiring you with his praise!"

And the tea and cakes being all gone, and my time all used up, I bade good-by to a Madame Butterfly as fascinating on one side of the footlights as the other!

GAME POACHERS FOUND AT TULARE.

TULARE, July 29.—Although the poachers escaped, game wardens have confiscated over two miles of heavy set lines, between 7000 and 8000 hooks which were used with the sets, about $300 worth of illegal nets and destroyed the fishermen's cabin, which had been neatly hidden in the heavy tules on the south bank of Tule Lake. Warden Ferguson and Deputy Hoen, who conducted the raid against the offending market nimrods, believe that this is the same gang who set a number of lines in Kings River, and whose outfit was confiscated last week. Although the officials were disappointed when none of the gang were caught, the value of the outfits captured is considerable and it is believed that their loss to the gang will put an end to illegal fishing in the lake for some time to come.

Shortly after the fishermen were scared out from the Kings River, reports from San Francisco were sent to the wardens that large shipments of bass were being sent from Tulare county points. Ferguson and Hoen located a newly-constructed cabin in the shallow waters of the lake, but only after a long search. Hoen states that the wardens have evidence against some of the gang and if the remainder of the outfit cannot be apprehended, those against whom they have a case will be arrested and several counts will be brought against each of them.

It is said that altogether the gang has marketed several thousand

"BUTTERFLY" SCENE MARVEL.

PERFECT BELASCO PRODUCTION AT THE ORPHEUM.

Invasion of Vaudeville Playlet Leaves Critic Wondering Why Puccini's Music Was Not Used. Vaudeville Programmes at the Empress and Pantages Theaters.

BY JULIAN JOHNSON.

Those who are familiar with the story of "Madame Butterfly" as Puccini has it in the opera will find that the present sketch at the Orpheum, put on by Mr. Belasco for Mr. Bock, is the latter half of the tale, beginning where Cho-Cho-San, with her child, waits for the return of her recreant lieutenant-lover, and continuing until the hari-kari finish, when Butterfly tells that there is a Caucasian Mrs. Pinkerton, and that she, the yellow girl, is only an eternal yesterday.

Basically the thing is a marvel. It begins with a pantomimic, allegorical recitation, by two brown men, of sunrise and sunset on Fujiyama. Thereafter the curtain rises on a perfect Nipponese interior, in which the characteristic Belasco touch is evidenced by minute details, not all of which, probably, pierce any eye, and some of which, without doubt, reach only a few. There is, for instance, who has returned to Los Angeles for a short visit, and is staying with Mrs. Harriet Works of No. 668 Westlake avenue. The former Burbank leading woman will leave August 13 for Des Moines, where, on August 23, she will head the permanent stock company between the Coast and Chicago. Miss Brenda Fowler of this city is also in the new Moines organization. The photograph is a new study of Miss Hall by Mishkin.

Miss Blanche Hall,

DON'T NEGLECT CATARRH

Catarrh is a most distressing complaint, known by its symptoms of stuffy feeling in the head and nose, roaring in the ears, mucus in the throat, difficult breathing, etc. When the blood becomes thoroughly polluted with catarrhal matter the inflammation extends to the bronchial tubes, causing hoarseness and often an aggravating cough, the stomach is affected, resulting in dyspepsia, loss of appetite, and gradually all the mucous membranes of the body become diseased. Catarrh is beyond the reach of local treatment. Only temporary relief can be had from the use of sprays, washes, etc. S. S. S. cures Catarrh by cleansing the blood of all impure catarrhal matter and at the same time building up the entire system. Then as pure, nourishing blood circulates through the body, the inflamed membranes heal, all discharges cease and every symptom of Catarrh passes away. Don't neglect Catarrh; cure it with S. S. S. as thousands have done. Book on Catarrh and any medical advice free.

Miss Frances Guihan,

Of this city, who is spending the summer at Venice with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. I. A. Wilson. Later Miss Guihan will visit Honolulu with Mr. and Mrs. Wilson.

THE country clubs were not wholly deserted during the week-end, and one or two prominent members gave informal entertainments. Perhaps the most interesting piece of news of the week is that Mrs. M. W. Longstreet intends enlivening the social activity with an August dance at the Los Angeles Country Club.

It will, of course, be for the much-feted "younger set" for whom most of the smart affairs have been given this year, and cards have been sent to about 150 friends. The sixth of August is the date chosen, and many a youthful heart is brimming with gratitude for the thoughtful hostess who will thus do and dare for their sakes at such an unwonted season of the year.

There was a goodly attendance on Saturday evening at the Los Angeles Country Club, and among the hosts were James Slauson, who entertained with a dinner party for Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Solano, and Walter Van Pelt, whose party appeared to be in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Nat Wilshire and Don McGilvary.

Several interesting northern visitors were to be seen at the club over the week-end, notably Dr. Fredericks and Campbell White, the prominent golfers from San Francisco.

At Annandale.

At the Annandale Country Club there were several social events during the week. Mr. and Mrs. Scott Brown were hosts at a large dinner party on Wednesday evening, when a bower of roses graced the proceedings, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles N. Post entertained on Saturday evening complimentary to Ernest Urchs of New York. The affair took the form of a dinner party, and the hosts were assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Post and Julius Post.

Mrs. E. H. Strafford gave a small luncheon and card party on Saturday afternoon, and other hostesses entertaining at small intimate affairs were Mrs. Susie Hamilton of Pasadena and Mrs. Henry Vilas of the same city.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Card, L. R. Garrett, Dr. and Mrs. J. R. Haynes and Mr. and Mrs. John D. Reavis, the latter just returned from a long automobile tour up North, were all among the hosts on Saturday evening.

Miss E. F. Holland also entertained with a golf party at the club. Miss Holland is the recent purchaser of the fine old colonial house formerly belonging to the William Bayleys. The latter went for a tour around the world a month or two back. They now seem so enamored of Europe that they have elected to remain there for a time. Miss Holland is from New York, and her sister, brother and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Loring and Mr. Holland, are all here. They are members of the Annandale Country Club and keen golfers.

Mrs. Scharr, who was Miss Busch, celebrated the return of Capt. Scharr, who is an officer in the German army, last week with a little dinner party at the club. The Scharrs, it is understood, go to Santa Monica next week in connection with the new Busch enterprice there, of which they will be the managers.

At Riverside.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Crump of Riverside left on Saturday by automobile for their cottage at Squirrel Inn, where they will pass the rest of the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Grout gave a delightful garden party on Saturday afternoon at their Walnut-street home in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence F. Backstrand. The grounds were lighted gaily with festoons of Japanese lanterns, and banks of flowers adorned the verandas and porches.

All the guests came in semi-fancy dress, representing the titles of popular songs, and several most ingenious and becoming costumes were in evidence.

The hostess was assisted by Mrs. E. Knapp, Miss Lillian Backstrand, who gave some charming Swedish songs; Miss Tina and Miss Priscilla Donahue, Miss Florence Harris, Miss Genevieve Ford and Miss Mary Herdig.

At "Woodhurst."

Mrs. Franc Ogilvy-Wood of Alhambra will entertain the Audubon Society this afternoon at her interesting old colonial house on Granada avenue, when everyone interested in bird life is invited to attend.

On Friday evening Mrs. Wood entertained with a dinner party on behalf of Mrs. Foster, sister to F. Q. Story. Mrs. Foster herself entertained with a luncheon and card party at the San Gabriel Country Club on Wednesday afternoon.

Bridge Tea.

Mrs. Lee Stephens, whose home adjoins the golf links of the San Gabriel Country Club, also entertained with a bridge tea party on Thursday afternoon, when most of the same company were present.

On Saturday afternoon, the San Gabriel Country Club was quite a gay rendevous for lady members, on bridge-tea intent, among those present being Mrs. F. O. Wood, Mrs. Stanley Wood and her daughter, Mrs. S. R. Burns; Mrs. Foster, Mrs. W. E. Orr, Mrs. Phelps Reed, Miss Constance Colwell, Mrs. Colwell, Mrs. Lee Stephens, Miss Shirley Burns, Miss Fanny Shoemaker and many others.

Wedding Announcement.

The marriage of Miss Almena Allen and Arthur Davison was solemnized Saturday at 8:30 o'clock at the home of the bride-elect's aunt, Mrs. E. M. Bangie of El Monte. Rev. Munger of the First Methodist Episcopal Church spoke the service beneath a wedding bell of white roses and asparagus plumosus. Miss Allen was attractively attired in a simple gown of white embroidered batiste. Her bouquet was of orange blossoms. Miss Ruth Wood of Hollywood and Miss Jessie Lawrence of Tucson, Ariz., two childhood friends of the bride-elect, assisted as maids, while little Grace M. Allen, a sister, and Master Lawrence Bangie, a cousin, assisted as flower girl and ring-bearer, respectively. Alfred Bangie stood with Mr. Davison as best man. After August 30 Mr. and Mrs. Davison will receive their friends at their own home in San Diego.

Well-Known Guests.

Mr. and Mrs. William John Scholl of San Diego are spending a few days with Mrs. J. T. Scholl of No. 1501 Santee street.

At Hotel Alvarado.

Mrs. James Fleming, Miss R. Fleming and J. D. Fleming of San Bernardino motored to Los Angeles a day or so ago and are at Hotel Alvarado.

Whist Party.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Smith of No. 528 West Forty-eighth street were host and hostess Saturday evening at a whist party. The tempting collation and good time was enjoyed by Mr. and Mrs. Bert Rose, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Baresky, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Buskey, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Smith, Ralph Hillard, Miss Anna Jerdon and Mr. and Mrs. R. Nichols.

Trip Ended.

Isaac Lothian of South Hill street has returned from a ten days' outing at the Yosemite Valley.

Engagement Announcement.

The engagement of Miss Winona Webb and Frank H. Jordan is announced today for the first time, and the secret will be read with interest by their many friends.

To Leave.

Mrs. Margaret Hock will leave this week for Denver and Chicago, where she will pass the remaining summer months.

Summer Home Finished.

Mr. and Mrs. James P. Burns have just completed their summer home at Ocean Front and Petrel avenue, Venice, where they will be at home to friends.

Birthday Party.

In celebration of the seventy-second birthday anniversary of her father, J. W. Jordon, Mrs. M. E. Martin of No. 410 Commonwealth avenue entertained with a dinner party Friday.

merry affair, a feature of which was the violin solo played by the guest of honor on an instrument 100 years old.

Engagement Announced.

At a luncheon given Saturday in honor of Mrs. C. Cameron Meacham and Mrs. M. Reichenbach of St. Louis, who are visiting their mother, Mrs. Sarah A. Hemry of No. 622 Austin street, this city, the engagement of Miss Frances Pearle Hemry and Arthur William Reese was announced. The wedding will take place September 4 at the home of the bride's mother.

The house was beautifully decorated in masses of Shasta daisies, red sweet peas and festoons of asparagus plumosus. In the center of the two long tables pears were effectively used in forming the two joined letters, "H. R." Miniature red candles at each plate were used in bringing to light the interesting news which was written with invisible ink on hand-decorated place cards bearing cupids. Each guest was asked to write "seven rules for governing a husband," the prize for which was awarded to Miss Julia Reese.

The guests were: Mmes. C. Cameron Meacham, M. Reichenbach, M. Spazier, Edward F. Keller, Albert K. Grafton, Karl Klitten, Elisabeth Ludwig, John F. Mackey of San Fernando, Bernard F. Alfs, Frank Jesmier, E. T. Stoddard, William Young and B. Miner, and Misses Ruth Dickey, Leora Holderman, Elva Votaw, Eva Hall, June Reed, Agatha Haeberlin, Sara Reese, Modena Masterson, Adela Lund, Fay Van Ordstrand, Genevieve Lux, Sophia Dickey, Violet Hutchins, Carrie McCartney, Julia and Mary Louise Reese of Nashville, Tenn.

PERSONALS.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Erickson are visiting their friend, Thomas Law, at the California Hotel. Erickson is proprietor of a general merchandise store at Douglas and Law is an Arizona hotel man. J. C. Getti, a merchant of Clifton, is passing a few days at the same hotel.

Dr. John E. Bacon, at the head of the new hospital which is being built at Miami, Ariz., by the Miami Copper Company and the Inspiration Copper Company of that place, is staying at the Hayward while here, attending Mrs. Bacon, who presented him several days ago with a fine baby boy.

John W. Hodge is staying at the Westminster. He is a merchant of Wenona, Ill., and is visiting friends in Los Angeles. Among the other guests at the hotel are T. H. Kearney, connected with the Department of the Treasury at Washington and J. A. Hunt, a manufacturer of automobile supplies of Detroit.

Samuel Kinsley, one of the legal lights of Colorado, whose home is in Colorado Springs, accompanied by his wife, is passing a few weeks at the Virginia at Long Beach. He has numerous friends in Southern California, and from here will go to Seattle and Portland, returning home by the way of Yellowstone Park.

D. S. Walker and S. N. Mitchell are occupying a suite at the Hayward. They are in the leather business in Milwaukee and are here for a pleasure trip. F. T. Torpey, land owner and oil operator of the Maricopa fields, is staying at the same hotel. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bernett are registered from Phoenix, where Bernett is in the real estate business.

James W. Abbott, mining engineer of Pioche, Nev., one of the principal exponents on the good roads in that State, and former State mineralogist of Colorado, is making his home at the Hollenbeck. He is here on a vacation and to visit old friends. Prof. and Mrs. A. J. Mathews of Tempe, Ariz., are guests at the same hotel. Prof. Mathews is principal of the Arizona State Normal School.

The medical profession was well represented at the Lankershim yesterday in Dr. Helming Jeidell, a well-known specialist of Baltimore, and Dr. J. A. Gale, who with his wife came down from San Francisco. Mr. and Mrs. Gilman Haskell are occupying a suite at the same hotel. Haskell is a New York broker. F. B. Chapin, a Toronto real estate dealer, arrived at the hotel yesterday.

M. J. Fontana, general superintendent of the California Fruit Canners, is staying at the Van Nuys, where he registered from his home in San Francisco. He is here to go over the local plant and supervise the initial work of the year. H. D. Marshall, Jr., young attorney of Phoenix; R. D. Yoakum, a railroad official of St. Louis, and E. D. Dales and F. H. Buffeter, mining men of Tonopah, are staying at the same hotel.

Louis R. Kirby is registered at the Angelus from San Diego. He was formerly District Attorney in that city and is at present candidate for Congressman from that district. An automobile party that arrived at the hotel from the same place yesterday is made up of Dr. and Mrs. B. V. Franklin and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Stahl. Dr. Charles S. Levy, a prominent member of the Jewish church in America and a rabbi of that religion, is registered at the hotel from Peoria.

E. G. Galt is passing a few days at the Alexandria. He is superintendent of agencies of the Pacific Coast for the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company and has his headquarters in San Francisco. Another guest at the same hotel and from the same place is E. O. Childs, former manager of the St. Francis Hotel, and more recently in the theatrical business. An automobile party that arrived at the hotel from Sacramento is made up of Dr. and Mrs. C. Todd and Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Peck.

F. A. Cleiland is registered at the Hollenbeck from New York and is importer of a rather unusual commodity, the sponge. One of the interesting guests at the hotel is H. C. Hurlburt, a manufacturer of electrical supplies of Detroit, who only a few years ago had an enviable reputation as a lightweight pugilist. Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Evans are passing a few days at the same hotel. The Hon. A. Wentworth arrived yesterday from Tombstone, of which city he is the governing official, having been elected Mayor at the last election.

WHO OWNS THE BONDS?

Alleged Owner Charges Another With Burglary for Clipping Off Coupons Without Authority.

C. A. Roberts was yesterday held to answer to the Superior Court by Justice Reeve on a charge of burglary preferred by C. B. Williams, a loan and collection agent, who charges that Roberts clipped coupons from Corona improvement bonds and cashed them without authorization from him.

According to the evidence submitted Roberts originally owned the bonds, valued in excess of $600. He hypothecated them, and they were taken up by Williams, the latter asserts. Roberts became an employee of Williams, and, according to the latter, went to the safe and cut the coupons without authority.

In defense Roberts alleges that Williams merely took up the bonds for him and that the right to collect interest at no time left him.

PICKED OFF THE "BLIND."

Deputy Sheriff Wings Knight of the Road Who Objects to Having Mode of Travel Questioned.

W. H. Jones of Los Angeles lost his temper yesterday when Deputy Sheriff Ybarra caught him "hitting the blind" at San Fernando, and as a result he was later brought to the County Jail with a bullet wound through his arm. Ybarra shouted at Jones asking him what he was doing there.

"I'll show you what I'm doing," Jones retorted. Thereupon he drew his revolver, according to the officer, and opened fire.

Ybarra returned the fusillade with interest and proved to be the better marksman. He was unhurt.

Jones is held on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon.

POLE ALARMS FIREMEN.

A telephone pole turned in a false alarm early yesterday morning from Box No. 61, Aliso and Lyon streets. With a score of others the pole was on a flat car being switched out of the Macy-street yards. When the car swung around the corner onto Aliso street the pole protruded sufficiently to strike the alarm box on the other side of the street and an alarm turned in.

COURT IS ADJOURNED.

The United States District Court yesterday adjourned until Saturday, August 31. Meanwhile, Judge Wellborn and the court attaches will indulge in a summer vacation.

Really Fine New Guaranteed Pianos at $225 Each

Not $82.00, $137.00 or $148.00. We do not sell that grade of new pianos.

Not how low in price can we offer a piano, but how much real, hard, actual piano-man's value can we crowd into $225.00, below which price it is not safe to go for a new piano.

First-class houses will not recommend lower priced pianos, even if they offer them to meet the competition of the coupon - check - puzzle-club-nothing-but-bargains houses.

Nothing can cause more acute and permanent disappointment than to discover a growing cheapness about your piano just when you have completed paying for it with hard-earned genuine dollars.

The only safeguard against this experience is to deal with a reliable house.

We have a steady business built up and have won the confidence of the people by furnishing just such real bargains as are offered above.

ORIENTAL

DAILY BEAUTY HINT: The woman who has tender feet will do well to habitually wear white shoes in this dry climate. It is a mistake to think that white shoes are more difficult to keep clean than are dark ones, for they are easily cleaned. There are many cleaners for this purpose and I have recently discovered a new one. It is a powder and is much more easily applied than are the liquids and does not shrink the shoe or in any way injure it. It is said to remove the most dingy spots, leaving the surface clear and white.

The woman of true individuality will express herself not only by means of a style of dress which is original with her, although well within the lines of fashion's dictates, but she will carry out in her jewels the same originality.

The wearing of jewels simply because they are expensive is the acme of vulgarity, and savors of the same spirit which loads the sideboard with quantities of cut glass and showy silver.

More and more is it becoming the fashion among the exclusive to seek uniqueness in jewelry.

The rare scarab, with a history dating into far antiquity, is more prized than are diamonds of the clearest water or rubies of most brilliant depth. It is possible that she who can afford these rarities will have them set in connection with equally rare jewels, thus emphasizing the value of the scarab or other antique, as one frames with dignity a fine painting.

The paramount value, however, of the ornaments worn by the woman of individuality, will rest in the romantic associations and history rather than in mere costliness, although they may be costly as well.

Which Reminds.

An English friend was telling me recently about an odd necklace worn by a lady of high degree at a luncheon in London. "At first glance," said she, "one knew that the ornament was something rare and unusual, but what it could be was a question which no mind could answer. After luncheon a friend summoned courage to ask her. Whatever do you suppose it was? The large beads were made from peach stones, beautifully carved by hand and polished, so that they looked from a distance like carved amber. These carved beads were alternated with beads made from pink rock crystal, strung on a peacock blue silken cord, knotted between each bead. This extremely odd and strikingly beautiful treasure was unearthed in a little shop in Paris, and the jeweler's trinkets, all odd and original, have since become a 'craze.' While as a rule he uses only semi-precious stones, so much work and artistic taste is expended upon them that they are by no means cheap when completed. Especially has this French jeweler catered to the fad for black and white and he has made some jet ornaments of striking originality."

New Glass Buttons.

One of the French importing houses on Broadway is showing the latest idea in glass buttons. Although glass buttons have been popular for some months, for both use and ornament upon frocks and coats, these are different in that they are in shaded colorings, sometimes running from white through shades of green and back to white again, or else through the various shades. Upon a white gown, for instance, these buttons used as the sole touch of color would be charming.

A Rush for Shade.

It seems as though every one in town who lacked a parasol had learned about that sale which began yesterday morning in one of the high-class Broadway stores. These parasols were in the most accepted shapes and colors—cerise and emerald predominating; and they were of good quality of silk. The prices were as low as those asked for the most ordinary articles, so no wonder that there was a rush.

Gowns and Suits for Less.

For so small a bill that you really could not buy the goods and trimmings for the price, much less make the garment, one of the Broadway stores was selling and has still a supply of suits and gowns.

To Match.

One of the girls who is furnishing her bedroom in rose pink was delighted to find a sale of "Parisian ivory" toilet articles in one of the large stores. She found every requisite for the toilet table, in her chosen shade of rose, and at reduced prices. They were there also in blue.

Gay and Festive.

There was an air of genuine festivity about those charming silk voile "pattern" dresses in pink, blue and white, each with a border of intertwining roses. I saw them in one of the most exclusive of the Broadway stores.

I could imagine them made up into dancing frocks for debutantes, during their first season, when their faces were fresh as the roses embroidered upon the borders of their gowns.

Hooks and Crooks.

"There! Why has that never been done before!" exclaimed my companion, as we shopped in one of the big stores; and she indicated an offering of hooks and eyes, "served" in bottles or rather in glass tubes. No pulling off the card or scattering abroad when they are thus put up.

And Sleeves.

We have become accustomed to seeing net and lace yokes offered in the stores for a few cents each; and now comes the set of sleeves in the same material, so that you may buy all "ready to" both the sleeves and yoke to fill in the Dutch necked and short sleeved gown which you have had left over or have purchased ready to wear. This season's decree is in favor of the collar and the longer sleeve; although there are many who defy the manifesto.

More Shadings.

The fad for rainbow tints has expressed itself in the scarf which I noticed in a progressive ladies' furnishing store. One particularly striking example was shaded from blue to white, and from white up to cerise; each tint of each color being carefully blended. I think I rather like this wealth of coloring, especially if the scarf be worn with a gown of white.

For Fall.

A herald of fall was shown in the window of one of the popular Broadway houses. It was a suit of velvet in one of the new grape tones. It was made with rather a close skirt, and the omnipresent cloth d'eponge, which is always seeking the company of its "betters," appeared in a vest which was beautified by buttons of white crystal, edged with a bright, clear blue.

For the Picnic.

The picnic, robbed of all its "commonness," by the fact that so many persons of the best sort go picnicking in their motor cars on Sunday, or use the parks for tea or luncheon in the open, has come to be a recognized occasion when it is worth while to select et ceteras harmonious and tasteful as well as useful. I noticed how pretty were the picnic sets of paper—napkins, table cloth and dishes—displayed in one of the stores. There's no reason why articles chosen for feasting in the open should not be as well selected as are those for use at home—and especially when they are so inexpensive and only a bit of thought need be used in selecting them.

Fashion's Silver Note Proclaims.

Very popular for motor wear is the veiling of shadow chiffon. This veiling comes in biscuit, cerise, golden brown, gray, a pretty shade of lavender and green. It has a faint thread of black run through the chiffon, which makes the veiling peculiarly becoming.

A new garment—generally, a redingote—has been evolved for wear over thin summer gowns. Made of satin, crepe or taffeta and sometimes of chiffon, it is open in the front—fastened at a single point—usually the waist line—and is usually cut away downward to the back, where it is quite long.

Belts, which play an important part in the summer wardrobe, are offered in particularly stunning combinations of both material and color. One of black kid, studded here and there with gilt nail heads, has shaped pieces of soft red kid run through eyelets. The square buckle of black kid is perfectly plain.

To be absolutely in step with the present season's fashion tendencies one must be more than careful to avoid too great severity in one's frocks and afternoon gowns, or even in one's tailored suits. Touches of hand embroidery, braid trimmings hand-bound scallops, hand-embroidery yokes and revers of real lace—all of these are among the good features of the present season's styles.

Pale rose silk muslin frock, trimmed with bands of white embroidery.

MUSIC AND THE STAGE.

wins the heart at once. We're all children, and we all like a lot of noise that pretends to be funny. And be it added, MacIntyre and Groves really are funny, and so full of the joy of life that they couldn't be dull if they tried. Moreover, they try to amuse, and succeed with eclat.

There are two playlets on the bill. "The Chalk Line," by Una Clayton—who doesn't appear in it—contains all the concentrated essence of "Way Down East," "The County Fair," "Shore Acres" and "The Old Homestead," with humor and pathos curiously and naively commingled. It's short on art, but long on bucolics, and proves to be decidedly entertaining. There are no less than two important rural characters in a cast of three. Harlan Knight's Webster Sanderson, a country storekeeper, is a delicious thing, and James MacDuff's Ephraim Allen, a postmaster, is not far behind it in enjoyment.

"High Life in Jail," that cutting travesty on prison life, has been seen before in Los Angeles, but its return, with Bill Mack as Red McGonogal, is none the less welcome. There's a keen edge to the satire of many of the sayings of the elegant—though striped—characters in the skit. Mack is well supported.

The overture from Verdi's "Ernani" is one of the musical numbers at the head of the programme. In this a member of the band with a trombone does effective solo work.

Pantages.

Variety is the keynote of the new bill which opened the current week at Pantages yesterday. In ice cream time, one might feel inclined to call it harlequin flavored, or, if you like, a bousse cafe, for there are no two numbers anywhere near alike, and they range from "A Night in the Edelweiss," which is a song and dance potpourri, to the Romana brothers, whose display of muscles makes the average man feel like a shadow, and makes his wife look askance at the wrinkles in his coat sleeves.

Then there is Lucia Lottie Collins who doesn't sing very much, who dances even less and who uses a bunch of the famous Lloyd songs that so many of us know by heart. The press agent would pave the way for her by eulogizing her famous mother, but he need not, for Lottie has oceans of vivacity, personality and good looks, and "puts 'em over" in a dashin, snappy sort of way that just reaches the right spot.

The one thing the bill lacks is a bang-up opening number to make the audience sit up and take notice with the first curtain, and which would have paved the way for the present opener, an entertaining accordeon duo. It seems that this act, which has the earmarks of Europe on it, started in over here playing classic, but it's nothing like that now, the selections being the up-to-date popular songs. They are capitally played, too, and anyone who has any doubts as to the sort of a ragtime instrument an accordeon makes, go and hear Doelsch and Zillbauer.

Carl Rosine has a very good magician act, and is a skilful performer, and the bill has a monologist, Bond Morse. Morse terms his offering "Trampology" and his jokes are a wonderful blend of new stuff and a goodly portion of the crop culled in the stone age. He offers some "get-away" nonsense that is silly enough to be really funny.

The Romana brothers are a muscular sensation. One cannot help but marvel at the development of the men, as they pose in a series of interesting tableaux, and the act is given a tinge of originality by illustrations of the knockout punches of famous fighters.

If Miss Collins were not so good she would make a capital opener for the bill, because there is no question but that everyone sits up and takes notice, but of course no manager would sacrifice her to that position.

She gets everyone in rollicking good humor for the last number, Edelweiss which, with a dozen people, including several very pretty, agile girls, is a musical comedy in miniature. The piece abounds in good comedy; the singing, especially the ensemble, is enjoyable, and the dancing and costumes round the act into the very best kind of a treat for the eye and ear that one could ask for in hot weather.

Slight Causes of Duels.

[London Chronicle:] The trivalties which led to duels in the old days were very numerous. John Ashton mentions some of them in noting that by William IV's time public opinion was setting against the practice. "Col. Montgomery was shot in a duel about a dog. Capt. Ramsay in one about a servant. Mr. Featherston in one about a recruit. Sterne's father in one about a goose, and someone else about an 'acre of anchovies' instead of 'artichokes.' One officer was challenged for merely asking his opponent to have another glass, and another was compelled to fight about a pinch of snuff, while Gen. Barry was challenged by a Capt. Smith for declining a glass of wine with him at dinner in a steamboat, although the general had pleaded in excuse that wine invariably made him sick at sea."

WHO WANTS SCHOOL SITE?

Normal Property Will Be Sold at Auction Today—Investment Company to Bid for City.

At an adjourned meeting of the City Council yesterday afternoon the option agreement between the Los Angeles Investment Company and the city for the latter taking over the old State Normal school site, provided the company is the successful bidder, was presented and approved. The auction will be held at the Normal School this morning at 10 o'clock.

Councilman Whiffen said the proposed arrangement for a bankers' syndicate to act as bidder in behalf of the city has fallen through as the clearing-house has decided there are legal obstacles in the way of the banks using money for this purpose.

The agreement with the Los Angeles Investment Company is that if it is enabled to secure the property for $500,000 the city shall have the option of taking the land at any time within two years by paying interest on the investment.

Whiffen urged the advantages of securing this tract of land so close to the heart of the city and declared it is an opportunity such as probably never again will be presented to Los Angeles. He said he felt it would be worth much more to the city than the amount proposed to be bid for it.

The Normal School reserves the privilege of using the buildings and grounds for a term of two years after the sale, with an option for a third year if desired, rental to be paid for the third year on a basis of 6 per cent. of the purchase price.

Councilman Andrews objected to the city going into the deal, declaring it is simply a real estate speculation, and that there are many other parcels of land within the city that have certain attractions as a real estate investment. He asked to be excused from voting and left the Council chamber. The approval to the plan was given by all other members of the Council except Williams and Topham, who were not present.

EXERCISES WOMAN'S RIGHT.

Actor Who Punched Barber Changes Plea to Not Guilty, and Will Be Tried—Sued for Damages.

A Police Court judge showed John Barrymore, Belasco matinee idol, the two horns of a dilemma yesterday, and told the actor to choose.

Barrymore's choice was a trial by the court. The other horn was a trial by jury. It was a trial either way he turned.

The dilemma was a result of Barrymore's changing his plea of guilty to a charge of having battered the countenance of Martin Bergman, a barber, to one of not guilty. He told Judge Williams yesterday he had thought better of his first plea, after having consulted an attorney.

The battery occurred in a West Fifth-street barber shop over a haircut. Barrymore resented with his fists an act of Bergman's, and when Bergman appeared in court yesterday his eyes still showed the effect of the encounter.

Barrymore will be tried August 16. He gave $25 bail for appearance.

After he left the Police Court Barrymore was served with papers in a damage suit preferred by the barber. Bergman asks $1550 for what he took from the footlights faller.

RANCHER INJURED.

DINUBA, July 29.—A. G. McCracken, manager of the Alta irrigation canals, and one of the best-known ranchers of this district, was seriously and perhaps fatally hurt while driving cattle on the J. H. Ramm ranch, when his horse suddenly bolted, and, in attempting to leap a high wire fence, fell and threw McCracken headlong to the hard adobe ground. He was taken to Ramm's home in an unconscious condition, and has remained in a comatose state continuously since. Injury to the brain is feared.

LARGEST TOMATO

VISALIA, July 29.—Visalia's Board of Trade exhibit rooms lay claim to the largest tomato ever raised. There has been brought to the secretary a vegetable—or fruit—which weighs two pounds and seven ounces. It is a perfectly-formed fruit and is well ripened. The specimen has been processed and will become a part of the permanent exhibit of the rooms.

Bullock's

Just Look at These Dresses $15.00

—It's a question to us whether they are more unusual than these other Dresses that will be out at $25.00 and $35.00 — this should be a gala day for every woman who wants a New Dress—

"Let's Go to Bullock's

—Should be a slogan heard repeated at all corners of Southern California's compass today. Every department is so richly filled with merchandise and value attractions it seems almost as though the news would spread telepathically, so to speak—as it is, this advertisement can merely hint at a few of the offerings. —In the Garment Section—Dress sales have been exceeding greatest expectations. Today they should reach a new high standard for July.

—DRESSES of black china silk, of white or black crepe meteor, of changeable Taffeta, fancy silk and messaline. Some of them most elaborate styles. Many of them will be almost half price at $15.

—DRESSES of Jouy Silk, of violet or black foulard, of checked Chiffon Taffeta—splendidly designed and finished exquisitely with lace—in trimmings, Fichus and collars—will be $25. A third and more under worth.

—But the most unusual of all will be the Dresses at $35.00. Dear little Quaker models of changeable Taffeta, charming styles of fancy Taffeta, messaline and Foulard—a most remarkable range—at a most remarkable price—$35.00.

What Food shall I give Baby?

Every mother must sooner or later ask herself this question, and it is one which must involve a good deal of anxious consideration. It may be that on the advice of friends various foods are tried to see if baby takes kindly to them.

Now, is it not reasonable to assume that an infants' food that has been in general use for upwards of fifty years, and that has been used, in preference to others, in most of the Royal Nurseries of Europe, is likely to prove a suitable diet for the average infant? Such a food is Savory & Moore's, and all mothers who decide in its favour may be congratulated on the wisdom of their choice.

Infants reared on Savory & Moore's Food are characterised by strong, sturdy limbs, firm flesh, plenty of bone and muscle, easy teething, freedom from infant ailments, and that happy disposition which is the surest sign of perfect health. Ask your Druggist to get you a tin.

STOCK LETTER.

[Furnished by Logan & Bryan, Members New York and Boston Stock Exchanges, Bradbury Bldg., Los Angeles.]

NEW YORK, July 29.—The market today can be described as dull and unpredictable. We are going through a marking time process pending the policy to be outlined in the acceptance from the Democratic nominee. This political uncertainty, together with a hardening tendency of money rates, has somewhat retarded speculation. The House resolution regarding investigation into the affairs of the anthracite coal properties had a late unfavorable influence. Some of the professional traders seem to be sellers of such stocks as Reading. The political disturbances gave a fairly weak closing; however, the crop situation, with the exception of cotton, seems more assuring each day for a big harvest. Prominent men are in a waiting mood, and will probably not take an aggressive stand on the bull side unless something very emphatic should be heard from the Democratic nominee which will encourage capital in general business.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET.

Alligator pears are on the market for the first time this season. They came up from Mexico and are excellent as far as quality goes, but rather small. They are bringing 10 and 25 a dozen and selling to the hotels principally at those figures. The crop of alligator pears this year will be larger than ever on account of the increased number of orchards that have been set in Southern California, some of which have started to bear in really marketable quantities.

The price of dried apricots has come down rapidly within the past three days, dropping from 17 to 13½ cents at the top and from 1 to 2 cents lower than that. This is due to the arrival of new stock from Imperial Valley and also the heavy crop which has been grown right around Los Angeles and is now undergoing the process of drying. The demand for the dried fruit from the big packers and from eastern markets is only fair at this time, there being considerable holding off at present for a still lower quotation on the fruit. Other dried fruits are holding unchanged, but weaker through the entire list.

Some fine new white peaches arrived from local orchards. They are of the King George variety, freestone, and sold at $1.50 per box as an introductory figure. Other white peaches are still scarce. The market on yellow peaches was lower and very good stock was plentiful at 75 cents. Other fresh fruit was in good call and prices were generally unchanged.

The market on staples was steady and without feature. Receipts were heavy, but reports of rising prices on eggs in the East and in San Francisco held the market at its present level. Total receipts of eggs were 619 cases. Case count moved freely.

The butter market was sluggish. Total arrivals were 78,936 pounds. In the North the price on this commodity is up to 28 cents. Chicago reports 25 and New York 27½.

Eastern cheese is steady at the newly adjusted prices. Eastern daisies are down from 20 to 19 cents; longhorns to 20, and the remainder of the list steady. Arrivals were 9821 pounds.

Potatoes continued very weak and arrivals were 1807 sacks, which came from outside and helped to clutter up the local market with a still larger surplus of this vegetable.

Onion arrivals were 50 sacks. The market was steady. Mexican receipts were 11 sacks. The call for beans was centered on pinks. There were no reported receipts of sweet potatoes, but local stock was well supplied the market.

Apple receipts were the heaviest of the season, 1000 boxes being reported in.

THE WEATHER.

LOCAL OFFICE, U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, Los Angeles, July 29. — [Reported by Joel A. Carpenter, Local Forecaster.] At 5 o'clock a.m. the barometer registered 30.02; at 5 p.m., 29.96. Thermometer for the corresponding hours showed 68 deg. and 87 deg. Relative humidity, 5 a.m., 90 per cent.; 5 p.m., 74 per cent. Wind, 5 a.m., northeast, velocity 3 miles; 5 p.m., west, velocity 7 miles. Highest temperature, 91 deg.; lowest, 59 deg. Rainfall in 24 hours, trace. Barometer reduced to sea level.

WEATHER CONDITIONS. — The barometer continues low over the Eastern States, and, from such reports in such locality, it appears that the rainfall was light and scattering. Yuma recorded .52 of an inch, which was the largest amount received in the United States. Roswell registered 1.34 inches. A ridge of relatively high barometric pressure extends from Northwestern Washington into Northern Texas. The day temperatures remain high throughout Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas and Nebraska, and also in the interior of California, Arizona, Nevada and Idaho. The weather in Los Angeles and vicinity will be generally fair Tuesday.

PORT ITEMS.

The North Pacific Company's steamer Roanoke arrived this morning on schedule from Portland, via Astoria and San Francisco, and, after landing passengers and freight, proceeded tonight for San Diego and will touch here, north bound, tomorrow.

After having been cleaned and repaired at the Craig dry dock on the inner harbor, the big schooner Eldorado has sailed in ballast for Willapa Harbor, under charter to load a return cargo of 1,200,000 feet of lumber for wholesale yards at this port.

The steamer Isqua completed the discharge of 125,000 feet of lumber for the Hammond Lumber Company at Terminal and cleared today for Redondo Beach, carrying 300,000 additional feet for consignees at that port. Thence for Eureka, via San Francisco, with passengers and freight for the West Coast Steamship Company.

The steamer Willamette, now discharging 800,000 feet of lumber for the Charles McCormick Lumber Company at San Diego, is scheduled to return to this port tomorrow and, after loading passengers and freight for the Marchants' Steamship Company at San Francisco, will clear for Portland to load a return lumber cargo.

The big barkentine Thomas F. Emigh, arriving at Astoria, has been chartered to load 1,250,000 feet of lumber for wholesale yards at this port.

The steamer Lakme arrived this morning, out three days from Eureka, bringing 700,000 feet of lumber, consigned to the Kerckhoff-Cuzner Mill and Lumber Company, with part cargo for yards at Wilmington.

The steamer Despatch completed the discharge of 650,000 feet of lumber for the Pacific Lumber Company at Wilmington and cleared today for Eureka, direct, in ballast, to load a return cargo for the same company.

Carrying 1,500,000 feet of lumber and piling for consignees at this port, the steamer Olson & Mahoney is out two days from Willapa Harbor.

The steamer Yellowstone, arriving this morning, out five days from the Columbia River, will discharge 900,000 feet of lumber in the Southern Pacific slip for Arizona consignees.

After having discharged 258,000 feet of lumber for wholesalers at Redondo Beach, the steamer Santa Monica arrived this morning from South Bend, via San Francisco, bringing 200,000 additional feet for the San Pedro Lumber Company. The Santa Monica is scheduled to clear tomorrow night for San Francisco with passengers and freight for the West Coast Steamship Company.

The steamer Bowdoin arrived this morning, out three days from Eureka, and, after discharging a small part of a lumber cargo, cleared this afternoon for San Diego with 400,000 feet for consignees at that port.

The steamer Coronado will complete the discharge of 825,000 feet of lumber for the Southern California Lumber Company tonight, and is scheduled to clear Tuesday for Gray's Harbor to reload, with passengers and freight for San Francisco.

The steamer Nehalem arrived this morning, out five days from Columbia River, carrying 750,000 feet of lumber, consigned to the E. K. Wood Lumber Company.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 29.—Arrived: Steamers Joseph L. Wand, Los Angeles; Queen, San Diego.

Sailed: Steamers Fort Bragg, Northland, Los Angeles; President, San Diego.

BEAR SENTIMENT IS CRYSTALLIZING

STOCK MARKET OPENS DULL AND IRREGULAR.

Confidence Felt in Crop Prospects Seems to Be Offset, Temporarily at Least, by Other Influences, Among Which May Be Cited the Political Outlook.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, July 29.—The week in the stock market opened with a continuance of the very dull and irregular conditions that have marked operations of the last fortnight, the only difference being an increase of bearish sentiment. The confidence felt in crop prospects seems to be offset, temporarily at least, by other influences, among which might be cited the political outlook. The minority report of the Congressional Committee which investigated the United States Steel Corporation, calling for Federal regulation of all corporations whose capital exceeds a fixed amount, and other criticisms leveled against large corporate interests was used as a basis for the selling steel shares in the early part of today's session, with sympathetic recessions in other speculative favorites. American sugar and beet sugar issues also declined sharply by reason of tariff agitation at Washington, while a few of the securities in the tobacco group added to the loss of recent days. Some recovery from the low level was made in the late afternoon and Norfolk and Western attained a new high record, but the movement as a whole served little purpose, beyond calling renewed attention to the ultra-professional character of the trading. Such highly favorable factors as the recent fiscal year's record of exports, in which our manufactures crossed the billion dollar mark and advices from the West and other centers of activity pointing to an era of great promise were ignored in the day's developments, so far as they found reflection on quoted values. Bonds were irregular with weakness in Missouri Pacific issues. Total sales par value amounted to $1,522,000. United States government bonds were unchanged on call.

New York Curb Stocks.

NEW YORK, July 29.—The curb market today was sluggish, the chief interests were in United Cigar Stores, British-American Tobacco and the Standard Oil subsidiaries. This was the case for most of the list. Cigar Stores closed strong on good buying.

The Boston market opened nominally at Saturday's close, but immediately began to sell off more in sympathy with New York than on the 13 shillings decline in the price of metal in London. Butte & Superior was the weak feature, selling off 2¾ from Saturday, and as this break came early, had its effect on other metal stocks. Metal continues in the most optimistic position, prices held firm at 17½.

Order for Million and a Half in Coaches, Motors and Construction Equipment Given by Telegraph Yesterday—Part of Stock to Be Delivered in September.

An order for ninety-five passenger coaches and ten electric motors, and a complete construction train, to cost in all, $1,500,000, was given yesterday by the Pacific Electric in pursuance of its expansion policy.

Detailed specifications for the big order were made out some time ago and filed with the manufacturers, who figured on the cost and time of delivery, but the final promulgation of the contract was made yesterday by telegraph by President-elect Shoup.

Final instructions were held up pending the disposition of the San Pedro-street franchise which is to control much of the interurban business and be important in the handling of freight. Developments along this line yesterday encouraged the railway management to definite action.

The original order for passenger coaches was for forty-five, but this was increased by fifty cars yesterday. About half are to be supplied in September by the Jewett Car Company of Newark, O. The others will be delivered in smaller lots before the new year.

The Westinghouse Company of Pittsburgh is to furnish the electric motors in September. They are to be of 1200 horsepower each and are to be put into the freight business, mostly at the harbor. They are to be standard make and up-to-date.

The construction train is to be built by the Industrial Works of Bay City, Mich., and is to be used in the laying of new lines and such other development work as it is capable of handling.

TWO MORE DIRECTORS.

The directorate of the Funding Company of California was augmented yesterday at the meeting of the officers of the company by the addition of L. C. Waite, for the past seventeen years a director of the Santa Fe Railway, and W. W. Wilcox, founder of the town of Colton, and for years director of the First National Bank of that place. The annual report of the company was read and showed dividends to the extent of $40,000 on the first year of business in handling public utilities and industrial bonds. All of the officers in the company were present at the meeting.

The Bribery Trial.

DARROW COOL WITNESS IN HIS OWN DEFENSE.

Demeanor Plainly Impresses Jurors and His Story Is Eagerly Listened to—Juror Leavitt Too Sick to Attend Trial and Alternate Takes His Seat—How Labor Attorney Became McNamaras' Counsel.

CLARENCE DARROW, legal representative of organized labor in this country, attorney in nearly all the disputes involving the American Federation of Labor, and chief counsel for the McNamaras, went on the stand in his own behalf yesterday in Judge Hutton's court to give his version of the events leading up to the arrest and subsequent confession of his chief detective in the investigation of prospective jurors and his own indictment for alleged jury bribery.

He was not called to testify until 4 o'clock, and his story had barely begun when the hour of adjournment arrived. The defendant was easy and self-possessed. Once, when Rogers and Appel were arguing against counter objections of the District Attorney, Darrow leaned over to say that he would withdraw the remark or sentence if the State thought it incompetent. This attitude, whether natural or the result of studied art, is not without weight. It was apparent that some of the jurors seemed considerably impressed by the words of the accused, and one in particular leaned forward with his arms resting on his knees and his eyes fixed intently on the figure in the witness chair.

The courtroom was filled by an eager crowd of spectators. Women largely predominated. Most appeared to be sympathizers with the defense. Back of the railing Mrs. Darrow sat with her handkerchief to her eyes. A pretty young woman sat by her side to administer sympathy.

MASTER AT NARRATION.

In the three-quarters of an hour that Darrow was on the stand he showed he is a master hand at narration. He used simple words and from time to time gazed directly at the jurors, challenging as it were their right to believe he would be guilty of so serious a crime or blunder as to bribe jurors or tell his man to do so when the case was already almost compromised.

This will undoubtedly be the attitude of the defense in its closing days. Darrow has a long tale to unfold. He must not only contradict Behm, Harrington, Franklin and others at dangerous points, but he must also show affirmatively how the alleged bribery might have happened without his knowledge.

When Darrow took the stand he was asked about some of his work in the past thirty-five years of law practice. He told of the railroads he had worked for, the corporations that had employed him, the municipalities that had sent him to plead before the United States Supreme Court. But he declared his best work has been in arbitrating cases between capital and labor, coal-mine strikes, disputes as to wages to be paid workers, and various cases in which labor unions were involved.

However, he said, nine-tenths of his practice had been civil business and only the one-tenth criminal.

The defendant briefly told how he had used his spare time to write magazine articles, books and even fiction.

He said he had never expected to take up the defense of the McNamaras.

"I was getting old and had been through a good deal," said Darrow. "I was asked to help by the national labor-union organizations, but felt I must refuse. I told them to get younger and stronger men.

"Finally I took it up. I had always been the friend of the labor people. I knew how hard and bitter would be the fight. Yet I came out here in June to look over the situation. I got Scott, McNutt and Davis to help on the case. Harriman had already been retained. Then I went back to Chicago to close my office and settle my business. I got back here about July 1."

Darrow positively declared he knew nothing of the merits of the case except in a general way. He said his first work was to get a copy of the grand jury testimony on which was founded the indictments against the McNamaras, Caplan, Schmidt and others.

The witness passed this subject and told how he happened to get Harrington. He said he knew him in Chicago as a good evidence gatherer.

"He came out here and employed perhaps a dozen men," said Darrow. "Among them were Cooney and Fitzpatrick. I didn't know them. I couldn't look after the details. I had to have subordinates and helpers."

AS TO BEHM.

Darrow then switched to George Behm, uncle of Ortie E. McManigal. He said Behm had gone to his Chicago home some time in June to talk about McManigal. It appeared that Mrs. McManigal had previously talked with Darrow, telling him how her husband had been arrested by Burns detectives and taken to some private house until he made a confession.

Darrow declared the woman told him the detectives were following her about and urging her to go to Los Angeles and see her husband, who was locked up in the County Jail.

"I told Mrs. McManigal," continued Darrow, "to get all the money she could from Burns, and that I would make up the rest. She said she was not well and wanted her uncle to go with her. I arranged to pay Behm's actual expenses, his salary as locomotive engineer lost while he was away and the wages of a man to care for his little farm. I never promised Behm any more. I paid him about $425, but he wanted several hundred dollars more. I never bribed him or offered to bribe him. I never told him to see McManigal to 'change his testimony.'"

The closing questions by Rogers were in relation to Franklin. Darrow said he did not talk with Franklin on October 5 about bribing jurors and did not give him a $1000 check on the next day. His testimony this morning will probably be along this same line.

THIRTEENTH JUROR ON.

When court was convened yesterday morning, Judge Hutton informed the lawyers that he had received word that Leavitt was in a serious condition and would probably be operated on.

Dr. Ira Saylin of El Monte, Leavitt's family physician, declared the man had been sick since Friday night, in fact, had been ailing for weeks past and under treatment. He believed than an operation would be necessary and gave it as his professional opinion that it would be several weeks before Leavitt could be actively engaged in business.

Dr. Wernigk, who was sent to see the sick juror Sunday, reported he found the patient suffering from an attack of appendicitis and that in his judgment it would be impossible for Leavitt to resume his place in the jury box for several weeks.

Capt. Fredericks and Attorney Rogers asked the two doctors a few questions about the condition of the juror. Judge Hutton then announced that inasmuch as it appeared the juror had appendicitis and was unable to perform his duties, he would therefore be discharged and Alternate Blakesley substituted.

Without further ceremony Blakesley, who has been present every day since the trial began, took Leavitt's place in the jury box.

Before Rogers would allow Darrow to take the witness stand he said he desired to make a formal demand on the State to produce all letters, telegrams and other documents addressed to his client or sent by him to other parties.

Rogers declared it was important to the defense to see all these documents and that he had authorities to back up his request. He also demanded a copy of the testimony of O. A. Tveitmoe taken before the grand jury February 16 last. In order to prove that the labor-union leader was actually before the grand jury, J. J. Petermichael, official court reporter and present in the grand jury room during Tveitmoe's testimony, was called to the stand.

OVER TVEITMOE'S TESTIMONY.

Petermichael stated he took shorthand notes of Tveitmoe's testimony, later transcribed them and gave the original copy to Asst. Dist.-Atty. Ford.

Rogers made a demand for the transcript, declaring it is essential to the defense and that if it were not produced the jury would be warranted in assuming the matter is favorable to the defense.

Capt. Fredericks replied: "Here is the history of the Tveitmoe affair. We are not trying to suppress anything. The court generously permitted the entire procedure of the trial to be set aside to allow the defense to put Johannsen and Tveitmoe on the stand with the assumed purpose of disproving something about the taking away of Mrs. Caplan.

"For some reason after Johannsen had testified the defense did not care to put Tveitmoe on the stand. We are not concerned with the reason. During all this time Mr. Rogers was excluded from the courtroom on his own motion, because of matters coming to the surface with which he might have had some connection during his former investigation into some phases of another case.

"The State cross-examined Johannsen, but was not given any opportunity to do the same with Tveitmoe. Finding that the defense did not intend to produce him as their witness, I called him to the stand. However, after a short conference, I decided not to press him for answers to questions, knowing how closely he is aligned with the defense and with other matters."

Rogers made vehement reply. He declared the defense wanted to put Tveitmoe on the stand but that his attorney would not allow him to testify. The lawyer referred to Tveitmoe's indictment by the Federal grand jury and seemed to indicate that the secretary-treasurer of the State Building Trades Council was in desperate fear of taking the witness stand to be exposed to the merciless cross-examination of Fredericks and Ford.

But while unwilling to allow Tveitmoe on the stand, the defense wanted to get hold of his testimony, said the lawyer, and believed it was entitled to the testimony under the law.

This provoked additional argument that continued for hours. Capt. Fredericks, Ford, Rogers and Appel took turns in enunciating what each believed is the law and many authorities were cited.

In ruling on the introduction of the grand jury testimony of Tveitmoe, the court sustained Capt. Fredericks, who during the day made several powerful arguments in support of his position that the defense could not protect Tveitmoe from the disclosure of other things he is charged with, if he tried to testify.

The ruling against a certain angle of the defense may have been anticipated. Indeed, Attorney Appel went on the witness stand to swear that he advised Tveitmoe to refuse to testify on the ground it might incriminate him, but the court sustained the objections of the District Attorney to this line of questions, so Appel was not permitted to tell just what he had said to the labor-union leader that made him refrain from testifying after announcement had been made in open court that he would do so.

Asst. Dist.-Atty. Ford was also called on as a witness. Rogers asked Ford a series of questions as to what he asked Tveitmoe in the grand jury room, but the questions were not answered, the court holding that it was unnecessary to go into the grand jury proceedings.

When the defense asked for the documents in the possession of the District Attorney, it was argued by Ford that the law does not contemplate the production of documents by the State in a criminal case.

After more arguments Capt. Fredericks said he would try to get certain telegrams from Darrow to Gompers from the Federal authorities, the court having ruled that the defense is entitled to the production of such documents. They may be used in questioning Darrow during his examination, which will be resumed at 10 o'clock this morning.

GIVEN SIX MONTHS.

Jose Arcoverde, a Mexican, was sentenced to six months in the County Jail yesterday by Judge Wellborn, for smuggling 100 cans of smoking opium into the United States from Mexico. It appeared from the testimony in the hands of the District Attorney that Arcoverde had carried the stuff on horseback from old Mexico to Nogales, Ariz., whence he brought it by train to Los Angeles. When arraigned he pleaded not guilty, but yesterday he changed his plea. Arcoverde is the father of twelve children.

Texan of High Degree Says Farming Gives a Man All He Can Do to Be Successful.

"Hit the ball," said T. E. Hogg, son of the former Governor and Attorney-General of Texas, in discussing the elements of success in the business of farming, at the Lankershim yesterday afternoon. With his pretty wife he arrived there from Columbia, Tex., several days ago, and since that time he has been looking over the farms and the orchards of this section to compare them with the lands of his home State.

"There is more business in farming today than ever before, and the only way a man can be real successful is to get out and do some of the work himself," he declared. To substantiate his ideas he admitted working as many as eighteen hours a day.

Hogg is of one of the oldest and most illustrious families in Texas. His grandfather was Gen. Joseph Lucius Hogg, who moved to Texas in 1806 and was the first Senator of the first Congress after Texas was admitted to Statehood. He commanded troops in the Civil War on the side of the Confederacy and was killed in 1862. Fifty years after his nomination to the Senate, his son, James Stephen Hogg, was seated as Governor. Gov. Hogg was Attorney-General from 1886 to 1890 and was elected from that office to the Governor's chair, retaining that position until 1894.

The third man of the generation has resided in practically the same place as his forbears and claims that he is one of the "all firedest Texans and southerners" that ever happened, but who believes that the Civil War was one of the best things that ever happened for the South.

"It awakened us to the opportunities that we might never have seen and there is not the slightest sectional feeling in Texas on that score at the present day," he said.

Hogg will remain in Los Angeles for several months, enjoying the first vacation he has had in several years and getting better acquainted.

COUNCIL STANDS BEHIND POWERS.

HAS AUTHORITY TO TAKE ANY NECESSARY MEASURES.

Health Commissioner Has Instructions to Make Determined Fight Against Infantile Paralysis—Supervisors Tell County Health Officer to Take Same Course.

The City Council yesterday formally gave authority to Health Commissioner Powers to proceed at his discretion to take such measures as he may deem necessary to stamp out the epidemic of infantile paralysis in this city.

Drs. Powers and Wills appeared before the Council and presented the rules and regulations formed by the Health Commissioner and the special committee that met recently with acting Mayor Williams. These were approved, and Councilman Whitten, chairman of the Finance Committee, said he wanted the Health Commissioner to understand that this committee stands ready to give all the aid within its power to help eradicate this epidemic.

Health Commissioner Powers said that from June 10 to the present there have been 150 cases of infantile paralysis reported in Los Angeles, and that there have been twenty-eight deaths from this disease. At present most of the cases are in the Vernon district, he said, but there are nine or ten in the Hollywood district. He advised that no more vacation playgrounds be opened at the schools unless it be entirely for older children, and urged that children under 10 years of age be isolated as much as possible.

Dr. Wills said members of the special committee, in company with Health Commissioner Powers, will visit the quarantine station this morning to determine whether it is practicable to refurnish this as a temporary hospital for such cases as cannot be properly taken care of in private homes. He said that as a member of the State Board of Health he expects to co-operate with the city's efforts to suppress infantile paralysis, and that a strict quarantine will be enforced. The Mayor will be asked to instruct the Chief of Police to co-operate with the health authorities in this work, and particular attention will be paid to keeping children out of picture shows and playhouses until the epidemic is under control. The Ministerial Union has taken up the subject of closing Sunday-schools for the present and has agreed to this proposition.

At the instance of County Health Officer Sawyer and Dr. Ross Moore, a committee recently appointed to wait on them, the Board of Supervisors yesterday pledged themselves to give all the aid in their power to curbing the epidemic.

The first move in their campaign will be to send a communication to all health officers in incorporated cities of the county, and to persons who may be able to assist in communities where there are no health authorities, asking them to co-operate with Dr. Sawyer. This decision followed Sawyer's complaint that persons in the county have been lax about enforcing regulations and reporting new cases.

Deputy District-Attorney Hanna was called in to decide whether Dr. Sawyer would have authority to enforce county regulations in the incorporated cities of Watts, Tropico, Sawtelle and San Fernando, where there are no health officers. Hanna said that in such cases Sawyer would be the supreme authority, next to the State board. A communication from Secretary Snow of the State board announced to Dr. Sawyer that a communication to this effect had been sent to the towns named.

"I broke the law this week," said Dr. Sawyer, "when I found a case at Catalina, by bringing a little girl to the County Hospital at once. There are 5000 persons on the island, two-fifths of them children, and we could not take chances."

Dr. Sawyer is in daily correspondence with both city and county officials. The Supervisors desire to give him an advisory supremacy over all municipal health officers in the small cities, if their powers will permit them to do so.

BOSTON COPPER MARKET.

BOSTON, July 29.—The market was so widely dull that scattered odd lot selling made prices look decidedly weak. When the total sales, however, were figured up the reaction showed that it had no significance and prices will quickly recover as soon as the New York list shows any signs of a rally.

THE COPPER INDUSTRY.

London copper opened easy. Spot 58£, off 12s 6d; futures, 78£ 2s 6d, off 12s 6d.

London copper closed steady. Spot 78£ 2s 6d, up 2s 6d; futures, 78£ 5s; up 2s 6d. Sales, spot, 400 tons; futures, 1000 spelter, 26£ 5s unchanged.

The copper situation is apparently gaining strength daily. Trading in second-hand copper during the past two weeks has been at increasing quotations. Second-hand copper has advanced from 16⅜ cents to 17⅝ cents. Electrolytic has held firm at 17¾ cents and indications are that sales of considerable size will soon be taking place as many large consumers are badly in need of the metal.

We understand that one of the large agencies has withdrawn from the market and is no longer offering copper at 17¾ cents per pound.

The Boston News Bureau says: Like Banquo's ghost the spectre of "hidden stocks" of copper rises every now and then to disturb as they maintain, that its further progress was solely the result of a bona fide consumptive demand for the metal, accentuated by speculative buying. Such an explanation allows no place at the festive board for the hidden stocks spectre, but there is to be explained a discrepancy between the output of rough copper (smelter production plus imports) and refined copper production, which furnishes the basis for the hidden stocks argument.

The advance which occurred in the third quarter of 1911 was due not so much to brilliant consumption or prospects therefore (though in the fourth quarter under the stimulus of rising prices and better business our domestic deliveries expanded 8,000,000 pounds per month) as to reduced output. This was a condition quite the reverse of what was generally and logically expected. Output in the third quarter was 16,000,000 pounds less than in the second quarter and the last three months of the year failed to better the showing. Apparently the new copper expected in the last half of 1911 is now tardily coming out. The first two quarters of 1912 showed 726,000,000 pounds, against 708,000,000 for the last half of 1911, but in the last six months our stocks have shrunk 45,000,000 pounds, and Europe's stocks 15,000,000 pounds, this coming on top of 100,000,000 pounds shrinkage of world's stocks in the last half of 1911.

In comparing rough and refined copper outputs the accurate method is to contrast one quarter's rough outturn with the succeeding quarter's fine production, as on the average it takes from 60 to 90 days for blister copper to come from the smelter to the market. Comparing the last year's fine production with the rough output, on that basis, gives the following results:

the 17-cent copper feast of the American producers. The phantom will not down, although each producer in turn rises to roll up his sleeves, turn his pockets inside out to show he has none of the elusive metal hidden about his person, and laying his hand upon his heart solemnly avows that the only hidden stocks he knows about are those concealed in the bosom of mother earth. The report, like most rumors of that character, has just enough near-evidence behind it to perpetuate its existence, but not enough to give it character of standing.

How far the upward movement which carried the metal from 12 to 17⅝ cents a pound in nine months was manipulated, and just to what extent it was due to actual demand over supply is a matter which will probably never be clearly determined. Deciding that point is like arguing about where the flush of sunset leaves off and the clear sky begins. But it does not matter if the initial fillip to the upward turn of copper prices was given by the large copper producing interest, providing Exc. Rough, 22,049,719 and 31,754,069; total, 54,803,788.

From the foregoing it appears that in the last year about 64,000,000 pounds of rough copper has come from the smelters including imports, more than has gone through the refineries—hence the "hidden stocks." But the copper interests maintain that there are a variety of reasons why there is discrepancy. Among them copper contents in the ore per into refined metal, the refinery capacity failing to amount of copper produced the necessity of which had accumulated during the period and the interruption of the striking employees, leaving laborers ahead which copper exports.

Even admitting that the pounds represents copper lent producer or pro their back yards, or from the decrease in last year, it still appears shrinkage in world's 100,000,000 pounds is "hidden copper" was forward, stocks would crease, if it is conceded last six months were the burden of proof were not wholly for "hidden stocks" proof, copper consuming points to the contrary. Joseph Chamberlain, largest copper selling goes on record as predi world's consumption of the leading lights of the Results so far this year 000 pounds increase over 1912. Exports for the first 168,000,000 pounds, as against last year, an increase of addition to which there 1,500,000 pounds, and 45,000,000 pounds, and tained 204,000,000 pounds, a gain of 37 pounds increase over

It is to these figures that when the spectre of "hidden abroad, and it is to these his twin-brother "hidden tion" sets the tenth of chattering.

Perhaps after all the the hidden stocks is up by the head of our ting agencies who are upon the under tenseity or foolhardiness per in bulk with the a pound, knowing as to producers, both big to panting in their eager pound of copper that the top prices, and the tion of high prices to factors wholly outside itself. There may be sons, but on that basis anything but first-hand far, is lacking.
